

Hotel Help

Know things about the guests that would surprise them, Tom McCarthy learns in his travels.—Page 9.

The Washington Post

The Weather

Today: Partly cloudy, slightly warmer.
Tomorrow: Local showers; not much change in temperature.
Yesterday: High, 87. Low, 67.

NO. 22,329

Entered as Second-Class Matter, Postoffice, Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 4, 1937  X

Copyright, 1937, By The Washington Post.

THREE CENTS

Hope Is Lost For D. C. Man And 13 in Air Crash at Sea

Plane Wreck Found 30 Miles West of Colon Breakwater.

Rex Martin and Others on Flying Boat Died Instantly, Belief.

A shattered Pan American-Grace Airways flying boat, lying all submerged in the sea off Panama last night apparently marked the graves of her 11 passengers and 3 crewmen. The liner went down 20 miles west of Colon Breakwater.

The water-logged wreckage of the huge airliner Santa Maria, together with a deflated life raft and 52 pieces of the luggage she carried were sighted by Navy craft and with the find a host of searchers gave up hope for the lives of her human cargo.

A mother and her two children, two officials of the Department of Commerce here, a representative of the National City Bank of New York and two employees of the Ford Motor Co. were among the passengers.

In Tow of Submarine.

A Navy submarine was reported to be towing the center section of the Sikorsky plane into Cristobal, C. Z., several hours after the wreckage had been sighted "totally under water with no sign of life."

Observers neglected to describe weather conditions. The condition of the plane, however, indicated every one on board—including Rex Martin, from Washington—had been killed instantly.

A fleet of 65 service planes and four giant Pan-American-Grace liners continued to search the area, however. They were helped by three Navy destroyers, a Navy service ship and the aircraft tender U. S. S. Teal, patrolling the small area where survivors might be adrift.

The Associated Press reported the plane was partly adrift, with one wing completely submerged. Baggage was floating nearby, indicating the passengers possibly might have gotten out of the cabin.

A Pan-American-Grace office said the two-motored Sikorsky carried an adequate supply of life-rafts and life-belts.

The Department of Commerce officials aboard were Rex Martin, South American adviser to the Bureau of Air Commerce and formerly assistant director, and G. O. Caldwell, airline inspector.

Wife Wails Word.

Mrs. Martin and her 15-year-old son, Carl, awaited further information at their home here, at 1650 Harvard street. Mrs. Martin refused to see reporters until further word had been received.

Other passengers included a woman, Mrs. Amy Levering, wife of an official of the line, and her two children, Jimmie and Jessie Levering.

The plane was believed to have crashed shortly after 7:15 p. m. Monday night, after it radioed it was running into overcast skies. It was on its way from Santiago, Chile, to Cristobal, it was piloted by Stephen Dunn, a veteran aviator.

In addition to Caldwell, who lives at Miami Springs, Fla., Martin and the three Leverings, the passengers included:

Thomas Wakely, National City Bank, New York.

Oscar Miller, Ford Motor Co.

Ernest Woods, Pan-American-Grace employee.

Idor Souza, of Santa Maria, Calif. P. W. Kumble.

San Oliver.

Kumble was en route to Los Angeles, and Wakely to Miami. All the other passengers listed Cristobal as their destination.

Lawrence A. Bickford was Dunn's copilot, and Herman D. Canseco, the steward.

Garnett O. Caldwell, an inspector for the Bureau of Air Commerce, in 34 years old. A native of Mayfield, Ky., he was a test pilot for a number of years.

Continued on Page 3, Column 2.

Two Men, Woman Kidnap Boy In Chicago, Demand $5,000

Two men and a woman kidnaped Donald Horst, 2 years old, shown above with his mother, Mrs. Otto Horst.

Son of Wealthy Manufacturer Seized, Mother, Maid Beaten by Trio; Owner of Escape Car and Parents of Child Questioned by Police.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—Two men and a woman kidnaped Donald Horst, 2, from the back yard of his home last night and five minutes later telephoned a demand for $5,000 ransom to his mother, Mrs. Otto Horst, 30, wife of a well-to-do sound equipment manufacturer and sonx publisher.

One of the men and the woman fought fiercely with Mrs. Horst and a maid, Dorothy Mehem, to carry the child from the yard to a small blue sedan in which the other man was waiting to drive them away.

Federal agents were called in to assist city, county and State police in a spreading search for the kidnapers.

Police Capt. Herbert H. Burns said the license number of the car had been traced to Arthur Humbert, an automobile salesman, who was in custody. He said Humbert told officers he loaned his car to an acquaintance although the car was found parked in front of his home and was driven to the station.

Burns said Humbert said he lent the car at 12:30 p. m. today. "I

Continued on Page 4, Column 1.

Loans Depend Reserve Board, On Crop Limit, Roosevelt Urge President Says Stable Dollar

Holds Renewed Cotton Aid Experiments Discouraged as Hearings Begin on Thomas Bill.

Text of Statement—Page 9

By Franklin W. Waltman.

President Roosevelt and the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System agreed in two statements made public yesterday by a Senate sub-committee on Agriculture that general economic stability can not be achieved through monetary manipulation alone but depends on a number of other factors.

The two expressions of opinion were made public as the sub-committee commenced hearings on a bill of Senator Elmer Thomas (Dem., Okla.) of Oklahoma constituting the Reserve Board governors a "monetary authority" under instructions immediately to raise the value of the dollar "as to raise the general price level to a point equal to the average of the general price level for the year 1926 as shown by the Bureau of Labor Statistics."

Although both the President and the board expressed themselves in favor of economic stability and preventing fluctuations in the value of the dollar, they firmly, if gently, turned thumbs down on the proposal contained in the Thomas bill. The President held it would be

Continued on Page 10, Column 4.

$6,500 Job Prettying Embassies Given Widow of Roosevelt's Kin

—$6,500 a year. For 25 years she redecorated embassies, gray-haired Mrs. Irene de Bruyn Robbins, first cousin of the President and the late minister to Canada, yesterday was appointed by the State Department to take charge of "furnishings and decorations of diplomatic and consular establishments abroad."

She will begin her duties this morning under the official title of "assistant chief of the Foreign Service Buildings Office." Announcement of her appointment was made by Secretary Hull simultaneously with that of Frederick Larkin as chief of the office.

Elated at her appointment, Mrs. Robbins last night declared she would "be on the job at 9 o'clock sharp." She expects to find nothing startlingly new in her position, however, but a continuation of the work she did for 25 years as the wife of one of the leading "career" men in the American Diplomatic Service.

"In my lifetime I have opened and closed 33 homes. I have lived where it was 104 degrees above and 45 degrees below zero. I dare you to name right off a country in which I haven't lived."

The difference in this job and the one she filled while traveling over the world with her husband will be that this one carries a salary

Court Post To Be Filled This Session

Roosevelt Gives Hint as Borah Challenges His Power.

Van Devanter Still in Office, Says Idahoan; Denies Vacancy.

By Robert C. Albright.

President Roosevelt yesterday clearly intimated he will nominate a successor to retired Justice Willis Van Devanter before Congress adjourns, setting at rest a gathering cloud of Senatorial controversy.

He told reporters they will have no notice of the forthcoming Supreme Court appointment until it goes to the Senate. He added he meant exactly what he said, and newsmen could draw their own conclusions.

The broad White House hint followed a two-day Senate field day on Attorney General Homer Cummings' opinion that the President may fill the court vacancy any time he chooses, whether Congress is in session, recessed or adjourned.

Borah Denies Vacancy.

Prominent Democratic court plan opponents had taken swift objection to this construction of the Constitution. Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (Republican), of Michigan, had called on the Senate by resolution to express its views to the contrary.

Senator William E. Borah (Republican), of Idaho, yesterday carried the tilt one point further by insisting no vacancy actually exists on the court, despite Justice Van Devanter's retirement. He said vacancies could be created only by resignation, impeachment or death.

Borah, the Senate's outstanding constitutional authority, concluded Van Devanter is still a member of the court despite his retirement, and the President has no right to name a new justice.

The Idahoan drew some support for his thesis from the Republican side of the aisle, but Democrats, too, took issue with Chairman Henry F. Ashurst, of the judicial committee, agreed Van Devanter is still a justice, but said no "lawyer would feel the President has no power to nominate a successor."

Follows Borah Challenge.

The President's hint he would make an appointment while the Senate is in session followed Borah's challenge. He said he considered a vacancy does exist and he will fill it.

Recess appointments are announced at the White House. But while Congress is sitting, recess appointments invariably go to the Senate first, which has the confirming power. The President's carefully chosen words, however, indicate his nomination will be made while the Senate is in session, either this summer, or, which is unlikely, when Congress returns in January.

The President is understood to have more than three score names on his desk, a field that was opened only after the death on July 14 of former Senate Majority Leader Robert Taft.

Continued on Page 22, Column 4.

W. L. Mellon, Jr., Sued for Divorce

Pittsburgh, Aug. 3 (AP).—William Larimer Mellon Jr., heir to the Gulf Refining Co. millions, has been sued for divorce by Grace Rowley Mellon, it was disclosed today.

Mellon, 37, is a son of W. L. Mellon of the Gulf Co. and a grandnephew of former Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon.

Grace, 34, is a divorcee, and the late Elmer H. Rowley, charged in the suit filed July 31, that her husband deserted her on December 1, 1935, "without it cause" and never returned.

Young Mellon is living on a ranch near Rimrock, Ariz., while his wife is at their home in Sewickley, fashionable Pittsburgh suburb. The Mellons, married in Wellsburg, W. Va., in 1929, have one son, William Larimer Mellon, 3d, who is 4.

Continued on Page 22, Column 1.

16th St. Residents See Woman Fall 5 Floors to Death

A 44-year-old retired school teacher was fatally injured last night in a five-story fall from the fire escape of an apartment house at 3300 Sixteenth street northwest.

The woman, Miss Marjorie Paul, former teacher at Western and Woodrow Wilson High Schools, died in Emergency Hospital early this morning from internal injuries and possible iodine poisoning about six hours after being admitted.

According to the story that Roger Thurston, colored elevator operator, told police, the woman rode to the fifth floor of the fashionable apartment building a few minutes before 11 p. m. She believed she then climbed through a window to the fire escape.

Several residents of the building saw her body spin through the air and crash on the sidewalk at the front entrance.

Miss Paul lived with her aunt, Mrs. Edith Paul, at 1630 Park road northwest. Mrs. Paul, who is a biology teacher at Central High School, came by the apartment house just as her niece's crumpled body was picked up.

Miss Paul resigned in June after more than ten years at Western and at Woodrow Wilson.

Continued on Page 4, Column 3.

Gen. Franco Claims Papal Recognition

Rebels Hail Accord as Vatican Delegate Pays Call on Leader.

Confirmation Delayed by Pope; Fascists Seize Vital Highway.

By the United Press.

Salamanca, Spain, Aug. 3.—The Vatican has recognized Generalissimo Franco's nationalist government in Spain, it was announced officially tonight.

The announcement was made at nationalist headquarters here.

It was the third diplomatic recognition received from Europe by the Franco regime. Germany and Italy have sent diplomatic representatives to Salamanca.

The Vatican previously had been represented only unofficially.

Recognition of the Franco government by the Vatican was preceded by a visit from Mgr. Antoniutti as a compliment to Gen. Franco. The Vatican agreed to accept Pablo Churrucua as a representative of the nationalist government with the rank of charge d'affaires.

Recognition Discussed.

Vatican City, Aug. 3 (AP).—The possibility the Holy See might extend formal recognition to the insurgent government in Spain was discussed in Vatican circles tonight.

An informed source said such a step was "very probable."

Its likelihood was supported by the fact Mgr. Ildebrando Antoniutti, apostolic delegate to Albania, who frequently has been mentioned as possible apostolic nuncio to Spain, was in Rome recently for conferences with church officials.

Antoniutti, it was said, would assume duties now discharged by Cardinal Goma y Tomas, who is listed as the Vatican's "provisional" burgomaster.

The Holy See extends semirecognition to both the insurgent and Valencia governments.

Hall Diplomatic Accord.

Paris, Aug. 3 (AP).—The Spanish insurgent government, the Havas (French) News Agency said today in a dispatch from Salamanca, has been given official diplomatic standing at the Vatican.

The agency quoted an insurgent government note announcing a representative for nationalist Spain at the Holy See had been accorded the title of charge d'affaires.

The action reportedly followed the visit to Salamanca last week by Monsignor Ildebrando Antoniutti, apostolic delegate to Albania, to "present his respects to Gen. Franco," the insurgent leader, the insurgent announcement said.

"We feel great satisfaction," the insurgent regime declared, "to announce that the traditionally good relations existing between the Nationalist Catholic Church in Spain and the Holy See have entered a legal phase which will permit them to become more intimate and more broad in the future."

Fascists Out Road.

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Aug. 3 (AP).—Two insurgent battalions were reported today to have driven Madrid-Valencia troops from their principal mountain fortification on the Teruel front near Beas de Segura, cutting their main communications artery.

An official insurgent communiqué recounted in detail the twin operations, the latest developments in the Franco-Spanish campaign.

The two-headed thrust brought capture of the government field headquarters at the summit of a 3,000-foot pinnacled mountain and huge stocks of munitions and supplies, the communiqué said, and at least 100 government dead were left in Beas by the routed troops.

But perhaps the most important result of the attack was the government's loss of a secondary roadway linking its forces in that sector of the Teruel front.

Beas, southwest of Teruel, is about 15 miles north of the Cuenca road, an immediate objective of Franco's drive toward the main Madrid-Valencia highway.

The Cuenca highway, improved throughout, offered Franco's legions full play for their mechanized equipment—if they could reach it. Once on it, Franco might quickly paralyze the provincial capital, Cuenca, and then strike directly at the Madrid-Valencia highway with which the road connects.

Continued on Page 4, Column 1.

Al Smith and Seabury Collide in Bitter Battle For Mastery of New York City's Government

By the Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 3.—Two veteran strategists, both embittered by failure to realize their own political ambitions, were pitted against each other tonight in a "titanic" battle for control of city hall.

They were former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, emerging from political retirement to back the mayoralty candidacy of Senator Royal S. Copeland and former Judge Samuel Seabury, the principal supporter of Mayor F. H. LaGuardia.

All Americans Asked To Leave War Zone; Chinese Troops Attack

Price Captures Nomination, Holt, Staples Lead in Primary

U. S. Advises Nationals in Shantung to Go to Seaport.

Chiang's Men Make Stand in Bid for Aid of Incensed Reds.

By the United Press.

Nanking (Wednesday), Aug. 4.—The American consulate at Tsinan-fu today asked all Americans in Shantung province to leave immediately for the seaport Tientsin because of Sino-Japanese hostilities.

The request applied not only to Americans in Tsinan-fu, capital of Shantung, but also to those in the interior. Tsinan-fu is in the heart of the province south of Peiping and Tientsin.

The consulate recommended Tientsin as a gathering point because the second largest American fleet concentration in Chinese waters is there. The only danger might come from an early Japanese attempt to land troops. Rear Admiral H. E. Yarnell, commanding the American Asiatic fleet, is due there soon on the cruiser Augusta.

Chinese Storm Foo.

Tientsin (Wednesday), Aug. 4.—Fired by rumors that Soviet Russia is preparing a military demonstration against Japan, Chinese troops stormed into battle today in a desperate attempt to drive the Japanese out of the Peiping-Tientsin area.

Chinese soldiers attacked along three railroad lines as reports persisted that Russia might retaliate for the raid on its consulate here Sunday night—Jan. act allegedly committed by White Russians with the consent of the Japanese military authorities. Furniture in the consulate was smashed and the archives were looted.

The Japanese, surprised at China's sudden assumption of the offensive, halted their own advancing troops and resorted to aerial bombings in an effort to break the Chinese formations.

Sporadic fighting raged along a line more than 200 miles long extending from northern Shantung Province in an arc passing south of Peiping and crossing the Great Wall of China at Kalgan, into Chahar Province.

Japanese asserted the Chinese suffered terrific losses as result of the operations of their bombing planes.

Military headquarters here announced that Japanese planes bombed Chinese troop trains at Heishuayuan, Yulin and Fentaokow, in the Great Wall region along the Peiping-Shanwan Railway leading to Kalgan, killing scores of Chinese soldiers and damaging their munitions dumps.

"Forgotten Men" Surrender.

Peiping (Wednesday), Aug. 4 (AP). Japan's Asiatic army penetrated 35 miles south of Peiping today, more than half way to the Japanese frontier where Japanese commanders expect a Chinese army to take its first massed stand against Japan's march through China.

A Japanese brigade under Maj. Gen. Torashimo Kawabe marched into Liulih, only 30 miles north of Kaopelling on the Peiping-Hankow Railway. Ahead was believed to be a Chinese army marching north from Paoching.

While the Japanese swept on south, 2,000 "forgotten men" of the twenty-ninth Chinese Army were disarmed near Peking, northwest of Peiping, and herded into the ancient capital at their own request.

Japanese officials said the men, left isolated when the Twenty-ninth Army's main forces retreated from the Peiping region, asked to surrender their arms after a Japanese plane flew over their quarters threatening bombardment.

Russian Protest Rejected.

Tokyo, Aug. 3 (AP).—The Russian chargé d'affaires here today urged a strong protest against the raid on the Soviet consulate general in Tientsin which, he alleged, was inspired by the Japanese army.

Foreign Minister Koki Hirota bluntly rejected the Russian communication.

Hirota denied the Japanese army had any connection with the raid and asserted the imperial forces in north China consistently have been respecting the lives and property of foreigners.

The raid occurred in Chinese territory.

Continued on Page 4, Column 4.

Helpless Wife Gravelly Point Sees Husband Airport Asked Kill Her Sister In House Bill

Ralph H. Bryant Sought; Smith Seeks U. S. Funds; Improvement Measure Is Reported.

Washington's twisted airport situation became hopelessly tangled yesterday as Representative Howard Smith, of Virginia, asked for Federal funds to create a commercial airport at Gravelly Point, the House Military Affairs Committee reported a bill providing for improvement of the present airport and the National Airport Corporation was asked to explain why planes not equipped with radio receiving sets should not be prohibited from landing at the local air terminal.

The Military Affairs Committee proposed to enlarge the airport and to obtain for the terminal the right of way on Military road. Enlargement would be made by leasing 66 acres of land on the adjoining Arlington Experimental Farm.

Smith's bill, introduced into the House yesterday, asked for a $2,500,000 Federal appropriation for the Gravelly Point project and for creation of a National Airport Commission. The commission would be composed of the Assistant Secretary of Commerce in charge of aviation, the director of the National Park Service and the United States Engineer for the District.

The National Airport Corporation, which operates Washington Airport, was summoned to appear before the committee.

Continued on Page 5, Column 6.

Continued on Page 22, Column 5.

The Event

Harlan Miller's sprightly new column, "OVER THE COUNTER," on Washington events and people told informally and humorously.

The Date

TOMORROW and daily thereafter.

The Place

Page One, of the second section, exclusively in—

The Washington Post

Today's Index

Pages.
Amusements	16
Bridge	17
Classified Advertisements	22, 23, 24
Comics	25
Death Notices	22
Editorials	8
Financial News	20, 21, 22
Hollywood	18
Night Clubs	19
Pegler	9
Pictures	14
Radio	10
Society	12
Sports News	17, 18, 19
The Post's New Yorker	15
Woman's Page	13

Tom McCarthy, The Post's vagabond reporter, has a job as a boy in a famous resort hotel. His experiences are interesting reading today on page 9.

Green Prevents Death of Strong Wage-Hour Bill

Hits Substitution by House Group; Claims Roosevelt Approval.

By Sidney Olson.

Dashing to the rescue just in the nick of time, William Green, American Federation of Labor president, rushed to the Capitol yesterday and stopped the House Labor Committee from substituting the milder Senate wages-hours bill for the more drastic House bill.

Green dashed into the committee room just before the members read themselves for the motion to substitute and immediately asked for an emergency private audience with Chairman Mary T. Norton of New Jersey.

In a few moments Mrs. Norton appeared and told the members Green bore a message from the White House asking postponement of action for one day until members had had an opportunity to study three amendments favored by the federation.

Courteously, but disappointedly, the members fled out to find one of the House leaders foot-footing it toward the committee room with further word from the White House to halt action for 24 hours.

Call White House.

Then the fun began in earnest. Another House leader, at the request of a committee member, called up the White House to find out if Green really had presidential approval. According to the member, who did not care to speak for the record, the White House denied Green had been authorized to speak for the President, but admitted another day's delay was all right, until the members had had an opportunity to study the Green amendments.

Then Green went to the White House, showed his layover to the President, and told reporters: "If there has been any misunderstanding, I am to blame."

Says President Agrees.

"The President agreed with me on the principles of these amendments. They are to this effect: "1. To make it clear that there shall be no setting aside or interference with collective bargaining agreements and minimum wages-maximum hours herein agreed to." "2. That in fixing minimum rates the board could not fix any minimum hours lower or maximum hours higher than any collective bargaining rates in the vicinity. There shall be no regional discrimination and the prevailing rates shall be recognized."

"3. Elimination of the section which amends the labor standards of the Walsh-Healey Government contracts act (which requires a 40-hour week in firms dealing with the Government.)

The President at the afternoon said he did agree with the principles of the amendments; that he wanted to retain the provisions of the Walsh-Healey act; that he opposed fixing rates below the prevailing rates in communities; and that he favored retaining collective bargaining."

"Not Making Threats."

Green said the federation will be for the House bill with these amendments. Asked if the federation would oppose the bill if the amendments were rejected, he said: "We're not making any threats, but the present bill repeals the Walsh-Healey act."

Muddled members of the House committee, who have been struggling with the measure for many long weeks under the heaviest sort of conflicting pressures, attempted last night to find a simple way out of the whirlpool of confusion.

The consensus was they would stick by the private stand of the House leaders—to vote to substitute the less controversial Senate bill, word for word.

Eleven of the 19 active members of the committee are understood to be pledged to this position, which would knock out in one blow the Wood amendment—the "big stick"—which has been used to frighten the Southern members into line for the Senate bill, according to some sources.

Substitution Predicted.

This amendment, sponsored by Representative Reuben T. Wood (Democrat), Missouri, the president of the Missouri State Federation of Labor for 24 years, would empower the board to set minimum wages of not more than 70 cents an hour and maximum hours of not less than 35 hours per week.

Southern members, desperate with the thought that this would seriously threaten small industries, banded en masse to fight it. Then the leaders quietly brought them into line for the measure by the promise that the less sweeping Senate measure would be substituted.

Unless there is a sudden reversal of stand, for reasons not yet determined, it was said last night the committee majority, operating with the House leaders, would stand firmly today for motion to substitute.

Grumble After Visit.

Committee members grumbled heartily yesterday after Green's dramatic last-minute appearance. Representative Hartley (Republican), New Jersey, said: "This forcibly demonstrated the low estate in which the House is held today."

"We are no longer legislators but here only to heed the master's voice."

Some members explained later that possibly the White House's reported denial that Green was empowered to ask a committee halt came because it might thus be construed as direct White House interference with a Congressional committee.

Send Women Lending!

Half-Size and Extra Sizes to Fit You

STOUT SLENDER SHOP
1336 7th St. N.W. NO. 7202
Look for Our Little Near Sign

WATCH REPAIRS

by certified experts only! We use the finest genuine parts. PAY ONLY 50c OR $1 WEEK.

S. & N. KATZ
1114 F. ST. N.W.

Politics and People

Section Authorizing Federal Lump Sum Subsidies in Revised Housing Bill Called a Sop to the President.

By Franklyn Waltman

APPARENTLY as a sop to President Roosevelt, the revised Wagner housing bill contains a section authorizing Federal housing subsidies in the form of capital grants or lump-sum payments as an alternative to the system of annual contributions (which may run for 60 years) discussed in this place yesterday.

WALTMAN.

Under this section any local public housing authority may request a capital grant up to 25 per cent of the cost of the proposed housing project from the United States Housing Authority.

The President is given authority to add to this grant an additional sum up to 10 per cent of the cost of the project out of relief funds to encourage re-employment.

Granting of this 40 per cent Federal subsidy, however, is contingent on the State or local government involved, making a contribution in the form of cash, land, or the value, capitalized at the going Federal rate of interest, in an amount not less than 20 per cent of the development cost. After that, the housing authority would lend the remainder of the sum needed.

Very obviously the drafters of this section were not sincere when they inserted it into the bill. Obviously on its face resort never will be made to this method of Federal subsidy and the Senate Education and Labor Committee, which reported the bill, admits as much.

The bill would limit the total of such grants to $10,000,000 annually in the next three years. This money must be appropriated out of the Treasury. But the bill authorizes an appropriation of only $28,000,000. The committee report states this appropriation is for the first three years of operation under the bill in order that the housing program may have a reasonable opportunity to prove itself before new appropriations are considered.

But the committee in its report estimates that $22,750,000 will be needed during the first three years to pay annual contributions and that $1,000,000 is required by the Treasury to purchase the capital stock of the housing authority. Thus out of the $28,000,000 authorized for appropriation $23,750,000 is earmarked, leaving but $2,250,000 which undoubtedly will be needed for administrative expenses.

Consequently, it is obvious either the two things are true: Either it is not intended any money should be disbursed in the form of capital grants under this bill, or that the $28,000,000 authorized appropriation will not be sufficient.

The former conclusion is more likely to prevail for the simple reason that the officials of any local housing agency who preferred the direct grant method of subsidy over that embracing annual contributions should have their heads examined. The latter conclusion is more likely to prevail for the simple reason that the officials of any local housing agency who preferred the direct grant method of subsidy over that embracing annual contributions should have their heads examined. The latter conclusion is more likely to prevail for the simple reason that the officials of any local housing agency who preferred the direct grant method of subsidy over that embracing annual contributions should have their heads examined.

In Congress

YESTERDAY.

Senate.

Met at noon and recessed at 6 p. m. until noon today.

Debated Wagner housing bill. Joint Committee continued Government reorganization study.

Interstate Commerce sub-committee considered Van Sweringen railroad purchase.

House.

Met at noon and adjourned at 3:30 p. m. until noon today.

Adopted District of Columbia tax bill conference report.

Interstate Commerce Committee considered food and drug bill.

Labor Committee considered wage-and-hour bill.

Joint Committee resumed tax evasion inquiry.

TODAY.

Senate.

Meets at noon.

House.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Banking and Currency Committee considers housing bill.

Rules Committee considers sugar bill.

Meets at noon.

Considers bills on the Wednesday calendar. Committee on Executive Expenditures has the call.

Measure to Stop Embassy Picketing Hurried to House

Act to Include U. S. Buildings Pigeon-Holed

Resolution to Relieve the 'Embarrassment' of Hull Quickly Reported Out.

A resolution to prohibit the picketing of embassies and legations here, inspired Monday by an "embarrassment" State Department, was reported favorably to the House yesterday by the Foreign Affairs Committee.

Meanwhile, Chairman Palmisano, of the House District Committee, announced that his resolution to prohibit the picketing of Government buildings here would be put in a pigeonhole and allowed to sleep until the next session.

Despite denials, Palmisano said the resolution, already drafted, was turned over to him by a representative of the Department of Justice. This same representative, he said, had urged him to forget the legislation for this session. With obvious relief, Palmisano called off a hearing scheduled for this morning. Organized labor had vehemently protested.

Roosevelt "in Dark."

President Roosevelt, at his press conference, said he knew nothing about the Palmisano "anti-picketing" resolution until he read about it in the newspapers.

Chairman McReynolds, of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, reported the resolution to ban picketing of embassies and legations. In his report he said the legislation had been requested by Secretary of State Cordell Hull. He quoted a letter from Hull which said:

"It is extremely embarrassing to the department to be reminded by representatives of foreign governments in the United States that their missions are being interfered with by individuals or groups, particularly when existing domestic law does not seem to cover the situation of which the complaint is made."

"If we are to obtain for our representatives in foreign countries that degree of protection to which they are entitled, we should be in a position to show a like consideration for representatives of other governments."

Asks Action at Once.

Emphasizing that this country can not hope to receive protection of its nationals abroad unless this is done, Hull asked for speedy action on the resolution.

A number of embassies and legations in Washington have been the scene of demonstrations from time to time, particularly the Japanese Embassy, the German Embassy and the Spanish Embassy.

The McReynolds resolution, a duplicate of which has been introduced by Chairman Pittman, of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, makes unlawful the "display of any flag, banner, or device designated or adapted to bring to public notice any party, organization or movement, or the political, social or economic views of any individual or group" within 500 feet of an embassy or legation.

Commenting on the bill, Acting Chairman Joe Berrall of the American Friends of Spanish Democracy, said:

"I have heard to my surprise that the McReynolds resolution was voted out of committee without a quorum being present. The three resolutions sprung upon Congress and the public yesterday, prohibiting picketing of foreign embassies as well as any building of the Federal Government, clearly violate the Constitution. The first amendment forbids Congress to make any law abridging the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the Government for redress of grievances."

Ruling Due Today Over Custody of California Child

Unaware of the fight that is raging between her mother and father for her custody, 2½-year-old Doris Anderson slept last night in the Receiving Home for Children as her father, Harry L. Anderson, conferred with his attorneys over steps to be taken in District Court today to regain her custody.

The child was taken from her father's home in nearby Takoma Park, Md., and placed in the Receiving Home pending a final disposition of her status—whether she is to be sent back to her mother in California or is to be allowed to remain here with her father.

Through Attorneys Julian Richards and Wilbert McInerney, Anderson yesterday secured a writ of habeas corpus and Justice Oscar R. Lurhing directed that the child be produced in District Court today at 10 o'clock.

Anderson said he was financially able to care for the child. His estranged wife contended she was given the child's custody by the California courts.

7 French Fugitives Land on Trinidad

Port of Spain, Trinidad, Aug. 3. (AP)—Seven fugitives from the French penal colony at Cayenne, French Guiana, relaxed in safety here today after 18 days at sea in an open boat.

They were without food and water for the last four days of their more than 800-mile flight, they said. The man escaped from the Cayenne prison on July 14, while the French colony celebrated Bastille Day.

One said he was Maurice Dekerkove, sentenced for a shooting affair. Two others were Italian anti-Fascists who were sentenced for ignoring orders expelling them from France.

Now I eat SWEET CORN. Upset Stomach Goes in Jiffy with Bell-Ans.

BELL-ANS FOR INDIGESTION

Mother, 2 Children Among Plane Victims Lost in Sea

Among the 14 victims of the Pan-American-Grace Air Line plane that fell in the sea near the Canal Zone were Mrs. Amy Levering, wife of W. K. Levering, Pan-American engineer at Lima, Peru, and their two children, Jesse Mary and James Walter. They are shown at the top in a recent family picture. Below are Rex Martin (upper left), and G. Q. Caldwell (lower right), both of the U. S. Department of Commerce; Pilot Stephen Dunn (lower left) and Copilot Lawrence Bickford (upper right), also victims. The map locates the scene of the disaster.

Hope Abandoned for D. C. Man And 13 Others in Carib Crash

Continued from Page 1.

facturing company for one year, a co-pilot for Universal Airlines for several months during 1935.

After several months in aviation sales work, he returned to airline piloting, advancing to full pilot, and was later chief pilot for American Airways from 1931 to 1934. The same year he was a pilot for a Dallas, Tex., aviation organization.

Caldwell was former adjutant of the 156th Observation Squadron of the Arkansas National Guard.

Three years ago this month he was appointed an air line maintenance inspector for the Bureau of Air Commerce, and was advanced to the rating of air line inspector on February 16, 1935.

Dunn Once Navy Pilot.

Dunn, pilot of the air liner, was a resident of Ambbridge, Pa., until 1930. He served in the air force of the United States Navy during the World War and in 1930 went to New York to enter the commercial aeronautics field. He began his career as a commercial pilot with the New York-Rio Janeiro lines, then went with Pan American-Grace when it absorbed the New York line several years ago.

Miller was an employee of the Ford Motor Co.'s foreign sales department. He was en route from Lima, Peru, to Detroit, to visit his wife and daughter, who reside there. A daughter who lives in Ecuador was to have met Miller when he arrived at Bilbao.

Souza, a resident of Santa Maria, Calif., who left four months ago to work for the Ford Motor Co. in Cristobal. His father, Frank Souza, lives in Casimira, Calif., and his mother, Mrs. Julia Souza, lives in Santa Maria.

At dawn yesterday Army and Navy planes began the search. The wreckage was reported shortly before noon, by Lieut. Crutchfield Adair, U. S. N., and a submarine immediately set out to tow in the main part of the plane. It was reported one motor had been jarred loose from the wing by the impact of the landing.

Two life preservers in a case, five seat cushions, three head-rest cushions, one metal foot rest, one container of ice cream, one rug 10 feet square and numerous broken pieces of the plane.

Submarines Still Search.

The wreckage was found at latitude 9 degrees and 25 minutes and longitude 80 degrees, 3 minutes and 30 seconds.

Part of a wing and an engine casing were reported found by submarine S-46. The Navy said both of the submarines will continue the search throughout the night and tomorrow and Navy planes will resume the hunt at daylight.

Three destroyers—the Mahan, Babbitt and Taylor—are also engaged in the search, officials reported.

The plane was operated by Pan-American-Grace Airways, an affiliate of the Pan-American Airways which flies the Pacific. Panamagra routes cover Cristobal, the west Coast of South America and Buenos Aires over the Andes. The Santa Maria had been delayed 24 hours at Guayaquil by bad weather, and apparently encountered more of it just before nightfall near Cristobal.

The only serious accident involving a Pan American flying boat or Clipper ship was in December, 1935, when one ran into a steamer before taking off from Trinidad. Water broke into a compartment and drowned one passenger and a steward, but 31 other persons aboard the ship were safe.

Thousands See Mooney Raised To Archbishop

Detroit Becomes Seat of Michigan Archdiocese at Solemn Rites.

By the Associated Press.

Detroit, Aug. 3.—While thousands of Catholics stood outside the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Detroit was elevated today to the seat of the seventeenth archdiocese in the United States and the Most Rev. Edward Mooney was enthroned as Michigan's first archbishop.

Within the church, more than half the North American hierarchy and 1,500 priests heard the new archdiocese, the new Diocese of Lansing and the overlordship of Archbishop Mooney proclaimed as the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Stephen S. Woznicki intoned three papal bulls.

Then the Most Rev. Archbishop Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States, led the new spiritual leader of Michigan Catholics to the great metropolitan throne presented to him the golden crozier, or shepherd's staff, symbolic of his authority.

Near the end of the ceremony came the "Osculum Manus," or homage by the clergy to the new leader. Led by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John M. Doyle, diocesan administrator during the six-month interregnum following the death of Bishop Michael J. Gallagher, 100 of the archdiocesan clergy knelt at the archbishop's feet and kissed the episcopal ring on his extended right hand.

Wagner said last night he would not accept an amendment by Senator Byrd (Democrat), of Virginia, to limit the cost of housing units to $4,000 a family or $1,000 a room. Wagner said that would be the "average" cost, but some might run higher. He expressed willingness to accept a limitation of $1,400 or $1,500 a room.

Wagner also indicated he would not accept an amendment by Senator Austin (Republican), Vermont, to give the General Accounting Office full audit powers over the board's loans, contributions and grants. The New Yorker said instead he will offer an amendment, providing what he said was the "usual" exemption granted loan agencies from pre-audits by the Comptroller General.

Wagner said last night he would not accept an amendment by Senator Byrd (Democrat), of Virginia, to limit the cost of housing units to $4,000 a family or $1,000 a room. Wagner said that would be the "average" cost, but some might run higher. He expressed willingness to accept a limitation of $1,400 or $1,500 a room.

Wagner also indicated he would not accept an amendment by Senator Austin (Republican), Vermont, to give the General Accounting Office full audit powers over the board's loans, contributions and grants. The New Yorker said instead he will offer an amendment, providing what he said was the "usual" exemption granted loan agencies from pre-audits by the Comptroller General.

Wagner said last night he would not accept an amendment by Senator Byrd (Democrat), of Virginia, to limit the cost of housing units to $4,000 a family or $1,000 a room. Wagner said that would be the "average" cost, but some might run higher. He expressed willingness to accept a limitation of $1,400 or $1,500 a room.

Wagner also indicated he would not accept an amendment by Senator Austin (Republican), Vermont, to give the General Accounting Office full audit powers over the board's loans, contributions and grants. The New Yorker said instead he will offer an amendment, providing what he said was the "usual" exemption granted loan agencies from pre-audits by the Comptroller General.

Wagner said last night he would not accept an amendment by Senator Byrd (Democrat), of Virginia, to limit the cost of housing units to $4,000 a family or $1,000 a room. Wagner said that would be the "average" cost, but some might run higher. He expressed willingness to accept a limitation of $1,400 or $1,500 a room.

Wagner also indicated he would not accept an amendment by Senator Austin (Republican), Vermont, to give the General Accounting Office full audit powers over the board's loans, contributions and grants. The New Yorker said instead he will offer an amendment, providing what he said was the "usual" exemption granted loan agencies from pre-audits by the Comptroller General.

Wagner said last night he would not accept an amendment by Senator Byrd (Democrat), of Virginia, to limit the cost of housing units to $4,000 a family or $1,000 a room. Wagner said that would be the "average" cost, but some might run higher. He expressed willingness to accept a limitation of $1,400 or $1,500 a room.

Wagner also indicated he would not accept an amendment by Senator Austin (Republican), Vermont, to give the General Accounting Office full audit powers over the board's loans, contributions and grants. The New Yorker said instead he will offer an amendment, providing what he said was the "usual" exemption granted loan agencies from pre-audits by the Comptroller General.

Interest Raised For U. S. Loans In Housing Bill

Half-Dozen Changes Are Accepted in Senate Passage Rush.

The Senate yesterday extended first housing opportunities under the Wagner alum clearance bill to the "lowest" income groups, then raised fractionally the interest charge on Federal loans for low-cost projects.

Half a dozen changes were written into the controversial housing measure, as Senator Robert F. Wagner (Democrat), of New York, accepted informally a plethora of "perfecting" amendments, in the Administration rush to pass the bill today.

Failing to reach a final ballot yesterday, Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley succeeded in limiting debate on the bill and all amendments. Once again he forecast a vote before nightfall.

The one-half of 1 per cent increase in the proposed interest rate on housing loans was proposed by Senator Walsh (Democrat), of Massachusetts, following word from Administration officials that the margin was needed to repay interest costs. His amendment was adopted without a record vote.

Claims New Policy.

The original bill would have authorized loans to State and local housing authorities at the "going Federal rate of interest." Wagner had defined the going rate as "the cost of money to the Government." His bill defines it as "the annual rate of interest specified in the then most recently issued bonds of the Federal Government having a maturity of 10 years or more."

Walsh said his amendment is in line with a new Administration policy to be applied to future loans. The amendment giving preference to the "lowest" income group in the new housing units was offered by Wagner, but was a concession to Walsh. Walsh had sought to limit tenancy status to families with incomes of less than three times their rent, instead of five times their rent, as the bill provided.

LaGuardia Asks Passage.

Walsh accepted the Wagner substitute, after the New Yorker declared the Walsh limitation would actually operate against the poorer classes. Wagner pointed out the Walsh limitation would make families ineligible for aid unless they paid at least 33 1/3 per cent of their incomes for rent, or two-thirds more than the usual 20 per cent.

The Senate started voting on amendments to measure shortly after Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York, urged the House Banking Committee to provide "shine and air" for underprivileged children, by approving the Wagner bill.

LaGuardia said housing is a problem requiring Federal attention if people are not to be "compelled to live in insanitary, cheerless, dangerous hovels." Opening House hearings on the measure, Chairman Steagall had called first LaGuardia, as representing the United States Conference of Mayors.

Meanwhile, organized labor's bitter rivals, President William Green, of the American Federation of Labor, and John L. Lewis, of the C. I. O., endorsed the housing measure in letters to Chairman Steagall.

In the Senate, some whole sections of the original Wagner bill were eliminated by Wagner's own amendments. Wanting to avoid extended controversy, Wagner offered one such amendment, eliminating from the bill authority to make loans to limited profit organizations, or consumers' housing societies.

Pending when the Senate recessed yesterday was an amendment by Wagner reducing the Housing administrative agency to an administrator and two directors, instead of an administrator and four directors as in the original bill. On suggestion of Senator McAdoo (Democrat), California, the amendment would give the President power to remove the officials for cause.

Barkley and Wagner were scheduled to confer overnight on a proposal by Barkley to place the agency under the Interior Department, but still give the President power to name the board, and the Senate power of confirmation.

Rejects Byrd Proposal.

Wagner said last night he would not accept an amendment by Senator Byrd (Democrat), of Virginia, to limit the cost of housing units to $4,000 a family or $1,000 a room. Wagner said that would be the "average" cost, but some might run higher. He expressed willingness to accept a limitation of $1,400 or $1,500 a room.

Wagner also indicated he would not accept an amendment by Senator Austin (Republican), Vermont, to give the General Accounting Office full audit powers over the board's loans, contributions and grants. The New Yorker said instead he will offer an amendment, providing what he said was the "usual" exemption granted loan agencies from pre-audits by the Comptroller General.

Wagner said last night he would not accept an amendment by Senator Byrd (Democrat), of Virginia, to limit the cost of housing units to $4,000 a family or $1,000 a room. Wagner said that would be the "average" cost, but some might run higher. He expressed willingness to accept a limitation of $1,400 or $1,500 a room.

Wagner also indicated he would not accept an amendment by Senator Austin (Republican), Vermont, to give the General Accounting Office full audit powers over the board's loans, contributions and grants. The New Yorker said instead he will offer an amendment, providing what he said was the "usual" exemption granted loan agencies from pre-audits by the Comptroller General.

Wagner said last night he would not accept an amendment by Senator Byrd (Democrat), of Virginia, to limit the cost of housing units to $4,000 a family or $1,000 a room. Wagner said that would be the "average" cost, but some might run higher. He expressed willingness to accept a limitation of $1,400 or $1,500 a room.

Wagner also indicated he would not accept an amendment by Senator Austin (Republican), Vermont, to give the General Accounting Office full audit powers over the board's loans, contributions and grants. The New Yorker said instead he will offer an amendment, providing what he said was the "usual" exemption granted loan agencies from pre-audits by the Comptroller General.

Wagner said last night he would not accept an amendment by Senator Byrd (Democrat), of Virginia, to limit the cost of housing units to $4,000 a family or $1,000 a room. Wagner said that would be the "average" cost, but some might run higher. He expressed willingness to accept a limitation of $1,400 or $1,500 a room.

Wagner also indicated he would not accept an amendment by Senator Austin (Republican), Vermont, to give the General Accounting Office full audit powers over the board's loans, contributions and grants. The New Yorker said instead he will offer an amendment, providing what he said was the "usual" exemption granted loan agencies from pre-audits by the Comptroller General.

Wagner said last night he would not accept an amendment by Senator Byrd (Democrat), of Virginia, to limit the cost of housing units to $4,000 a family or $1,000 a room. Wagner said that would be the "average" cost, but some might run higher. He expressed willingness to accept a limitation of $1,400 or $1,500 a room.

Wagner also indicated he would not accept an amendment by Senator Austin (Republican), Vermont, to give the General Accounting Office full audit powers over the board's loans, contributions and grants. The New Yorker said instead he will offer an amendment, providing what he said was the "usual" exemption granted loan agencies from pre-audits by the Comptroller General.

Birth Control League, Raided, Prepares Fight

Police Close Office in Fashionable Brookline; to Prosecute.

By the Associated Press.

Boston, Aug. 3.—The Birth Control League of Massachusetts girded for battle tonight after police in the fashionable suburb of Brookline raided and closed one of its offices on the grounds that dissemination of contraceptive information was against the law.

Two weeks ago members of the league's Salem office were fined $100 each on the same grounds. With two of its clinics closed, the league now has four operating in the State—at Worcester, Springfield, Fitchburg and New Bedford. Police Lieut. James Tona, who led the raiding party at Brookline last night and reported the seizure of "birth control literature and a large supply of contraceptives," declared "we intend to prosecute everyone connected with the clinic."

The list of doctors, sponsors and advisors of the Massachusetts league is a virtual blue book of civic and educational leaders.

Famous Members.

Heading the doctors was Robert L. De Normandie, famous obstetrician, who for many years attended the births of Beacon Hill's fashionable families. Among the sponsors appeared names as those of William Allan Neilson, president of Smith College, and Tyler Demmett, resigned president of Williams College.

At the headquarters of the league, Mrs. Leslie D. Hawkrige, its president, said the organization, affiliated with the American Birth Control League, first began disseminating birth control information in 1932.

No patients were taken who could afford a private doctor, Mrs. Hawkrige said, "and no one pays over $3."

"Practically 40 per cent of the patients last year were on relief," Mrs. Hawkrige continued.

3,000 Have Attended.

During the first year, she reported, 100 women were treated at the Brookline office. Last year, she said, the number had risen to upward of 600. Throughout the State, 3,000 women have attended the clinics.

At the very outset, Mrs. Hawkrige said, advice was sought as to whether it was unlawful to conduct such a clinic in Massachusetts. At that time, she continued, legal advisers told the league that, in their opinion, while the questions had not been settled by judicial decision "a physician is justified in giving contraceptive advice for the purpose of saving life, safeguarding health or preventing disease."

The action of a district court judge in fining defendants in Salem has been appealed.

Police Hold Youth In Attack on Girls

A 21-year-old youth was arrested by police last night for investigation in alleged criminal assaults on two young white girls here. A second youth is being sought.

The girls, aged 11 and 15, told their parents yesterday two men offered them a ride on H street northwest last Thursday night and drove them to Benning road and Hanna place southeast, where they said the assaults took place.

Examination by Gallinger Hospital physicians disclosed injuries to one of the girls.

21 D HOSPITALIZATION 30 A INSURANCE Y A Agra 5 to 60 Less Than 1 1/2 Cents a Day E. O. Wieland, 1343 H St. N.W. Room 209 District 1486

The New G.C. MURPHY CO'S ALEXANDRIA Store Opens AUG. 6

A new, modern, conveniently located 5 & 10c Store for our Alexandria Friends and Patrons

BEFORE AND AFTER SIZE WILL BE TWINS! If a garment of yours has been shrunken, send it to us with a note and we will advise if the original size can be restored

MEN'S and WOMEN'S SUITS Linen—Palm Beach—Seersucker 75c HAVE YOUR VACATION START AND FINISH WITH TOLMAN

TOLMAN Laundry 5248 WISCONSIN AVE. CLEVELAND 7800

It's smart to say "V.O." and soda

Seagram's V.O. A FINE IMPORTED WHISKY

THINK BEFORE YOU DRINK—SAY SEAGRAM'S AND BE SURE

ENTIRE STORE AIR-COOLED

ONE-DAY SALE!

Today Only... beginning at 9:30 A.M.

GROUP OF $8 to $10 FLEXIBLE and STAIN-SMOOTH SPORT SHOES

$4.85

Exceptional values! Buy for now and next summer. These famous shoes are well made—and in the most popular styles. Imported Buckskins in all-white, black and white and brown and whites, and ventilated styles. Sizes AAA to D, 5 to 12.

GROUP OF $10 KNOX EXCELLENT QUALITY PANAMAS

$5.45

Panamas of a finer type—at a surprisingly low price. Priced for one day only—so don't delay! Optimize, pinch front, off-the-face, snap brim and new tapered crown styles. Puggaree and narrow bands. 6 1/2 to 7 1/2, in ovalized sixteenths.

Your Charge Account Is Cordially Invited

RALEIGH HABERDASHER Washington's Finest Men's Wear Store 1310 F STREET

"FOR HEALTH'S SAKE, SEND IT ALL TO TOLMAN"

TOLMAN'S Separate WASH SUIT Department

A FASTER, BETTER CLEANING SERVICE THAN EVER!

"BEFORE" AND "AFTER" SIZE WILL BE TWINS! If a garment of yours has been shrunken, send it to us with a note and we will advise if the original size can be restored

MEN'S and WOMEN'S SUITS Linen—Palm Beach—Seersucker 75c HAVE YOUR VACATION START AND FINISH WITH TOLMAN

TOLMAN Laundry 5248 WISCONSIN AVE. CLEVELAND 7800

It's smart to say "V.O." and soda

Seagram's V.O. A FINE IMPORTED WHISKY

THINK BEFORE YOU DRINK—SAY SEAGRAM'S AND BE SURE

BEFORE AND AFTER SIZE WILL BE TWINS! If a garment of yours has been shrunken, send it to us with a note and we will advise if the original size can be restored

MEN'S and WOMEN'S SUITS Linen—Palm Beach—Seersucker 75c HAVE YOUR VACATION START AND FINISH WITH TOLMAN

TOLMAN Laundry 5248 WISCONSIN AVE. CLEVELAND 7800

It's smart to say "V.O." and soda

Seagram's V.O. A FINE IMPORTED WHISKY

THINK BEFORE YOU DRINK—SAY SEAGRAM'S AND BE SURE

2 Men, Woman Seize Boy, Ask $5,000 Ransom

Mother, Maid Beaten by Kidnap Trio; Owner of Car Arrested.

Continued from Page 1.

lent him my car at the agency at his request. Humberg said in a statement. "He is a customer there and he brought in his car for greasing and brake adjustment."

Humberg's statement said the car was brought back about 8 p. m. shortly after the kidnapping, and that the instrument board showed 65 miles had been driven.

"By the time I got to the service department," the salesman's statement continued, "he got into his car and drove off without paying for the grease job."

Police reported it was not until 35 minutes after the kidnapping that they got the alarm. This was the story told by Mrs. Horst to Police-men Edward Strandberg, Clarence Benson and George Schneider.

Donald was playing in a sand pile in the back yard when the kidnapers drove up in front of the spacious Horst home on Chicago's Northwest Side. The woman was a neighbor boy, Kenneth Kelly, 6. Mrs. Horst, a rather slight woman with red hair, was seated a few feet away.

The woman and one of the men left the car and approached.

"Are you Mrs. Horst?" the man asked. Mrs. Horst nodded.

The man then told Donald and started to run with him to the car. Mrs. Horst caught up with him and threw her arms around her son, tearing part of his shirt away. Her screams brought the colored maid.

At this point the woman kidnaper turned on the mother, knocking her to the ground. The maid also was pushed off her feet in the struggle.

Mrs. Horst got up and followed her son until she was struck in the face by the man. As the kidnappers drove off, Mrs. Horst screamed.

"Stop them! Get my baby! Get my baby!"

Joseph Immel, Jr., a neighbor, who by this time had appeared at the scene, said the woman in the car screamed back:

"It's not her baby! It's mine!"

Questioned Separately.

The only person outside of police allowed to talk with Mrs. Horst was Miss Dorothy Pick, of Milwaukee, a friend, who arrived to visit the Horsts shortly after the kidnapping.

Mrs. Horst and her husband were questioned separately and not allowed to talk to each other, police said. Horst was said to be the owner of the United Sound Co., manufacturing amplifiers and office sound equipment. Until recently he owned a West Side hotel.

The kidnapped child was described as having dark hair and brown eyes. His mother said he wore a white play suit, socks and slippers. Descriptions of the kidnappers were meager. Both men were young and dark. The woman wore a white dress with blue polka dots.

Mrs. S. R. Comstock Dies in New Jersey

Mrs. Sue Reynolds Comstock, former Washington resident, and employee of the Internal Revenue Bureau, died yesterday at her home in Vineland, N. J., it was learned here last night.

Mrs. Comstock was the daughter of Elmer E. Reynolds, Washington correspondent for agricultural papers and a secretary of the Potomac Grange, No. 1. He lives at 7111 Eighth street northwest.

Born in Rochester, N. Y., Mrs. Comstock came to Washington in 1919. She lived here until four years ago, when she was transferred to the Philadelphia branch of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Besides her husband, Mr. Comstock, she was survived by a brother, M. B. Reynolds, of Tacoma Park, survive.

'Kid McCoy' Is Wed 9th Time in Indiana

Rushville, Ind., Aug. 3 (U.P.)—Former Middleweight Champion "Kid McCoy" clasped his ninth bride firmly about the waist today and announced he was sure this marriage would last.

"It's got to last," he said. "They count me out at 10."

McCoy, whose real name is Norman Selby, and Mrs. Sue Cowley, of Detroit, distant cousin of Irvin S. Cobb, the humorist, were married at Rushville Christian Church yesterday. Selby gave his age as 33, Mrs. Cowley as 44.

Arlington Woman Slain After Chase

Rushville, Ind., Aug. 3 (U.P.)—Police said she recognized as her husband. Bryant, police said, disappeared suddenly as he appeared and a lookout for him was broadcast by Washington police. Searching officers were warned to be careful, that the man was armed.

Had Partial Divorce.

Police said that Mrs. Bryant won a partial divorce from her husband last September. Since then, it was said, she had been making her home with Mrs. Blazek.

Blazek works in Washington. He is the manager of Jacob Decher & Sons, a wholesale meat company.

Bryant for a number of years lived in Washington at an address in the 1100 block of Green street northeast. Police said that neighbors there told them he had returned to Arlington County, but authorities there had no address for him. They learned he had been employed on a road project in the county.

At the Orren street address, residents told Washington authorities that while the Bryants lived there, Bryant had threatened to kill himself.

Sisters Look Alike.

In reconstructing the slaying, Arlington County police said they believed Bryant, in a fit of momentary insanity, came to the house looking for his wife.

The two women closely resemble each other and police said they believed the enraged man failed to distinguish between the two in the half light of the kitchen and shot the sister by mistake.

To Beautify Embassies

Mrs. Warren Delano Robinson, appointed yesterday to a new position in the State Department. She will be in charge of matters incident to the furnishing and decoration of diplomatic and consular establishments abroad.

Price Defeats $6,500 Yearly Page; Staples, Post Is Given Holt Leading President's Kin

Richmond Wins Primary Gubernatorial Contest by Landslide.

Continued from Page 1.

Prices were decided by narrower margins.

With the nomination regarded as equivalent to election, the affable, silver-haired Richmonder next January will succeed Gov. George C. Peery, who has held office for four years and is not eligible to succeed himself.

Price Sweeps Arlington.

In one of the quietest elections ever polled in Arlington County, Price carried every precinct, Saxton also carried every precinct and Holt carried all but one.

Fairfax County gave an overwhelming majority for Price. He carried every precinct. Holt carried Daniel in all but one precinct. In the closest race, Staples took the lead over Galleher.

Price had a 13-1 lead over Page, carrying all 28 precincts in Loudoun County. In the closest contest Holt polled 928 votes to 919 for Daniel. Galleher won in his home county over Staples, 985 to 815.

Favored by ideal weather, the balloting was heaviest in cities where local and legislative contests helped bring out the voters. In rural areas the vote was relatively light.

Long ballots in a number of cities slowed up the count and it appeared the returns from some of them would not be complete until early morning.

Widely heralded as the "coat tail campaign" because of the attempts of aspirants for lesser offices to capitalize on the popularity of James H. Price, candidate for Governor, the balloting closed one of the State's most unusual political battles.

Although Price's opponent, State Senator Vivian L. Page, of Norfolk, waged a vigorous campaign, the gubernatorial contest was overshadowed by more spirited contests for lieutenant governor and attorney general.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

State Senator Robert W. Daniel, of Branson, opposing State Senator Saxton W. Holt, of Newport News, for lieutenant governor, and John Galleher, of Leesburg, seeking to displace Attorney General Abram P. Staples, charged their opponents with being out of sympathy with Price's candidacy.

All Americans Warned to Quit As Boy Wedged In Shaft Dies

Chinese Storm Enemy in Bid for Support of Russian Army.

Continued from Page 1.

ritory in a district not controlled by the Japanese, he said, adding it was his opinion that White Russian groups from the old Czarist armies, which fled to China during the Bolshevik revolution, were responsible.

The charge d'affaires said he would report the attitude of the Japanese government to Moscow and await instructions.

He said Russia reserved the right to demand satisfaction from Japan will continue to insist that Japan is solely responsible for the raid.

All Russia Incensed.

Moscow, Aug. 3 (U.P.)—Aroused by Japan's blunt refusal to accept the slightest responsibility for Sunday night's raid on the Soviet consulate general in Tientsin, all Russia tonight joined in a demand for punishment of the "Japanese military mad-dogs and their White Russian bandit henchmen."

The government-controlled press reached a new high in anti-Japanese denunciation and accused the Japanese army of attempting deliberately to inflame the Soviets to war.

Pravda demanded that the "Japanese dogs be trapped" and denounced the band of White Russians who carried out the raid as "former Czarist officers who were the scum of the corrupt old Russian society."

Nanking Fears Air Raid.

Nanking (Wednesday), Aug. 4 (U.P.)—China's capital camouflaged public buildings and buses today as fear of Japanese air raids spread through the city and an exodus started.

Trains moving south and east from Nanking were jammed with refugees immediately after high altitude bombers appeared over the city and the north and attack the capital.

The city's white buses were given a protective coat of gray paint, foreign officials, both diplomatic and private, were warned of the possible danger and asked to remove all prominent markings from their buildings.

Secretary Hull pointed out that this country has 300 or more embassies, legations and consular offices calling for more or less attention. He said that Larkin, who is about 55 years of age, studied architectural design in New York and obtained practical experience with architectural and construction companies in New York, Alabama, Delaware and Michigan.

He is generally familiar, the Secretary said, with construction methods in different countries, particularly in Europe, and has spent considerable time in the Balkan and Danube countries. It was emphasized that he "has no connection, financial or otherwise, with companies operating abroad."

He succeeds Keith Merrill, who some time ago was made executive assistant to the Assistant Secretary of State.

Mrs. Robbins has three children—Robin Delano Robbins, Jr., 24, a daughter of Col. E. M. House, and Mrs. Alexander Cochrane, 22, a daughter of the late Sen. J. C. L. Anderson, of Kentucky. She is unmarried and is now in the diplomatic service in South America.

Girl, 13, Testifies Against Doctor In Assault Case

Bel Air, Md., Aug. 3 (U.P.)—A 13-year-old girl was the chief witness today against a 39-year-old graduate of the University of Vienna, on trial for criminal assault on the girl.

The girl, a student in the seventh grade, was on the witness stand most of the afternoon. She was the first of 80 witnesses called by the State and the defense. The girl testified concerning two attacks she said took place in the doctor's office in Dundalk, Baltimore.

Dr. Armen Greenhut, defendant in the case, conferred closely with his attorneys as the jury to try him was selected. The extreme penalty for the offense with which he is charged is capital punishment in Maryland. The case was brought here on a change of venue.

J. C. L. Anderson, State's attorney of Baltimore County, opened the trial with an outline of his case. Anderson said after the first attack, the girl was sent back to the doctor's office while police and her relatives waited outside. At the prearranged signal, a scream and the rattle of a window shade, Anderson continued, the police rushed in and arrested the physician.

Mother Is Held As Son's Abductor

Charged with abducting her own child, Mrs. Mortie Dixon, of Southeast Washington, was held yesterday for the grand jury by Judge George B. Merrick, at Upper Marlboro, Md. The woman posted $500 bail for appearance before Justice Daniel W. O'Donoghue, of District Supreme Court, awarded custody of the child, 18-month-old Robert Dixon, Jr., to his father on April 12.

The father took the child to his mother's home in Seat Pleasant, Md., where Mrs. Dixon is alleged to have abducted the boy June 26. She spent several months in North Carolina and when she returned last week was arrested on a warrant obtained by the father.

Miss Nickerson Rites At Church Hill, Md.

The funeral of Miss May Nickerson, 60, employ of the Bureau of Internal Revenue who died Sunday at Homeopathic Hospital, took place yesterday at Church Hill, Md., with burial in the family cemetery there.

Miss Nickerson lived in Washington for 25 years and was a member of the American Revolution and the Church of the Epiphany. Surviving are two brothers, B. F. Nickerson, Dover, Del., and Thomas Nickerson, Sudbury, Md.

Drugs Ease Pain As Boy Wedged In Shaft Dies

Doctor's Merciful Needle Used as Rescuers Fail to Free Him.

Continued from Page 1.

While six members of Fire Rescue Squad No. 1 worked to effect his release and a hospital intern administered hypodermics to ease his pain, a 21-year-old colored helper in the Palace Laundry Plant at Ninth and H streets was slowly crushed to death yesterday afternoon between an elevator and the wall of its shaft.

How the worker, James Steadman, 448 H street, wedged himself into the space that was usually 5 inches wide last night remained a mystery to the other workers who saw him start to step into the elevator and to John C. Chevalier, the laundry's general manager.

The elevator was an automatic combination freight and passenger, without doors. It was stalled between first and second floors with Steadman's body wedged between the floor and shaft. Doors of the shaft were closed on both floors.

Work for 30 Minutes.

For more than 30 minutes the rescue squad under Lieut. A. C. Kefauver labored with a 10-ton jack to take the pressure from the worker's body and unfastened bolts and railings in an effort to take the elevator apart. They were assisted by a mechanic from an elevator company, Dr. Everett Gordon, from the Emergency Hospital, administered drugs.

One arm and his head and shoulders were free, but Steadman was unable to talk enough to explain how he became caught in the narrow space. He lived, however, until the pressure was released and then died immediately.

Col. John W. Oehman, building inspector, said last night that his investigation, while still incomplete, led him to believe the fault for the accident lay divided between the attempt to board the elevator while still in motion and an accidental connection of wires.

Believes Button Failed.

Apparently the release of the button failed to break the connection, which somehow continued, he asserted. Consequently the elevator remained in motion.

Harry S. Wenden, attorney for the elevator construction union, and John Proctor, business agent of the organization, last night called to Coroner Magruder MacDonald's attention the need for revision of the elevator code to require double doors on freight lifts. Wenden said the accident made it apparent that all freight elevators should conform to standards required for passenger elevators.

Alfred Knopf, Jr., In Salt Lake City Ready to Go Home

Salt Lake City, Aug. 3 (U.P.)—Tired of the rigors of the road and the life of a transcontinental hitch-hiker, Alfred A. Knopf, Jr., 18-year-old son of the New York publisher, found refuge at the Salt Lake City police headquarters today.

Police of eight Eastern States were hunting him at his family's request and the search had been extended to California in the belief he might have headed for Hollywood. Young Knopf, who quit his job with a Norwood, Mass., publishing company last Tuesday to "make good" on his own, said he was ready to return to his parents.

After trying unsuccessfully for four hours to "hump" a ride to Reno, Knopf got a ride back to Salt Lake City this morning. He wired his mother from a telephone office. When he returned for the answer, police questioned him. He voluntarily returned to headquarters with them.

Famed Reindeer Herd Faced Last Roundup

The Pas, Manitoba, Aug. 3 (U.P.)—Emilie Dionne, third largest of the famous quintuplets, was suffering tonight from a respiratory infection. Her condition was so serious that Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo, the quintuplets' physician, summoned Dr. Allan Brown, Canadian specialist in children's diseases, to Callander for consultation.

Brown, after diagnosing Emilie's illness, examined the staff at the Dafeo nursery, home of the quintuplets, in an effort to discover the source of infection. He concluded that the infection was obtained from an outside source.

Emilie was ordered isolated in a ward apart from her four sisters.

George VI in 1st Flight Since He Became King

London, Aug. 3 (U.P.)—King George flew from Windsor Castle to Southwold, Suffolk, today in the royal family's new red and blue monoplane, his first flight since he became King last December. The 11-mile flight was made in 35 minutes.

See the United States First

SAFE STORAGE FOR HOUSEHOLD GOODS INSURED Protection

UNITED STATES STORAGE COMPANY 1110 10th St. NEtropolitan (843) (Opposite Gas Office)

Combat Early Curing of GOUT with GARLIC Tablets

NERVOUSNESS DIZZY SPELLS BLOOD CIRCULATION NORMALIZED

Thousands report remarkable results taking D. Gosewisch's Garlic Tablets. In this pleasant and effective form supplies all the essential minerals for proper bodily function. It purifies the blood stream of toxins and normalizes blood circulation. Nerves get steadier—eyes brighten—new energy is quickly replenished. Learn to keep cool and fit with garlic by eating less and have abundant vitality.

D. Gosewisch's Genuine Garlic Tablets, chewed or swallowed, have no tell-tale of garlic odor or taste. They are tasty, convenient, sociable! Pockets size 72 tablets (12 days supply), 87¢. Large size 225 tablets (3 weeks supply), 89¢. A 20% saving coupon in each box.

Liggett Drug Stores

NEW YORK'S GLAMOROUS HOTEL

Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra play for dinner and supper dancing high on the Pennsylvania Roof where bracing breezes bathe you with coolness. In visually every public room a modern air-conditioning system keeps the temperature comfortably refreshing. Good reasons for enjoying the good old summertime at this convenient, glamorous hotel!

2200 ROOMS each with private bath. Rates as low as $13.50

HOTEL PENNSYLVANIA 1400 PENNSYLVANIA STATION N.Y.

It's the "Cool" Old SUMMERTIME!

FREE! $2.00 IN GROCERIES

With each purchase of an Electric Roaster from a member of The Electric Institute you receive a $2.00 certificate exchangeable in trade at any SANITARY OR PICNIC WIGGOLD STORE in Washington. This offer is for a limited time only!

PURCHASE YOUR ROASTER FROM AN ELECTRIC INSTITUTE MEMBER

ROAST meats and fowl BAKE pies, cake and bread STEAM shrimp, crabs, vegetables STEW soups, meals and vegetables FRY chicken, chops and crabs PRESERVE jams and do general canning

ROAST meats and fowl BAKE pies, cake and bread STEAM shrimp, crabs, vegetables STEW soups, meals and vegetables FRY chicken, chops and crabs PRESERVE jams and do general canning

ROAST meats and fowl BAKE pies, cake and bread STEAM shrimp, crabs, vegetables STEW soups, meals and vegetables FRY chicken, chops and crabs PRESERVE jams and do general canning

ROAST meats and fowl BAKE pies, cake and bread STEAM shrimp, crabs, vegetables STEW soups, meals and vegetables FRY chicken, chops and crabs PRESERVE jams and do general canning

Killed by Auto

Boy, 4, Capital's 64th Auto Victim

Continued from Page 1.

A 4-year-old child, Richard Levy, was injured fatally yesterday afternoon when he was struck by an automobile in front of his home at 2929 Twenty-eighth street northwest. He was the sixty-fourth traffic victim of the year.

The boy died in Emergency Hospital a short time after the accident. He was taken to the hospital by Robert J. Saunders who, police say, was the driver of the car which struck the boy as he ran into the street from between two parked automobiles.

The boy's twin sister, Joan, was looking on when the accident occurred. The children's father is S. Frank Levy, an accountant.

Saunders, who is 28 years old and lives at Broad Branch and Grant roads northwest, was held at the Eighth Precinct Station for a coroner's inquest today.

Man Waiting Chair Eats After Week On Hunger Strike

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Aug. 3 (U.P.)—Poker-faced Mike Fugmann, colliery worker and once a German artilleryman who awaits execution for killing three persons, ate today—the first time since he went on a "hunger strike" a week ago.

A German preacher, one of the few visitors Fugmann has seen since he was sentenced almost a year ago, persuaded him after they talked an hour.

Fugmann has been sullen for months. He has spent his time hunched over a small table writing the story of his life, his experiences in the World War and his version of the 1935 bomb slaying for which he was sentenced to die, on a date not yet set. He hopes to sell his book and spend the money in further efforts to escape the electric chair.

FHA Will Try to Regain Newport News Project

By the Associated Press.

The Federal Housing Administration said yesterday that its experts were studying means of retrieving its interest in the Shantown housing project near Newport News, Va., with a view to reconducting and renting the property.

The property, on which mortgages were underwritten by the FHA, was recently condemned as a "public nuisance" by the circuit court, and ordered sold at auction. It was bought in by the Reconstruction Finance Mortgage Corporation.

Do You Need Glasses?

Find out!

Of all the people examined at the M. A. Leese Co., 80% of them have been found seriously in need of glasses. Are you one of the 20% who do not need glasses? You may be, but it would certainly pay you to find out definitely. An eye examination will settle this question for you, and if the need for glasses is shown, those that wear them will find the most good will be prescribed.

M. A. Leese Optical Co. 614 9th St. N.W.

You Should own an ELECTRIC ROASTER

It will ROAST meats and fowl BAKE pies, cake and bread STEAM shrimp, crabs, vegetables STEW soups, meals and vegetables FRY chicken, chops and crabs PRESERVE jams and do general canning

PURCHASE YOUR ROASTER FROM AN ELECTRIC INSTITUTE MEMBER

ROAST meats and fowl BAKE pies, cake and bread STEAM shrimp, crabs, vegetables STEW soups, meals and vegetables FRY chicken, chops and crabs PRESERVE jams and do general canning

ROAST meats and fowl BAKE pies, cake and bread STEAM shrimp, crabs, vegetables STEW soups, meals and vegetables FRY chicken, chops and crabs PRESERVE jams and do general canning

Eidsness, Noted Philatelist, Dies In River Plunge

Leaves Suicide Notes; Harbor Police Recover Body.

After dragging the Potomac River for more than eight hours, the harbor police yesterday recovered the body of Michael L. Eidsness, Jr., 44, former superintendent of the Postoffice Department Division of Stamps, who apparently leaped to his death from the Memorial Bridge.

His brother early yesterday received a special delivery letter in which Eidsness indicated he planned to kill himself. A short time later a coat with another note pinned to it was found on the bridge.

Lars Eidsness, the brother of 2214 Newton street northeast, identified the coat as belonging to Michael. Harbor police, who were dragging near the Highway Bridge for the body of a youth believed to have leaped into the water Monday, shifted their grapple to the Memorial span.

Blames Ill Health.
John Kern, 5510 Blair road northeast, a National Capital Park employee, discovered the coat. The note addressed to Coroner A. Magruder MacDonald, or a deputy was turned over to police. The note said:

"To whom it may concern: I am ill and despondent. This act of mine is motivated by no other reason. My family, especially my brother, is aware of my struggle for health since my streptococcal infections of 1927 and 1931. Active all my life, I cannot carry on with the handicap of continued ill health and suffering. I prefer death to limited activity and possible future invalidism."

Please notify my brother, Lars M. Eidsness, 2214 Newton street northeast.

"I have made provisions for the future welfare of my family. Any outstanding indebtedness I may have will be paid by my son in accordance with instructions and funds I am leaving for that purpose."

Eidsness, who founded the Postoffice Department's philatelic agency in 1922, had been in ill health for many years. He resigned from the postoffice in 1935.

Victim Educated Here.
Born in Graettinger, Iowa, March 31, 1893, Eidsness came to Washington with his parents as a child. He attended public schools and worked himself up through the grades in the Postoffice to superintendent of the Division of Stamps.

Since his retirement, he has contributed to many stamp magazines and was the author of the foreword for the catalogue of the International Philatelic Exhibition in 1936.

Eidsness, who lived at the Dupont Circle Apartments, is survived by his widow, two sons, Frederick and James; his father, his brother and four sisters.

Meanwhile, police continued to drag for the body of Charles Bord, 18, 3100 Connecticut avenue northwest, who has been missing from his home several days.

A note found on the Highway Bridge Monday evening said the youth jumped off the bridge.

Ned Bord, a real estate salesman, said his brother had come here recently from Portsmouth, Va.

Lloyd B. Harrison To Succeed Folsom

Lloyd B. Harrison, attorney for the Internal Revenue Bureau, was named by the Commissioners yesterday to succeed Himman D. Folsom as special assistant corporation counsel in charge of public utility matter.

Folsom resigned as legal adviser to the Public Utilities Commission to enter private practice. Harrison, who lives at 6249 Thirtieth street northwest, will assume his new duties September 15.

A native of Greenwood, S. C., Harrison came here in 1925 as an attorney with the Interstate Commerce Commission. He has been with the Internal Revenue Bureau since 1933.

He graduated from the University of North Carolina and served two years as a police court judge in Greenwood. He also served three terms in the State General Assembly.

A Government Horticulturalist's Hobby—Orchids in Flasks

It requires patience to raise orchids and that, according to David Lumsden, Department of Agriculture horticulturalist, is why there are only about 20 orchid fanciers in the country. Baby orchids grow in glass flasks something like test tubes (left), to keep the snails away.

Orchid Growers Wait Years For Blooms, Says D. C. Fancier

David Lumsden, Agriculture Department Expert, Describes Patience of Collectors, Intricacies of Cross-Breeding Specimens.

Orchid growing is not only one of the most expensive hobbies; it also requires more patience than stamp-collecting, knitting and raising puppies combined.

In the opinion of David Lumsden, Department of Agriculture horticulturalist and owner of one of the world's most extensive private collections of orchids, the patience element explains why only 20 people in this country have become orchid fanciers.

Lumsden has been interested in orchids since his childhood in England, where his father before him collected the plants. He attributes his continued love for them to the satisfaction which he derives from watching things grow.

As it takes 6 years for an ordinary orchid to develop from a seed into a flower and 18 years for the type that fanciers get excited about, it is obvious a collector has to be pretty fond of watching things grow.

Planted in Flasks.
The seedlings are planted in little glass flasks. If they were not protected in this way, Lumsden explained, any snail with a moderate appetite could make away with thousands of dollars worth of embryonic orchids at one nibble. A constant temperature of about 70 degrees is maintained in the flasks.

For months the fancier is rewarded with nothing more exotic than a fuzzy hair-like growth. Gradually roots develop, and after about a year the seedlings are transferred to small pots. When the bloom finally appears, it lasts for only a few weeks, but the collector has the satisfaction of knowing the plant will blossom every succeeding year for an indefinite period.

Orchids are a little like horses, according to Lumsden. A breeder knows the offspring of a thoroughbred sire and dam will be equally thoroughbred. A baby orchid developed from pedigreed plants also can be counted on to live up to its parentage.

Follow Mendel's Law.
If the parent plants are of different genera, their offspring becomes even more valuable. The orchid is the only known plant of which genera can be cross-bred in this manner. Little orchids can be bigeneric, trigeneric (if one of its parents also was bigeneric) and multi-generic. The more hybrid it gets, the rarer and more valuable it becomes.

This cross-breeding process, one gathers from talking to Lumsden, is the chief preoccupation of the fancier. There is nothing experimental about it because the plants conform perfectly to Mendel's laws of heredity. In other words, of a given number of offspring, a third will resemble the mother-plant, one-third the father and one-third will combine the characteristics.

Employe Rally To Discuss Pay Fixing in D. C.

Women Store Workers to Hear Explanation of Minimum Law.

Plans for fixing pay scales under the District's minimum wage law will be discussed before a mass meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the Labor Department by speakers representing retail store employees.

Wage board chairman and principal speaker will be Mrs. William Kittle, who will tell the gathering of the rights of women under the minimum wage act.

The board's rulings will affect more than 20,000 women employed in various stores here, and all of them yesterday were invited to attend tonight's mass meeting. Delegates and audience were expected to jam the 2,000-capacity auditorium.

At a meeting to be held a week from tonight, retail employees will nominate nine candidates who will represent them at public hearings. Employers will nominate nine others. The board will name nine more to speak for the public, making the number 27 in all.

Three persons later will be elected by the board from each group. Actual hearings will begin within a few weeks.

When it has disposed of retail classification, the board will hold similar hearings for all other large industries here employing women.

Los Angeles, Aug. 3 (AP).—Roy G. Ward, 38-year-old jockey, who told police he aided in the gangster murder of Alfred (Jake) Lingle, Chicago newspaper reporter, "apparently is mistaken," police said today.

Chicago authorities notified Los Angeles police Ward, alias E. R. Brady, alias Frankie Fisher, is not wanted there, is not known there, and never had committed any murders there.

Confession to Chicago Murder Termed False

Los Angeles, Aug. 3 (AP).—Roy G. Ward, 38-year-old jockey, who told police he aided in the gangster murder of Alfred (Jake) Lingle, Chicago newspaper reporter, "apparently is mistaken," police said today.

Chicago authorities notified Los Angeles police Ward, alias E. R. Brady, alias Frankie Fisher, is not wanted there, is not known there, and never had committed any murders there.

Chicago authorities notified Los Angeles police Ward, alias E. R. Brady, alias Frankie Fisher, is not wanted there, is not known there, and never had committed any murders there.

Chicago authorities notified Los Angeles police Ward, alias E. R. Brady, alias Frankie Fisher, is not wanted there, is not known there, and never had committed any murders there.

Trousered Woman Causes Sensation At British Regatta

Cowes, England, Aug. 3 (AP).—Eyebrows were lifted at the royal yacht squadron's regatta today when a woman wearing bright blue linen trousers strolled across the exclusive club lawn.

Something of a social sensation occurred as distinguished spectators, among whom was Queen Victoria's daughter, Princess Beatrice, stared aghast at the woman's unconventional attire.

The trousered woman, the Viscountess Hinchinbrooke, seemed unaware of the attention she was arousing, calmly taking her tea, although an agitated doorkeeper approached her.

Unwritten laws regarding women's dress are most rigid at Cowes. None ever had dared appear in trousers before on the squadron's grounds. There was one case of a woman appearing without stockings—she beat a hasty retreat before the astonished stares.

Unwritten laws regarding women's dress are most rigid at Cowes. None ever had dared appear in trousers before on the squadron's grounds. There was one case of a woman appearing without stockings—she beat a hasty retreat before the astonished stares.

Unwritten laws regarding women's dress are most rigid at Cowes. None ever had dared appear in trousers before on the squadron's grounds. There was one case of a woman appearing without stockings—she beat a hasty retreat before the astonished stares.

Unwritten laws regarding women's dress are most rigid at Cowes. None ever had dared appear in trousers before on the squadron's grounds. There was one case of a woman appearing without stockings—she beat a hasty retreat before the astonished stares.

Unwritten laws regarding women's dress are most rigid at Cowes. None ever had dared appear in trousers before on the squadron's grounds. There was one case of a woman appearing without stockings—she beat a hasty retreat before the astonished stares.

Unwritten laws regarding women's dress are most rigid at Cowes. None ever had dared appear in trousers before on the squadron's grounds. There was one case of a woman appearing without stockings—she beat a hasty retreat before the astonished stares.

Unwritten laws regarding women's dress are most rigid at Cowes. None ever had dared appear in trousers before on the squadron's grounds. There was one case of a woman appearing without stockings—she beat a hasty retreat before the astonished stares.

Unwritten laws regarding women's dress are most rigid at Cowes. None ever had dared appear in trousers before on the squadron's grounds. There was one case of a woman appearing without stockings—she beat a hasty retreat before the astonished stares.

Unwritten laws regarding women's dress are most rigid at Cowes. None ever had dared appear in trousers before on the squadron's grounds. There was one case of a woman appearing without stockings—she beat a hasty retreat before the astonished stares.

Unwritten laws regarding women's dress are most rigid at Cowes. None ever had dared appear in trousers before on the squadron's grounds. There was one case of a woman appearing without stockings—she beat a hasty retreat before the astonished stares.

Unwritten laws regarding women's dress are most rigid at Cowes. None ever had dared appear in trousers before on the squadron's grounds. There was one case of a woman appearing without stockings—she beat a hasty retreat before the astonished stares.

Unwritten laws regarding women's dress are most rigid at Cowes. None ever had dared appear in trousers before on the squadron's grounds. There was one case of a woman appearing without stockings—she beat a hasty retreat before the astonished stares.

Unwritten laws regarding women's dress are most rigid at Cowes. None ever had dared appear in trousers before on the squadron's grounds. There was one case of a woman appearing without stockings—she beat a hasty retreat before the astonished stares.

Unwritten laws regarding women's dress are most rigid at Cowes. None ever had dared appear in trousers before on the squadron's grounds. There was one case of a woman appearing without stockings—she beat a hasty retreat before the astonished stares.

Unwritten laws regarding women's dress are most rigid at Cowes. None ever had dared appear in trousers before on the squadron's grounds. There was one case of a woman appearing without stockings—she beat a hasty retreat before the astonished stares.

Unwritten laws regarding women's dress are most rigid at Cowes. None ever had dared appear in trousers before on the squadron's grounds. There was one case of a woman appearing without stockings—she beat a hasty retreat before the astonished stares.

Unwritten laws regarding women's dress are most rigid at Cowes. None ever had dared appear in trousers before on the squadron's grounds. There was one case of a woman appearing without stockings—she beat a hasty retreat before the astonished stares.

Gravelly Point Airport Asked Claim Issue in In House Bill

Smith Seeks U. S. Funds; Improvement Measure Is Reported.

Support for the Smith measure was indicated last night by Chairman Clarence Miller, of the aviation committee of the Board of Trade. He said his organization has always advocated the development of a commercial terminal at the Gravelly Point site. Until recently, he pointed out, the Board of Trade had favored the expenditure of District funds for the purpose. He declared that the unsettled state of the city's finances had caused the board to go on record in opposition to the expenditure of District money on an airport at this time.

The measure provides that the landing field would be reserved entirely for the use of the public, and would not be leased either for public or private purposes. It would be available as a landing field for aircraft of organized passenger or freight lines.

The bill reported by the House Military Affairs Committee would permit the War Department to lease Military road to Washington Airport for 25 years for $25,000.

The dispute between union painters and the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department will be aired at a hearing this morning at 10 o'clock at the Labor Department.

Presiding at the hearing will be Carl Schedler, Labor Department attorney. Expected to appear in behalf of the painters is Representative Jenekes, of Indiana.

Meanwhile, it was learned that 300 plasterers, of the United Building Trades Federation, which seeks C. I. O. affiliation, walked out on residential building jobs in an effort to obtain a pay increase from $1.00 to $1.25 an hour.

Importance of this strike was discounted yesterday by John Locher, executive secretary of the Washington Building Trades Council, affiliated with the A. F. of L., who said the U. B. T. F.'s membership included a small percentage of the plasterers here.

Union painters today will protest the Procurement Division classifying and paying as laborers men working as painters on the City Postoffice Building.

Representatives of Connes & Raptis, Brooklyn, N. Y., contracting firm to which the postoffice work was let, are expected to be present at the hearing.

The dispute brought about a two-week strike which ended last week when the Labor Department agreed to hold hearings.

Representatives of Connes & Raptis, Brooklyn, N. Y., contracting firm to which the postoffice work was let, are expected to be present at the hearing.

The dispute brought about a two-week strike which ended last week when the Labor Department agreed to hold hearings.

Representatives of Connes & Raptis, Brooklyn, N. Y., contracting firm to which the postoffice work was let, are expected to be present at the hearing.

The dispute brought about a two-week strike which ended last week when the Labor Department agreed to hold hearings.

Representatives of Connes & Raptis, Brooklyn, N. Y., contracting firm to which the postoffice work was let, are expected to be present at the hearing.

The dispute brought about a two-week strike which ended last week when the Labor Department agreed to hold hearings.

Representatives of Connes & Raptis, Brooklyn, N. Y., contracting firm to which the postoffice work was let, are expected to be present at the hearing.

The dispute brought about a two-week strike which ended last week when the Labor Department agreed to hold hearings.

Representatives of Connes & Raptis, Brooklyn, N. Y., contracting firm to which the postoffice work was let, are expected to be present at the hearing.

The dispute brought about a two-week strike which ended last week when the Labor Department agreed to hold hearings.

Representatives of Connes & Raptis, Brooklyn, N. Y., contracting firm to which the postoffice work was let, are expected to be present at the hearing.

The dispute brought about a two-week strike which ended last week when the Labor Department agreed to hold hearings.

Representatives of Connes & Raptis, Brooklyn, N. Y., contracting firm to which the postoffice work was let, are expected to be present at the hearing.

The dispute brought about a two-week strike which ended last week when the Labor Department agreed to hold hearings.

Painters' Wage Claim Issue in Hearing Today

Representative Jenekes Expected to Plead for Union Here.

Support for the Smith measure was indicated last night by Chairman Clarence Miller, of the aviation committee of the Board of Trade. He said his organization has always advocated the development of a commercial terminal at the Gravelly Point site. Until recently, he pointed out, the Board of Trade had favored the expenditure of District funds for the purpose. He declared that the unsettled state of the city's finances had caused the board to go on record in opposition to the expenditure of District money on an airport at this time.

The measure provides that the landing field would be reserved entirely for the use of the public, and would not be leased either for public or private purposes. It would be available as a landing field for aircraft of organized passenger or freight lines.

The bill reported by the House Military Affairs Committee would permit the War Department to lease Military road to Washington Airport for 25 years for $25,000.

The dispute between union painters and the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department will be aired at a hearing this morning at 10 o'clock at the Labor Department.

Presiding at the hearing will be Carl Schedler, Labor Department attorney. Expected to appear in behalf of the painters is Representative Jenekes, of Indiana.

Meanwhile, it was learned that 300 plasterers, of the United Building Trades Federation, which seeks C. I. O. affiliation, walked out on residential building jobs in an effort to obtain a pay increase from $1.00 to $1.25 an hour.

Importance of this strike was discounted yesterday by John Locher, executive secretary of the Washington Building Trades Council, affiliated with the A. F. of L., who said the U. B. T. F.'s membership included a small percentage of the plasterers here.

Union painters today will protest the Procurement Division classifying and paying as laborers men working as painters on the City Postoffice Building.

Representatives of Connes & Raptis, Brooklyn, N. Y., contracting firm to which the postoffice work was let, are expected to be present at the hearing.

The dispute brought about a two-week strike which ended last week when the Labor Department agreed to hold hearings.

Representatives of Connes & Raptis, Brooklyn, N. Y., contracting firm to which the postoffice work was let, are expected to be present at the hearing.

The dispute brought about a two-week strike which ended last week when the Labor Department agreed to hold hearings.

Representatives of Connes & Raptis, Brooklyn, N. Y., contracting firm to which the postoffice work was let, are expected to be present at the hearing.

The dispute brought about a two-week strike which ended last week when the Labor Department agreed to hold hearings.

Representatives of Connes & Raptis, Brooklyn, N. Y., contracting firm to which the postoffice work was let, are expected to be present at the hearing.

The dispute brought about a two-week strike which ended last week when the Labor Department agreed to hold hearings.

Representatives of Connes & Raptis, Brooklyn, N. Y., contracting firm to which the postoffice work was let, are expected to be present at the hearing.

The dispute brought about a two-week strike which ended last week when the Labor Department agreed to hold hearings.

Representatives of Connes & Raptis, Brooklyn, N. Y., contracting firm to which the postoffice work was let, are expected to be present at the hearing.

The dispute brought about a two-week strike which ended last week when the Labor Department agreed to hold hearings.

Representatives of Connes & Raptis, Brooklyn, N. Y., contracting firm to which the postoffice work was let, are expected to be present at the hearing.

The dispute brought about a two-week strike which ended last week when the Labor Department agreed to hold hearings.

Representatives of Connes & Raptis, Brooklyn, N. Y., contracting firm to which the postoffice work was let, are expected to be present at the hearing.

The dispute brought about a two-week strike which ended last week when the Labor Department agreed to hold hearings.

Child Badly Burned.
Dolores Brown, colored, 4, was badly burned yesterday when her clothes caught fire while she was playing with matches at the home of her aunt, Mary Johnson, 905 N street northwest. Children's Hospital doctors said her condition was critical. She had been visiting her aunt from her home in Baltimore.

RESORTS

Hill Top House
HARRIS FERRY, W. VA.
NOW OPEN FREE BRIDGE
60 Miles From Washington by Frederick or Leesburg
Excellent Food—Desirable Rooms
Where Three States and Two Rivers Meet
N. J. OROGAN, Manager

Macanie, Va.
For dining, wash-up, vacationing
Sky Chalet
Highest mountain resort on Orkney border
14th St. 20 large, cool, modern. De luxe country meals. Dinner $1.00. Vacation rates—American plan—$3.00 per day, $15.00 weekly up. Sports and amusements free. Address: SKY CHALET, MACANIE, VA. Mrs. Chr. Huff, Mrs. J. Heimann, Owners.

Virginia Beach, Va.
BURTONIA COTTAGE, Virginia Beach, 14th St. 20 large, cool rooms, all with running water, spring mattresses. Delicious meals. $17.50 up.
Ocean City, Md.
MAJESTIC HOTEL
Free Parking and Bathing
One Wdr., $2.10 and up Daily
C. F. Fisher, Manager
Ocean City, N. J.
HOTEL LINCOLN Ocean City's most distinctive, family resort hotel. 110 rooms, elevator, golf, tennis, beach. L. S. ZELLY, Manager. Wash. Phone National 1905.
BISCAYNE HOTEL Elizabeth Blending Am. Plan; elevators, bath, bath, bath.

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
10th 1st & G STREETS Phone District 5300

Nights Grow Cooler
... when you wear gowns as sheer as these festively printed silk ones. From a group delightfully feminine in its soft details and colors. Sizes 32 to 40. $2.95

SILK UNDERWEAR, THIRD FLOOR

WOODWARD & LOTHROP
THE MEN'S STORE—SECOND FLOOR

SWIMMING Free-Style
When looking for waterwear made for free and easy swimming—look first in The Men's Store of Woodward & Lothrop. For here our one idea is to give the men of Washington the newest in fashion ideas and the smartest merchandise within a price range to please everyone. For instance:

Jantzen Top and Trunks	$5.95, $6.95
Jantzen Trunks from	$3.95
Top	$2.75
Jantzen one-piece suits. Open or conservative cut	$4.50
Wikie Trunks	$3.95, $5
Wikie Top	$2

WOODWARD & LOTHROP

Featuring PERSIAN LAMB in the Advance Selling FURS

For, quoting Vogue, "Black Persian lamb holds its own in the top ranks"—for supple Persian is notable in that group of "contemporary furs that fall so docilely into cloth coat lines."

And "August," continues Vogue, "is when you get the newest, smartest designs in furs, the most leisurely, painstaking workmanship." And, in further admonition, "Go to a store that will feel responsible for its furs after you buy them—with all the best facilities for storing, remodeling, and repairing."

All of which means Woodward & Lothrop—where in air-conditioned comfort, you can select your smart Persian lamb coat at Advance Selling savings.

$198 to $758

Storage Till November 15th Without Additional Charge.
FURS, THIRD FLOOR

Former Chief Assails Forest Service Shift

Fears Unit's Abolition by Plan to Reorganize U. S. Departments.

By the Associated Press.
W. B. Greeley, former Forest Service chief, urged a Senate committee to withhold authority for the President to transfer the service from the Department of Agriculture.

Greeley testified the Administration's Government reorganization bill would give the President power to shift the service, abolish it or dismember it.

Now secretary of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, Greeley headed the Government's forestry work from 1920 to 1922.

He told the Senate Committee on Reorganization he feared the service would be transferred partly because of a proposal in the reorganization bill to "rechristen" the Department of Interior as the Department of Conservation.

An official of the Interior Department, he added, had testified at a recent House hearing the transfer of the service to the Interior Department would "further" the President's reorganization plans.

Greeley said "the most destructive provision" of the bill was a section to give the President power to appoint the heads of all "policy-determining" agencies.

This, he contended, would "take the heart out of the technical and professional services of the Government" by "doing away with promotion through Civil Service to more responsible positions."

Committee Chairman Byrnes (Democrat), of South Carolina, and Senate Majority Leader Barkley protested that unless the President could change key positions by appointment, they might get "out of step" with policies.

H. H. Chapman, professor of forestry at Yale University and president of the Society of American Foresters, also opposed giving the President power to transfer the forest service.

Senator O'Mahoney (Democrat), of Wyoming, said he had watched a controversy between the Interior and Agriculture Departments over forest jurisdiction for many years and he believed the "only reason for the dispute was 'small inter-departmental jealousy against the public interest'."

N. C. Tobacco Growers To Vote on U. S. Service

By the Associated Press.
The Agriculture Department announced yesterday tobacco growers using the Wendell, N. C., market would vote this month upon establishment of a Federal tobacco inspection service.

The Bureau of Agriculture said growers, warehousemen and other business interests at Wendell had asked the referendum under terms of the tobacco inspection act.

Louis Bogran Dies

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Aug. 3 (P).—Luis Bogran, 54, former Honduras minister to Washington and son of former President Luis Bogran, died today.

Grin and Bear It

"—and he has just oodles of money. I like that in a man!"

Your ticket to Chief Wahoo's hilarious night club is simply a turn of the pages to The Post's all-star comic page.

What's Going On And Where

Luncheon.

Lions Club, Mayflower Hotel, 12:30 p. m.

Gyro Club, Lafayette Hotel, 12:30 p. m.

Alexander H. Bell, Hotel Hamilton, 12:30 p. m.

Rotary Club, Willard Hotel, 12:30 p. m.

Soroptimist Club, Willard Hotel, 1 p. m.

Meetings.

Dancing Masters of America, Mayflower Hotel, 10 a. m.

National Bituminous Coal Commission, Mayflower, 9:30 a. m.

Texas Company, Hotel Hamilton, 9 a. m.

Mr. Meanion, Hotel Hamilton, 12:30 p. m.

Oldsmobile division—General Motors Inc., Hotel Hamilton, 8 p. m.

Ladies auxiliary—Photo Engravers Union, Hotel Hamilton, 8 p. m.

Citizens Associations.

Association Oldest Inhabitants, Old Union Engine House, Nineteenth and H streets northwest, 7:30 p. m.

Vatican Moves Bishop of Utah to Rochester

The Most Rev. James E. Kearney, Bishop of Salt Lake City, Utah, since 1932, has been transferred to the diocese of Rochester, according to word received yesterday from Vatican City by the National Catholic Welfare Conference here. Bishop Kearney studied at the Catholic University of America following his ordination in 1908.

As Bishop of Rochester he will succeed the Most Rev. Edward Mooney, who was installed yesterday as first archbishop of the new archdiocese of Detroit.

By Lichty

Deficit for Month Set at 249 Million

By the Associated Press.

The Treasury rounded out the first month of this fiscal year with a $249,384,405 deficit, compared with a $123,221,873 excess of expenditures in the same period last year.

The Treasury's summary for July 31 showed yesterday the wider gap between income and spending this year was due to a falling off in repayments to lending agencies and greater expenditures for ordinary government operations. Receipts aggregated $409,160,636. On July 31, the Treasury reported the national debt reached a new peak of $36,715,693,702.

Lightning Kills Virginia Farmer

Danville, Va., Aug. 3 (P).—One man was killed by lightning and another burned during a severe hail and rainstorm yesterday which damaged tobacco crops in a 10-mile stretch between Ringgold and Ingram in Pittsylvania County.

Jack E. Heymore, 21, farmer, was instantly killed and Herbert Shelton was badly burned when lightning struck a wagon under which they had crawled to escape the rain.

Lightning also struck a home here, stunning three persons. Several Pittsylvania farmers reported their tobacco crops were a total loss.

South's bid of four hearts is mildly ambitious, but not over-optimistic. His partner's free raise assures him of substantial values which should provide some play for the game.

West opens the King of spades and, just as in the case of the trump hands presented earlier in the week, South should beware of winning the first trick.

A count of the losers reveals the fact that one diamond and one trump

Contract Bridge

By Mrs. Ely Culbertson.

The hold-up play is so common and so useful at notrump that few players realize that it can be used to great advantage at a trump contract. Its main purpose at notrump is to prevent the establishment, or cashing, or a long suit. At trump contracts, the purpose of the hold-up is generally to save one trick rather than a whole suit. The value of this all-important play at trump contracts is shown in today's hand.

South dealer.

East-West vulnerable.

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9 10 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

♠ 5 7 8 9

Fair Enough

By
Westbrook Pegler

Civic Morality.

AS ONE WHO desires to live in a state of grace, I wish someone in the administration would straighten me out on some matters of doubt. Mr. Roosevelt spoke quite sharply about the civic morals of certain prominent citizens a short time back, and I wonder if we are supposed to look to the White House and the government for our example, because, to be quite frank, that example has seemed rather gummy in some instances.

To go back to spell, there was the case of the souvenir postage stamps that Mr. Farley gave Mr. Roosevelt in the honeymoon days of the first term. Mr. Farley said he wasn't aware that these stamps possessed any extraordinary value, and he may be believed.

However, philatelists estimated the value of these gifts as high as $100,000, and Mr. Roosevelt himself is a stamp collector who does know the difference between a rarity and an ordinary three-cent stamp with shirred edges. These sheets were a personal gift, and became his personal property, and the fact that a wrong had been done in the giving and accepting was acknowledged when the Postoffice Department, to quiet the clamor of the eight million stamp nuts scattered about the country, duplicated the sheets and made them available to one and all at their ordinary face value.

THESE ARE THE facts of that case. And how do you like these for civic morals, remembering that Mr. Roosevelt has a stamp collection and knew the value of his souvenirs, though Farley didn't?

Then we have the indictments of the Huey Long gang on income tax charges prepared by the Treasury Department at a time when Huey was causing great inconvenience to the Treasury by his refusal to pay the tax. The indictments were issued by the administration, and shortly after all those defendants who had not already been tried or had not compromised criminal charges with cash settlements were absolved of unlawful intent in a little statement observing that there had been a change of atmosphere in Louisiana.

Among the patriots thus whitened was Mr. Seymour Weiss, Huey's collector and treasurer, who went fishing with Mr. Farley last winter and subsequently lent his presence to a social occasion in Mr. Roosevelt's honor in New Orleans. Mr. Weiss fought the party he was indicted for a prison offense, but when he made peace he was exonerated. And how do you like those for civic morals, remembering that the fight was not only a party row but a personal matter between Huey and the President?

Then we have Mr. Roosevelt's son Elliott, working for William Randolph Hearst in the radio department of that versatile magnate's varied activities. Radio is a peculiar trade which is beholden to a federal commission for operating licenses, and a son of the President can hardly be expected to get much of the worst of it in case of controversy. Distinctly I do not charge or insinuate that Elliott Roosevelt has made illegal use of his relationship, but here is the son of a President who criticizes other men's morals working for an interest which can gain or suffer according to the disposition of a political commission. And how do you like those for civic morals?

NEXT WE HAVE the recent outburst of moral indignation against numerous private citizens who, by the Treasury Department's own admission, had complied with the income tax laws but had opposed Mr. Roosevelt's Supreme Court plan, or, like Huey Long, had given him political trouble in other matters. How do you like those for civic morals, in view of the fact that when Congressmen Hans P. Revere and William Randolph Hearst, a Republican, wanted to ask a few questions about the President's own income tax the committee in charge of the witch-burning wouldn't let him open his mouth until he agreed to say nothing about Mr. Roosevelt's return?

According to my dumb, simple concept of civic morals, a President who points the finger at other men individually has no right to incorporate his own personality in his official position, and when challenged on matters involving his civic morals should demand a full disclosure of his own financial affairs and those of all his family.

So now we have old Charlie Mike, the genius of the Democratic Party and a familiar figure around the White House, accepting a job with another radio company which must do business with the political radio commission, and we also have the President signing his autograph on a lot of souvenir programs for sale to suckers at $250 each. What do you think of the civic morality of that, and what do you think of a President so innocent that he signs his name to the souvenir sheets without knowing the purpose for which they were to be used?

Is all this civic morality? Because if so a lot of us will want to readjust our handiwork.

Copyright, 1937, by United Features Syndicate, Inc.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Quandaries During A Yacht Race.

I can't understand the ways of Japan—Her bombings, her threats and her wholesale snatches.

It must be her grommets, her winches and the hang of her binnacles, flukes and hatches.

The curious acts of the world today—The theories wild on which rulers fatten—Those lunatic things that the biggies say—It must be the fault of the balloon batter.

The tactics of Hitler and Stalin, too—Benito's stern looks and those cockeyed speeches—I wonder if possibly they are due To halyards swash on the weather reaches.

The troubles of Spain and her bloody ways—Those horrible stalemates and frightful clinches—Does any one think it's the hawser stays, The 'cut of the gaff or the taffrail winches?

Those New Dealer bills for reforming me—The speeches, the chaos and endless beeping—It might be the compass, the cuppers (lee) Or maybe the keel or the thing calling reefing.

The Yankee's strange ways and the Giant slump—The championship quiz of this Farr, the lighter—Are the bilges in need of a topmast pump Or should somebody fasten the portholes tighter?

Those upsels each day at the famous Spa—The 1 to 3 choices that always weaken—Is the 'gizzenmast anchor to blame, tra la Or has some fellow captaigned the starboard beam?

The strikes, the parades and the constant plots—When every one says the depression's ended—Has something gone wrong with the gallery knots, Is the spinnaker set with the jib's intended?

This heat... This humidity... All this stuff... Oh, why is the weather here so deranging? Do you think it's the slack in the garboard lug, The leech, or the jibs they are always changing?

Hang! Up Goes Another Sky-scraper! Moscow is to have the tallest skyscraper in the world, several stories higher than anything in New York. We shudder to think of the executions this will mean before it is finished.

Copyright, 1937, by Associated Newspapers.

Germany In Spain

Observer Sees Nazis Supporting Franco According To Historical Plan To Distract French; Peninsula's Metals Important.

By S. Miles Bouton.

Special Correspondence of The Post.

WHAT WILL BE the end of the war in Spain? This is a tall order. All that seems reasonably sure is that there is little outlook for a decisive victory of either loyalists or insurgents and that, even if there were, a victory of either side would settle nothing. But an analysis of the history of the last half century covering the relations of the various European powers gives considerable ground for venturing one specific prophecy.

Great Britain and France must not eventually put a stop to the conflict in their own interests. They will act as soon as the British armament—which has evidently sunk to a lower state of efficiency than Germany's—shall have become so strong that the British bulldog can show his teeth with the assurance that neither Germany nor Italy will risk a bite. Italy as an ally of Nazi Germany in a coming war is so highly improbable that it approaches the impossible. But that is another story.

Ignorance of the history of the last half-century's significant happenings accounts for the fact that the real reason for Germany's aid to Franco is still not generally realized. Hitler is merely carrying on the old Pan-German program aimed especially against France, but also against Great Britain. The Nazis program contains almost nothing new. The fight against the church and for a national church with a national German God goes back a century and more. Anti-Semitism is almost nine centuries old in Germany. The "totalitarian state" is Hegelian—and also Marxian. The dream of European hegemony dates at least from 1809, and the Nazis have merely restated Pan-German ideals.

Nazis Differentiated By Blundering Statesmen.

THE ONLY NEW aspect is the stupidity of the Nazi "statesmen," who succeeded, within three months after coming to power, in isolating their country financially, economically, politically and spiritually in the whole civilized world. In today's Germany the old saying that "a statesman is a dead politician" has been amply demonstrated.

Bismarck once referred to the Spanish fly on France's neck. General Bernhardi wrote in 1912 in his book, "Germany and the Next War," which made a marked sensation at that time, that Spain would be "a factor in German politics." Published in 1934, Prof. Hennig complained that "German statesmanship in the prewar period did not rightly understand the importance, realized by Bismarck and Edward VII, of co-operation with the neighbor's neighbor. Otherwise it would not have taken sides against Spain in the Algeiras conference in 1906."

At that conference Italy, although allied since 1883 with Austria-Hungary and Germany, left her two allies utterly isolated. History repeats itself in 1937; it may well repeat itself again.

The Deutsche Zeitung in Spain (German newspaper in Spain), which was established in 1918 by von Bernhardi in Barcelona and was published until last year, wrote in December, 1918:

"Precisely her geographical situation in the west compels Spain to maintain herself against the other powers in the west in order to profit fully from the advantages accruing to her from that geographical position." Then followed a significant sentence: "In the face of a Spain supported by Germany, France would have to be modest."

Germany In Spain Would Affect France.

DOMINATION of Spain by Germany would be a severe blow to France from a military viewpoint. That domination is, of course, impossible without a successful war. Germany's chances of winning the coming conflict grow steadily less. But in the meantime the Nazi government sees an opportunity to put pressure on Great Britain, with both economic and political objectives.

After the World War, German capitalists, notably Krupp, moved to get hold of Spain's mineral resources, especially the high-grade Spanish iron ore. The Krupp concern owns the Basque mining and smelting concern, "Fabrica de Mineros S. A.," allegedly through a deal in 1924 by which it exchanged its patent steel fuse with Vickers for the Spanish undertaking. Krupp also has important holdings in other Spanish mines. On January 22 the "Lancet" wrote: "The Germans deplored the fact that Spain's centers of heavy industry, especially the iron-ore district around Bilbao and the Asturias coal mines, were still under French control."

Two weeks later Gen. Mola began his assault on the Basque Republic with German and Italian troops.

When Lorraine was handed back to France, Germany lost about three-quarters of her iron ore. Her chief dependence for supplies is on Spain and Sweden. But England is taking more and more Swedish ore. Her imports from Sweden were 1,340,000 tons in 1936, and the Round Table for June this year reported that contracts already concluded indicated that such imports would exceed 2,000,000 tons in 1937. Germany, which would like to assure herself of Sweden's entire exportable production in case of war, is disquieted by this English competition. England, on the other hand, would be seriously crippled if Spanish ore were not obtainable.

Hitler Aims To Force Concessions From British.

THE MANNER in which the German press stresses this eventuality indicates the Nazis' political aims and hope—to force Great Britain into making concessions. Der Deutsche Volkswirt, Dr. Hjalmar Schacht's organ, wrote in June: "As a result of the conservative character of English technique, the English iron industry is more restricted in the choice of its ore supplies than the German and Belgian industries." Because of technical difficulties, the periodical went on, it is difficult to replace Spanish with Swedish ore. Hence England had gone to great lengths to maintain ore imports from Spain. And the "Deutsche Bergwerkszeitung" (a mine organ) wrote on June 23 that "how British ore imports from northern Spain will go on after the taking of Bilbao by Franco's national troops" was a problem which must soon be decided.

It appears, however, that Germany's hopes based on the taking of Bilbao have not been fulfilled. For Franco has pledged himself to respect British interests. Nevertheless no definite prophecy as to future developments can be made. If Franco can win only with more German help—and a state seems likely despite his small gains west of Madrid—he possesses, with his control of Spanish iron and coal, means of putting pressure on both Germany and Great Britain.

That, of course, would mean more trouble, but Europe has already reached a stage where more trouble would be equivalent to finding a man $5 for speeding on the highway. Had run away with another man, his daughter been abducted and his son murdered by a burglar.

Need For Metals Seen In Recent Nazi Edicts.

GERMANY'S shortage of metal, despite her heavy imports, is indicated by an appeal to manufacturers, dealers and repairers of basic instruments to use discarded basic strings. "Since it has been established that the smelting industry is able to salvage such material. It has a varying copper content of from 80 to 70 per cent, the rest is steel."

Yet in the face of a shortage of both essential metals and money, the Nazis, condemning their own policy to short rationing of food and other necessities, are turning to short rations of raw materials, continue their campaign to line up eventual allies for their aims of agrarianization of 4,000,000,000 people.

"We have repeatedly analyzed these remarkable deals," wrote the paper, "in which Germany earns tremendous sums. To meet these 'credits' we have to give up our oil and grain. In the end the Germans speculate on the international market and use the foreign currency received for increasing their armaments."

Germany recently offered Manchukuo a commercial credit of 12,000,000 yen, to be amortized in six years. There is more than a reasonable suspicion that the high-grade Spanish iron ore, the Krupp concern owns the Basque mining and smelting concern, "Fabrica de Mineros S. A.," allegedly through a deal in 1924 by which it exchanged its patent steel fuse with Vickers for the Spanish undertaking. Krupp also has important holdings in other Spanish mines. On January 22 the "Lancet" wrote: "The Germans deplored the fact that Spain's centers of heavy industry, especially the iron-ore district around Bilbao and the Asturias coal mines, were still under French control."

Book Ends

By Bett Hooper

Of Matilda and Men.

MITTY, whom Zona Gale was pleased to call "Light Woman" in her recent book by that name, need no longer practice a quixotic silence. Her unashamed counterpart emerges from the pages of Eleanor Green's "Pastoral" and puts this business of living together and liking it on such a high plane that hereafter the chaste heroine is in danger of seeming dull and provincial.

Matilda of "Pastoral" not only has an old-fashioned name in common with Mitty but she shares a mutual ambition for footlights. Their dissimilarity is mostly due to the way in which they have been drawn into the picture by the Misses Green and Gale. Mitty is washed on with broad strokes interspersed with subtle touches of color. Matilda we know only as a woman with heavy yellow hair in braids and a "rare quality of gentleness."

Matilda is by far the most interesting "light woman" to join action's Legion of the Beautiful and Damned since Lady Brett Ashley left a path of champagne corks all over Hemingway's Spain. Brett, it is true, was neurotic but she too might have been as much a woman as Mitty. She and Gale could have got away from it all and put up preserves with the best of them in a respectable valley community. Such is woman's capacity for absorbing and assuming, chameleon-like, the color of her surroundings.

"For women who lived by the sea," says the Green, "a way of life was found. The old lady tipped on a rock, the water foaming about them. Sealing the gulls the woman at their nets would look with careful eyes at one another and searching the far water for sight of the ships, gather their heavy skirts about them."

MATILDA and James Anthony are first seen on a train as it rushes away from crowded streets into the cool seclusion of the countryside. Behind them is the city, wrapt in that half-luminous expectancy which spells spring to tired winter folk. Along the avenue flower boxes were put out—"Spring brought up from the basement." Small fires in wooden loaves were burning in the gutters, and the gutters were still heaped with bedraggled snow. This, in small part, was what James and Matilda were escaping from—the familiar, the inevitable, the knowledge of the seasons in a city. James was sick unto death of talk, politics, theories, and young men were beginning to appear along sidewalks whose gutters were still heaped with bedraggled snow.

This, in small part, was what James and Matilda were escaping from—the familiar, the inevitable, the knowledge of the seasons in a city. James was sick unto death of talk, politics, theories, and young men were beginning to appear along sidewalks whose gutters were still heaped with bedraggled snow. This, in small part, was what James and Matilda were escaping from—the familiar, the inevitable, the knowledge of the seasons in a city. James was sick unto death of talk, politics, theories, and young men were beginning to appear along sidewalks whose gutters were still heaped with bedraggled snow.

Matilda faced only one problem—that of gaining acceptance by the people of the valley. James' worry was twofold—the long bridge the gap between his youth and his manhood until the two were one on which he could tread firmly and be monarch of all he surveyed. At the same time he must act as translator of his memories to Matilda so that she might better speak his language and understand the meaning of his being.

Her style is idyllic yet it possesses a fierce impatience reminiscent of Vincent MacHugh's "Sing Before Breakfast." Entirely objective, it nevertheless rings with the personal poignancy true of all fine poetry. I can think of few passages in any book that I would rather have written than this one in which Miss Green describes James' emotions as he moved through the brittle, frosty air of a December afternoon:

"Through the clear and unmoving air a dog's bark froze to quiet. The smoke-blue wires shivered. No sound of a motor, a telephone wire, a train whistle, betrayed the presence of the world. The substantial memories and the unsubstantial pain of their trick of tragedy had become part of the historic present. History, as people are in the habit of thinking of it, did not exist for James. It seemed to him that it was generally looked upon with the same condescension which Miss Green describes James' emotions as he moved through the brittle, frosty air of a December afternoon:

"Through the clear and unmoving air a dog's bark froze to quiet. The smoke-blue wires shivered. No sound of a motor, a telephone wire, a train whistle, betrayed the presence of the world. The substantial memories and the unsubstantial pain of their trick of tragedy had become part of the historic present. History, as people are in the habit of thinking of it, did not exist for James. It seemed to him that it was generally looked upon with the same condescension which Miss Green describes James' emotions as he moved through the brittle, frosty air of a December afternoon:

"Through the clear and unmoving air a dog's bark froze to quiet. The smoke-blue wires shivered. No sound of a motor, a telephone wire, a train whistle, betrayed the presence of the world. The substantial memories and the unsubstantial pain of their trick of tragedy had become part of the historic present. History, as people are in the habit of thinking of it, did not exist for James. It seemed to him that it was generally looked upon with the same condescension which Miss Green describes James' emotions as he moved through the brittle, frosty air of a December afternoon:

"Through the clear and unmoving air a dog's bark froze to quiet. The smoke-blue wires shivered. No sound of a motor, a telephone wire, a train whistle, betrayed the presence of the world. The substantial memories and the unsubstantial pain of their trick of tragedy had become part of the historic present. History, as people are in the habit of thinking of it, did not exist for James. It seemed to him that it was generally looked upon with the same condescension which Miss Green describes James' emotions as he moved through the brittle, frosty air of a December afternoon:

"Through the clear and unmoving air a dog's bark froze to quiet. The smoke-blue wires shivered. No sound of a motor, a telephone wire, a train whistle, betrayed the presence of the world. The substantial memories and the unsubstantial pain of their trick of tragedy had become part of the historic present. History, as people are in the habit of thinking of it, did not exist for James. It seemed to him that it was generally looked upon with the same condescension which Miss Green describes James' emotions as he moved through the brittle, frosty air of a December afternoon:

"Through the clear and unmoving air a dog's bark froze to quiet. The smoke-blue wires shivered. No sound of a motor, a telephone wire, a train whistle, betrayed the presence of the world. The substantial memories and the unsubstantial pain of their trick of tragedy had become part of the historic present. History, as people are in the habit of thinking of it, did not exist for James. It seemed to him that it was generally looked upon with the same condescension which Miss Green describes James' emotions as he moved through the brittle, frosty air of a December afternoon:

"Through the clear and unmoving air a dog's bark froze to quiet. The smoke-blue wires shivered. No sound of a motor, a telephone wire, a train whistle, betrayed the presence of the world. The substantial memories and the unsubstantial pain of their trick of tragedy had become part of the historic present. History, as people are in the habit of thinking of it, did not exist for James. It seemed to him that it was generally looked upon with the same condescension which Miss Green describes James' emotions as he moved through the brittle, frosty air of a December afternoon:

"Through the clear and unmoving air a dog's bark froze to quiet. The smoke-blue wires shivered. No sound of a motor, a telephone wire, a train whistle, betrayed the presence of the world. The substantial memories and the unsubstantial pain of their trick of tragedy had become part of the historic present. History, as people are in the habit of thinking of it, did not exist for James. It seemed to him that it was generally looked upon with the same condescension which Miss Green describes James' emotions as he moved through the brittle, frosty air of a December afternoon:

"Through the clear and unmoving air a dog's bark froze to quiet. The smoke-blue wires shivered. No sound of a motor, a telephone wire, a train whistle, betrayed the presence of the world. The substantial memories and the unsubstantial pain of their trick of tragedy had become part of the historic present. History, as people are in the habit of thinking of it, did not exist for James. It seemed to him that it was generally looked upon with the same condescension which Miss Green describes James' emotions as he moved through the brittle, frosty air of a December afternoon:

"Through the clear and unmoving air a dog's bark froze to quiet. The smoke-blue wires shivered. No sound of a motor, a telephone wire, a train whistle, betrayed the presence of the world. The substantial memories and the unsubstantial pain of their trick of tragedy had become part of the historic present. History, as people are in the habit of thinking of it, did not exist for James. It seemed to him that it was generally looked upon with the same condescension which Miss Green describes James' emotions as he moved through the brittle, frosty air of a December afternoon:

Tom McCarthy

By
Bett Hooper

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO., Aug. 1.—A lot of drama of the kind that guests are not even conscious of filters into the help's dining room in a big hotel. Waiters, bus boys and kitchen girls know things about the guests which would crack their assured and dignified exteriors.

While I was working in a Colorado Springs hotel, all of the help knew of the presence of a nationally known personage. I don't know if the guest realized that he was in the hotel. No members of his party ever approached the main dining room; and back-stairs gossip held that he was afraid of a kidnapping attempt on one of the members of his family. That he was served TOM MCCARTHY.

In his room was a bonanza to some of the waiters. His weekly tip was $50. Waiters have memories. They can remember a face for a year's time, or even longer. The young lady who used to know waiters scurrying all over the place on special missions and receiving tips for signing the check... and nothing on it. "Tip 5 cents" would have extreme difficulty in receiving anything but cursory service should she return.

On the other hand, the son of one little old lady is going to meet with open arms by the servant staff. It wasn't that the old lady tipped so lavishly, but she always paid full worth for all the service she demanded, threw in an endearing smile, and a warming "Thank you." When the staff learned that her son was soon to be guest of the hotel, they prepared to give him a warm welcome. "If he's anything like his mother," they said, "he'll get the best, and nothing else." He will, too!

THINGS AREN'T what they were in the "old days," the waiters will tell you, but they seldom make less than $35 a week and all expenses. "In the old days," they recall, "we used to finish off a summer's work at a big resort hotel with $500 in our pockets." Times have changed, however, and the old minimum tip of 10 per cent has been thrown into the discard. A guest whose check amounts to $10 or more will be waited on by only one waiter with 25 cents. But, if the waiter isn't sure of the guest's tip, he'll be sure to get it. "If you don't tip, you won't find many waiters going into other pursuits."

In the first place, waiters are extreme individualists. A good waiter can get a job in any large hotel in the country. Many of the waiters at the famed hotels are from the coast... by head waiters and restaurant managers. They are always welcome.

The waiters like that freedom which their profession gives them: to work in any chosen part of the country. At the hotel in which I worked, there were waiters from as far west as California, as far east as New York, and as far south as Florida. When the season is over, they will leave for the four corners of the Nation.

Then, too, they find a gambler's fascination in their work. Every new arrival presents a new problem in psychology. Their problem is simply, "How best to get the most out of the guest, and to induce to part with a heavy tip?"

Lastly, the thing which keeps them in their chosen trade is its peculiar drama, just as real as that of the stage. Skillfully as actors of the stage, they must weave a web of unreality about the diners, anticipating every wish, flattery subtly and building up the subject's ego until he feels like a combination "King for a day" and "Lord Bountiful."

THE MAJORITY of the waiters in the fine hotels, I learned, are predominantly foreign. I was told that, up until a few years ago, an American had small chance of being hired. Only waiters trained in foreign countries were wanted. However, since the business of waiting on table has offered smaller rewards, the immigration of waiters from the capitals of Europe has slowed down, and a few Americans are finding a place in the field.

Dinner in the help's dining room was somewhat in the nature of an international party. We had English spoken with German, Italian, British, Greek, Swiss and Spanish accents. However, regardless of the difficulty in expression, that was the time when hotel guests who had not met the waiters' critical fancy were verbally roasted and served up with the meat course.

The average waiter at a swank hotel knows pretty well what he's talking about when it comes to men and manners. People are his business, and manners his avocation. He dresses well, spares no expense in his style of living, drives a fine car, or, if a less expensive make, he is likely to trade it in for a new one every year or so.

As a group they are more interesting than the average. Among the native-born American waiters was one who was attending an Eastern university during the winter months, though he was a man of at least 35. One of the Italian waiters was saving to return to his native land and pursue his study of music. He wanted to be an opera singer. One of the captains of the waiters held an investment of $250,000 in a New York restaurant.

Cynical, free spending, meticulously mannered and mildly arrogant, his duty, these are the same men who stand behind your chair in the great cities of the Nation, saying obsequiously, "Yes, sir."

IN MY DUTIES as bus boy at the hotel, I found the waiters as temperamental as opera stars, but more thoughtful than the customers. Out of possibly 500 diners whom I served in some manner, I collected three "Thank you's" over a period of several days. The waiters were a good deal more thoughtful than that.

However, I don't think that one of the captains of the corps will ever forgive me my mistake. I was not only in error, I was casting unmistakable reflections upon his ability to speak English.

He sent me out to procure more "tongs" for the buffet. I couldn't quite figure out why he wanted "tongs" to serve cold meats, but I rushed into the kitchen and, after a search, located a pair.

"What do you want?" he asked when I presented him with the tongs.

"You wanted more 'tongs,'" I told him, "here they are."

His eyes rolled back in his head and his round Italian face registered despair.

"I want cold tongs," he shouted. "Tongs like this." And he opened his mouth and pointed to his tongue.

Later, I heard him telling a waiter about it and he said in an almost unbelieving tone, "And is this new boy dumb? I send him for some cold tongs and he brings me back what? A nutcracker!"

See a communication from Mr. James Halliday, of Jefferson, S. Dak., reprinted in the "Letters to the Editor" column on today's Editorial Page, for some experiences Mr. McCarthy had in South Dakota that he did NOT write about.

The Postillon

By Bett Hooper

Bus Boy's Mistake.

THE MAJORITY of the waiters in the fine hotels, I learned, are predominantly foreign. I was told that, up until a few years ago, an American had small chance of being hired. Only waiters trained in foreign countries were wanted. However, since the business of waiting on table has offered smaller rewards, the immigration of waiters from the capitals of Europe has slowed down, and a few Americans are finding a place in the field.

Dinner in the help's dining room was somewhat in the nature of an international party. We had English spoken with German, Italian, British, Greek, Swiss and Spanish accents. However, regardless of the difficulty in expression, that was the time when hotel guests who had not met the waiters' critical fancy were verbally roasted and served up with the meat course.

The average waiter at a swank hotel knows pretty well what he's talking about when it comes to men and manners. People are his business, and manners his avocation. He dresses well, spares no expense in his style of living, drives a fine car, or, if a less expensive make, he is likely to trade it in for a new one every year or so.

As a group they are more interesting than the average. Among the native-born American waiters was one who was attending an Eastern university during the winter months, though he was a man of at least 35. One of the Italian waiters was saving to return to his native land and pursue his study of music. He wanted to be an opera singer. One of the captains of the waiters held an investment of $250,000 in a New York restaurant.

Cynical, free spending, meticulously mannered and mildly arrogant, his duty, these are the same men who stand behind your chair in the great cities of the Nation, saying obsequiously, "Yes, sir."

IN MY DUTIES as bus boy at the hotel, I found the waiters as temperamental as opera stars, but more thoughtful than the customers. Out of possibly 500 diners whom I served in some manner, I collected three "Thank you's" over a period of several days. The waiters were a good deal more thoughtful than that.

However, I don't think that one of the captains of the corps will ever forgive me my mistake. I was not only in error, I was casting unmistakable reflections upon his ability to speak English.

He sent me out to procure more "tongs" for the buffet. I couldn't quite figure out why he wanted "tongs" to serve cold meats, but I rushed into the kitchen and, after a search, located a pair.

"What do you want?" he asked when I presented him with the tongs.

"You wanted more 'tongs,'" I told him, "here they are."

His eyes rolled back in his head and his round Italian face registered despair.

"I want cold tongs," he shouted. "Tongs like this." And he opened his mouth and pointed to his tongue.

Later, I heard him telling a waiter about it and he said in an almost unbelieving tone, "And is this new boy dumb? I send him for some cold tongs and he brings me back what? A nutcracker!"

See a communication from Mr. James Halliday, of Jefferson, S. Dak., reprinted in the "Letters to the Editor" column on today's Editorial Page, for some experiences Mr. McCarthy had in South Dakota that he did NOT write about.

THE MAJORITY of the waiters in the fine hotels, I learned, are predominantly foreign. I was told that, up until a few years ago, an American had small chance of being hired. Only waiters trained in foreign countries were wanted. However, since the business of waiting on table has offered smaller rewards, the immigration of waiters from the capitals of Europe has slowed down, and a few Americans are finding a place in the field.

Dinner in the help's dining room was somewhat in the nature of an international party. We had English spoken with German, Italian, British, Greek, Swiss and Spanish accents. However, regardless of the difficulty in expression, that was the time when hotel guests who had not met the waiters' critical fancy were verbally roasted and served up with the meat course.

The average waiter at a swank hotel knows pretty well what he's talking about when it comes to men and manners. People are his business, and manners his avocation. He dresses well, spares no expense in his style of living, drives a fine car, or, if a less expensive make, he is likely to trade it in for a new one every year or so.

As a group they are more interesting than the average. Among the native-born American waiters was one who was attending an Eastern university during the winter months, though he was a man of at least 35. One of the Italian waiters was saving to return to his native land and pursue his study of music. He wanted to be an opera singer. One of the captains of the waiters held an investment of $250,000 in a New York restaurant.

Cynical, free spending, meticulously mannered and mildly arrogant, his duty, these are the same men who stand behind your chair in the great cities of the Nation, saying obsequiously, "Yes, sir."

IN MY DUTIES as bus boy at the hotel, I found the waiters as temperamental as opera stars, but more thoughtful than the customers. Out of possibly 500 diners whom I served in some manner, I collected three "Thank you's" over a period of several days. The waiters were a good deal more thoughtful than that.

However, I don't think that one of the captains of the corps will ever forgive me my mistake. I was not only in error, I was casting unmistakable reflections upon his ability to speak English.

He sent me out to procure more "tongs" for the buffet. I couldn't quite figure out why he wanted "tongs" to serve cold meats, but I rushed into the kitchen and, after a search, located a pair.

"What do you want?" he asked when I presented him with the tongs.

"You wanted more 'tongs,'" I told him, "here they are."

Lotus Features Franco-Drigo Dancing Acts

Cooling System Permits Addition of Hot Rumba to Routine.

By Chanticleer

Sylvia Franco and Drigo are featured in a brand-new show this week at the Lotus. Due to the efficiency of the cooling system at this downtown spot, the feature dancers have been permitted to go to town with a very hot rumba in addition to the slower movements of a waltz.

Franco contributes a difficult ballet tap and Paul and Esther provide a novelty touch with an acrobatic routine. Donette De Lys, billed as direct from Paris, is featured in a novelty Parisian contortionist act. Marion Dawn sings and Al Norton "puts on the show."

Bill Strickland and his orchestra play for your dancing three times daily—1, 7:30 and 11:30.

Experts in the matter of home-fried chicken report that Boulevard Farms is the right place—on the Mount Vernon highway just a bit below Alexandria. Also a neat floor show, good music and a pleasant atmosphere.

Jimmie Crandall opines that it is the spirit of Old Man Good Time that keeps the folks in repeat trips to his southeast rendezvous. Of course Carl Gunther and his boys have something to do with it, too, because we all like good music.

It's the Culebra now—at the Madrilon. The Culebra is not just another word from below the Rio Grande. It's a drink—and it has the stuff. It's better when Johnny Shaw and his orchestra put a little musical background behind it, perhaps "El Rancho Grande."

One of those places to drop in for a comfortable hour or so—the King Cole room where you'll find Joan English, very cool and attractive in a flowered evening gown with orchids on the shoulder, warbling softly to the guests. She's been engaged for another month.

Jack Campbell is back at the Mayfair. They moved the piano right back to the big central room when the popular pianist rose from his bed of pain to see the customers eye to eye again. Leo Lisse carried on alone in Jack's absence. Beverly Still is the petite accordion squeezer.

Been to the Nightingale yet? Just 3 miles south of Alexandria and specializing in very nice things to eat. Watson Powell and his Moods in Blue play for the dancers.

Oscar, at the El Hat, likes to tell about the man who returned one afternoon for the crutch he'd left the night before. Meaning, of course, that the food, the drinks and the fun had been so satisfactory the man had walked out without his aid. Nice going, Oscar!

Bernard Slesob is on tap this week at the Wardman Park—having won that spot's talent quest award. Bernard, who has been three years in Washington; was born in the Netherlands and now employed by the Interstate Commerce Commission. He plays the violin most creditably. Jimmy Santmyer is doing a nice job of master-of-ceremonies these warm evenings.

Some smart folks have discovered the secret to the hot weather problem. It goes like this: A dip in the Shoreham's Venetian pool, a shower, a stretch in the sun at the Shoreham's Cabana Club, local drinks, dinner and entertainment on the Terrace. On tap this week: Agnes Knox, high-toe tapper; Bankoff and Cannon, the "Gloomy Partners" and Towne and Knott, Savage Sophisticates.

Coal Board Frowns On Misuse of Code

By the Associated Press

Charles S. Hestford, Jr., chairman of the Bituminous Coal Commission, declared yesterday there should be no effort to obtain "unfair advantages" for any group under the soft coal act.

He spoke at a hearing called to consider discounts on prices to farmer co-operatives and other organizations.

"I think," he said, "all of you will do well to remember, the commission will hear with very little patience the effort of any one group, any individual, any association, or any district, to obtain an unfair advantage at the expense of the industry as a whole."

He addressed distributors and producers of coal gathered from all parts of the Nation, and representatives of most of the 23 producers' boards.

On the Shoreham's Terrace

Joan Bankoff and Beth Cannon have come to the Shoreham to entertain in the cool of the evening on the Terrace. They are the "gloomy partners."

The Post Radio Time-Table

Washington				Eastern Standard Time
WRC	WMAL	WOL	WJVS	WRC	WMAL	WOL	WJVS
310M-550K	476M-630K	229M-1,310K	206M-1,490K	310M-550K	476M-630K	229M-1,310K	206M-1,490K
6:00 Gordon	6:00 Hittentmark	6:00 News	6:00 News	6:00 Gordon	6:00 Hittentmark	6:00 News	6:00 News
6:15 " "	6:15 " "	6:15 " "	6:15 " "	6:15 " "	6:15 " "	6:15 " "	6:15 " "
6:30 " "	6:30 " "	6:30 " "	6:30 " "	6:30 " "	6:30 " "	6:30 " "	6:30 " "
6:45 " "	6:45 " "	6:45 " "	6:45 " "	6:45 " "	6:45 " "	6:45 " "	6:45 " "
7:00 " "	7:00 " "	7:00 " "	7:00 " "	7:00 " "	7:00 " "	7:00 " "	7:00 " "
7:15 " "	7:15 " "	7:15 " "	7:15 " "	7:15 " "	7:15 " "	7:15 " "	7:15 " "
7:30 " "	7:30 " "	7:30 " "	7:30 " "	7:30 " "	7:30 " "	7:30 " "	7:30 " "
7:45 " "	7:45 " "	7:45 " "	7:45 " "	7:45 " "	7:45 " "	7:45 " "	7:45 " "
8:00 News	8:00 News	8:00 News	8:00 News	8:00 News	8:00 News	8:00 News	8:00 News
8:15 Gordon	8:15 Hittentmark	8:15 News	8:15 News	8:15 Gordon	8:15 Hittentmark	8:15 News	8:15 News
8:30 " "	8:30 " "	8:30 " "	8:30 " "	8:30 " "	8:30 " "	8:30 " "	8:30 " "
8:45 " "	8:45 " "	8:45 " "	8:45 " "	8:45 " "	8:45 " "	8:45 " "	8:45 " "
9:00 Mrs. Wiggo	9:00 Mrs. Wiggo	9:00 Mrs. Wiggo	9:00 Mrs. Wiggo	9:00 Mrs. Wiggo	9:00 Mrs. Wiggo	9:00 Mrs. Wiggo	9:00 Mrs. Wiggo
9:15 " "	9:15 " "	9:15 " "	9:15 " "	9:15 " "	9:15 " "	9:15 " "	9:15 " "
9:30 " "	9:30 " "	9:30 " "	9:30 " "	9:30 " "	9:30 " "	9:30 " "	9:30 " "
9:45 " "	9:45 " "	9:45 " "	9:45 " "	9:45 " "	9:45 " "	9:45 " "	9:45 " "
10:00 David Harum	10:00 David Harum	10:00 David Harum	10:00 David Harum	10:00 David Harum	10:00 David Harum	10:00 David Harum	10:00 David Harum
10:15 " "	10:15 " "	10:15 " "	10:15 " "	10:15 " "	10:15 " "	10:15 " "	10:15 " "
10:30 " "	10:30 " "	10:30 " "	10:30 " "	10:30 " "	10:30 " "	10:30 " "	10:30 " "
10:45 " "	10:45 " "	10:45 " "	10:45 " "	10:45 " "	10:45 " "	10:45 " "	10:45 " "
11:00 Myriad Voices	11:00 Myriad Voices	11:00 Myriad Voices	11:00 Myriad Voices	11:00 Myriad Voices	11:00 Myriad Voices	11:00 Myriad Voices	11:00 Myriad Voices
11:15 " "	11:15 " "	11:15 " "	11:15 " "	11:15 " "	11:15 " "	11:15 " "	11:15 " "
11:30 " "	11:30 " "	11:30 " "	11:30 " "	11:30 " "	11:30 " "	11:30 " "	11:30 " "
11:45 " "	11:45 " "	11:45 " "	11:45 " "	11:45 " "	11:45 " "	11:45 " "	11:45 " "

AFTERNOON PROGRAMS

12:00 News; Music	12:00 News; Music	12:00 News; Music	12:00 News; Music	12:00 News; Music	12:00 News; Music	12:00 News; Music	12:00 News; Music
12:15 " "	12:15 " "	12:15 " "	12:15 " "	12:15 " "	12:15 " "	12:15 " "	12:15 " "
12:30 " "	12:30 " "	12:30 " "	12:30 " "	12:30 " "	12:30 " "	12:30 " "	12:30 " "
12:45 " "	12:45 " "	12:45 " "	12:45 " "	12:45 " "	12:45 " "	12:45 " "	12:45 " "
1:00 Command	1:00 Command	1:00 Command	1:00 Command	1:00 Command	1:00 Command	1:00 Command	1:00 Command
1:15 " "	1:15 " "	1:15 " "	1:15 " "	1:15 " "	1:15 " "	1:15 " "	1:15 " "
1:30 " "	1:30 " "	1:30 " "	1:30 " "	1:30 " "	1:30 " "	1:30 " "	1:30 " "
1:45 " "	1:45 " "	1:45 " "	1:45 " "	1:45 " "	1:45 " "	1:45 " "	1:45 " "
2:00 P. Young's Family	2:00 P. Young's Family	2:00 P. Young's Family	2:00 P. Young's Family	2:00 P. Young's Family	2:00 P. Young's Family	2:00 P. Young's Family	2:00 P. Young's Family
2:15 " "	2:15 " "	2:15 " "	2:15 " "	2:15 " "	2:15 " "	2:15 " "	2:15 " "
2:30 " "	2:30 " "	2:30 " "	2:30 " "	2:30 " "	2:30 " "	2:30 " "	2:30 " "
2:45 " "	2:45 " "	2:45 " "	2:45 " "	2:45 " "	2:45 " "	2:45 " "	2:45 " "
3:00 Lorenzo Jones	3:00 Lorenzo Jones	3:00 Lorenzo Jones	3:00 Lorenzo Jones	3:00 Lorenzo Jones	3:00 Lorenzo Jones	3:00 Lorenzo Jones	3:00 Lorenzo Jones
3:15 " "	3:15 " "	3:15 " "	3:15 " "	3:15 " "	3:15 " "	3:15 " "	3:15 " "
3:30 " "	3:30 " "	3:30 " "	3:30 " "	3:30 " "	3:30 " "	3:30 " "	3:30 " "
3:45 " "	3:45 " "	3:45 " "	3:45 " "	3:45 " "	3:45 " "	3:45 " "	3:45 " "
4:00 Not for Ladies	4:00 Not for Ladies	4:00 Not for Ladies	4:00 Not for Ladies	4:00 Not for Ladies	4:00 Not for Ladies	4:00 Not for Ladies	4:00 Not for Ladies
4:15 " "	4:15 " "	4:15 " "	4:15 " "	4:15 " "	4:15 " "	4:15 " "	4:15 " "
4:30 " "	4:30 " "	4:30 " "	4:30 " "	4:30 " "	4:30 " "	4:30 " "	4:30 " "
4:45 " "	4:45 " "	4:45 " "	4:45 " "	4:45 " "	4:45 " "	4:45 " "	4:45 " "
5:00 Sundown Revue	5:00 Sundown Revue	5:00 Sundown Revue	5:00 Sundown Revue	5:00 Sundown Revue	5:00 Sundown Revue	5:00 Sundown Revue	5:00 Sundown Revue
5:15 " "	5:15 " "	5:15 " "	5:15 " "	5:15 " "	5:15 " "	5:15 " "	5:15 " "
5:30 " "	5:30 " "	5:30 " "	5:30 " "	5:30 " "	5:30 " "	5:30 " "	5:30 " "
5:45 " "	5:45 " "	5:45 " "	5:45 " "	5:45 " "	5:45 " "	5:45 " "	5:45 " "

EVENING PROGRAMS

6:00 Ames 'n' Andy	6:00 Ames 'n' Andy	6:00 Ames 'n' Andy	6:00 Ames 'n' Andy	6:00 Ames 'n' Andy	6:00 Ames 'n' Andy	6:00 Ames 'n' Andy	6:00 Ames 'n' Andy
6:15 " "	6:15 " "	6:15 " "	6:15 " "	6:15 " "	6:15 " "	6:15 " "	6:15 " "
6:30 " "	6:30 " "	6:30 " "	6:30 " "	6:30 " "	6:30 " "	6:30 " "	6:30 " "
6:45 " "	6:45 " "	6:45 " "	6:45 " "	6:45 " "	6:45 " "	6:45 " "	6:45 " "
7:00 One Man's	7:00 One Man's	7:00 One Man's	7:00 One Man's	7:00 One Man's	7:00 One Man's	7:00 One Man's	7:00 One Man's
7:15 " "	7:15 " "	7:15 " "	7:15 " "	7:15 " "	7:15 " "	7:15 " "	7:15 " "
7:30 " "	7:30 " "	7:30 " "	7:30 " "	7:30 " "	7:30 " "	7:30 " "	7:30 " "
7:45 " "	7:45 " "	7:45 " "	7:45 " "	7:45 " "	7:45 " "	7:45 " "	7:45 " "
8:00 Town Hall	8:00 Town Hall	8:00 Town Hall	8:00 Town Hall	8:00 Town Hall	8:00 Town Hall	8:00 Town Hall	8:00 Town Hall
8:15 " "	8:15 " "	8:15 " "	8:15 " "	8:15 " "	8:15 " "	8:15 " "	8:15 " "
8:30 " "	8:30 " "	8:30 " "	8:30 " "	8:30 " "	8:30 " "	8:30 " "	8:30 " "
8:45 " "	8:45 " "	8:45 " "	8:45 " "	8:45 " "	8:45 " "	8:45 " "	8:45 " "
9:00 Your Hit	9:00 Your Hit	9:00 Your Hit	9:00 Your Hit	9:00 Your Hit	9:00 Your Hit	9:00 Your Hit	9:00 Your Hit
9:15 " "	9:15 " "	9:15 " "	9:15 " "	9:15 " "	9:15 " "	9:15 " "	9:15 " "
9:30 " "	9:30 " "	9:30 " "	9:30 " "	9:30 " "	9:30 " "	9:30 " "	9:30 " "
9:45 " "	9:45 " "	9:45 " "	9:45 " "	9:45 " "	9:45 " "	9:45 " "	9:45 " "
10:00 News; Music	10:00 News; Music	10:00 News; Music	10:00 News; Music	10:00 News; Music	10:00 News; Music	10:00 News; Music	10:00 News; Music
10:15 " "	10:15 " "	10:15 " "	10:15 " "	10:15 " "	10:15 " "	10:15 " "	10:15 " "
10:30 " "	10:30 " "	10:30 " "	10:30 " "	10:30 " "	10:30 " "	10:30 " "	10:30 " "
10:45 " "	10:45 " "	10:45 " "	10:45 " "	10:45 " "	10:45 " "	10:45 " "	10:45 " "
11:00 Bill Coyle	11:00 Bill Coyle	11:00 Bill Coyle	11:00 Bill Coyle	11:00 Bill Coyle	11:00 Bill Coyle	11:00 Bill Coyle	11:00 Bill Coyle
11:15 " "	11:15 " "	11:15 " "	11:15 " "	11:15 " "	11:15 " "	11:15 " "	11:15 " "
11:30 " "	11:30 " "	11:30 " "	11:30 " "	11:30 " "	11:30 " "	11:30 " "	11:30 " "
11:45 " "	11:45 " "	11:45 " "	11:45 " "	11:45 " "	11:45 " "	11:45 " "	11:45 " "
12:00 Sign off	12:00 Sign off	12:00 Sign off	12:00 Sign off	12:00 Sign off	12:00 Sign off	12:00 Sign off	12:00 Sign off
12:15 " "	12:15 " "	12:15 " "	12:15 " "	12:15 " "	12:15 " "	12:15 " "	12:15 " "
12:30 " "	12:30 " "	12:30 " "	12:30 " "	12:30 " "	12:30 " "	12:30 " "	12:30 " "
12:45 " "	12:45 " "	12:45 " "	12:45 " "	12:45 " "	12:45 " "	12:45 " "	12:45 " "
1:00 " "	1:00 " "	1:00 " "	1:00 " "	1:00 " "	1:00 " "	1:00 " "	1:00 " "

Loans Depend On Crop Limit, President Says

Holds Renewed Cotton Aid Impossible Without Control Law.

Continued from Page 1.

Chairman Ellison D. Smith (Democrat), South Carolina, of the Senate Agriculture Committee. Apparently there is no course open to Congress to bring about resumption of the monetary advances, under existing legislation.

Senator Smith said last night the President's stand would not affect the program of his committee, to have a comprehensive farm control proposal ready when Congress reconvenes in January. However, there still was speculation on the possibility of huge harvests forcing down prices so drastically that a special session might be called in October to push through legislation.

At the time general farm legislation was dropped from the program for the present session, Smith's committee was authorized to hold hearings throughout the country, during the recess, on the Administration's "ever normal granary" plan of production control. Senate Floor Leader Barkley, of Kentucky, yesterday suggested that the legislation be drafted by the committee to be made the first item for consideration at the January session.

Ample funds are available for the Commodity Credit Corporation to make loans, Senator Smith told the Senate yesterday, and he expressed the view that "a loan for the crops produced this year, if desired by the cotton producers, should be announced forthwith."

The President said his stand on cotton applies also to wheat, corn, hogs and other major crops on which production control had been eliminated, by the Supreme Court decision throwing out the original Agricultural Adjustment Administration program.

5-Cent Cotton Recalled.

He recalled that his Administration had inherited 5-cent cotton and a 15,000,000-bale carryover of surpluses. To bolster the price, Government loans were authorized, but crop curtailment was also provided to go along with the loans. Loans without curtailment of crops would have broken the Treasury, it was pointed out. By spring of this year, the carryover had been reduced to about 8,000,000 bales, and the price was up above 12 cents a pound. The price would have remained at about 12 cents, the President said, if curtailment of production had been continued.

However, the control was eliminated, it was recalled, and this year, reporters were told, the price will be so large that 4,000,000 bales probably will be added to the surplus, tending to depress prices further.

Senator Smith contended in the Senate an estimate of 14,500,000 bales as this year's cotton crop, the figure which has been used by the President, is a "pure, unadulterated guess."

Smith Holds Yield Uncertain.

There is an increase in acreage, he said, but whether there will be an increase in yield remains to be seen.

"The critical period for any cotton crop," he said, "is the month of August, as all cotton men know, and no one can tell what effect the weather and the boll weevil have had until picking begins."

Contending the Black-Bilbo resolution was unnecessary, Senator Smith insisted the law "directs" the making of loans when they are necessary to prevent market declines.

In the House yesterday, Representative Mills (Democrat), Louisiana, called for loans of 13 cents a pound on cotton and 1.7 cents a pound on wheat.

Pending in the Senate is a resolution by Senators Guy Gillette, Nebraska, and Bennett Clark, Missouri, for 1937 loans on all basic farm crops. Gillette has said the Commodity Corporation has $100,000,000 available from which the money might be advanced.

Black and Bilbo contended in their resolution that the price of cotton has been "driven down" to almost 10 cents a pound, which they held was less than the cost of production. Earlier Bilbo had visited the White House and there told reporters he planned to offer a resolution to "peg" the price of cotton at whatever figure the Commodity Corporation held proper. Both he and Smith pointed out that the Agriculture Department had fixed 16 cents a pound as the "parity" price for cotton, designed to correspond to returns in the 1909-14 prices.

On the Air Today

Among today's talks: First of a series on "How new legislation affects your pocketbook," WJVS, at 3:15, with Willard L. Thorp; Dr. John C. A. Carter discusses the new Government cancer legislation, WJVS, at 4:15; and Postmaster General Farley talks on "Business and Politics," WMAL, at 8.

Goodman and Jane Ace, the "Easy Aces" of WMAL, dramatize their romantic early association which lead to their real life marriage in a special four weeks series of programs observing their eighth air anniversary, beginning tonight, at 8.

"Cavalcade" honors Rudolph Friml, WJVS, at 7. Francis White assists the orchestra in selections from "The Vagabond King," "You're in Love," "The Firefly," "Katinka," "Rose Marie" and other Friml operettas.

Walter O'Keefe changes the guest artist policy of "Town Hall Tonight" by recalling Billie Bailey, blues singer, and the Texas Wranglers, cowboy group, for another engagement, WRC, at 8.

"The Dream Girl" is the "Beauty Box Theater" vehicle for tonight, WJVS, at 8:30, with Jessica Dragonette. Al Goodman and orchestra, who was musical director when the show opened on Broadway in 1934, will play the score. Musical highlights: "Dream Girl" and "My Hero."

Today's Cross Word Puzzle

ACROSS

1. Preliminary
2. Loss on a football
3. Flow back
4. Island off the coast of Scotland
5. Sharpening stone
6. Vegetable
7. Those opposed to progress
8. Cluster
9. Fall into disuse
10. Grateful white
11. Flow together
12. Pronoun
13. American lake
14. Hebrew prophet
15. City in Oklahoma
16. Mathematics
17. Clears above expenses
18. Without a state
19. To a point within
20. Cripples
21. Indistinct celebrity
22. Steeple
23. Complications or involvements
24. Bird of the cuckoo family
25. Blast on a whistle
26. Inclosure for chickens

DOWN

1. Term of respect
2. Garden implement
3. Erroneous in placement as to historical time
4. Dark spot in a mineral
5. Thin tapering place
6. Ring or fold forming a catch
7. Tavern
8. Mountain peak in Utah
9. Attendant or secondary fast or event
10. Insects
11. Foundation
12. Kind of civet cat
13. Fences placed below the line of vision
14. Half; prefix
15. Proper
16. City in Nevada
17. Anger
18. Periodic motion of the earth
19. Total
20. Flying Dutchman
21. Blinder
22. Portable shelter
23. Asiatic palm
24. Male or female
25. Feminine name
26. Having little velocity
27. Carcases
28. Slicky stuff; colloquial
29. Little child
30. Mineral spring

SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

RAINBOW FLUME
PRIERE LATER
PRATE ALAMODE
HITS APEX PAC
AVE SLOT SILT
EA ELAN BOA
LLAMAS POINTS
GIB DOLL HO
WAIT FELL PEL
ART MUTE GLAD NIAGARA GRATE
ESTOP CHEATER
SEEDS HAMMERS

Copyright, 1937.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12				13					14
15			16					17
20	21					22
23			24	25	26			27	28	29
30		31		32				33
34				35				36	37
		38	39				40	41
42	43				44	45
46				47					48	49
50			51					52
53				54					55

30 Elephants to Meet For Farewell Banquet

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 3 (P).—Thirty elephants will gather around a banquet table here tomorrow for a farewell dinner to one of their number—"Baby Boo."

"Baby Boo," who in 34 years of American circus life has outgrown her title, will quit the circus in favor of the Cheyenne Mountain Zoo. Tons of carrots, lettuce, hay, peanuts and other choice fare of the elephant world will be served.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL

"How to Get Things Straight?" Is Question of Wife Heartbroken by Husband's Infidelity.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I have been married for a number of years—and happily, so I thought until recently. My husband and I grew up in much the same atmosphere—in a small town, taught to believe in the old-fashioned virtues of decency, honesty and dignity. He had been kind and considerate always until a few months ago, when he changed; would not speak to me for days and was unkind to the point of cruelty. On the few occasions we went out together he was so rude to our friends that I was embarrassed. He stayed out until 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning with the explanation that he was working at the office.

Quite innocently, one hot night I went for a walk and finding myself near his office, decided to stop in. I was told he had never been there. I was shocked to the point of feeling physically ill when I realized what probably was going on. When I told him of calling at the office he was furious and accused me of trying to check on him. . . . Things went on for weeks; then he lost his position and told me briefly one night that he "had had a few dates with a girl." I was terribly hurt and humiliated but decided to make the best of things and moved to another apartment, thinking it would make forgetting easier.

Later I learned the girl had married a relative of my husband's, through whom he had met her in the first place; that they had had far more than "a few dates"; that there was misconduct involved, though my husband would never admit this; and that the girl's husband found out about it through a love letter my husband had written her after she was his wife. He sued for divorce and she filed a counter-suit, charging cruelty. (And I suppose her husband did feel like treating her cruelly when he learned how he had been duped.) He is well-to-do, and the girl got a sizeable settlement, justice being what it is. . . . I don't know whether she sees my husband now; anyway, he never goes out nights any more.

My husband doesn't seem to feel badly about it, as once when I was feeling "low" he said I took it too seriously. I wonder if persons can be so broken hearted and finally regain their faith in things? I don't know my feeling for him any more, though he says he still cares for me. I don't know whether pride and public opinion has kept me with him, or whether it is habitual loyalty or even love. Certainly it is not the old feeling based on trust and respect. What can I do to get things straight? I have tried in every way to forget, not to mention it; nor to reproach him; but things don't seem to become more bearable. If you can give me some sort of answer or advice or comfort I shall be grateful.

BETRAYED.

Be Honest With Yourself.

DEAR BETRAYED: Stop sniveling and face the truth. You are remaining with your husband either because you really love him or because you are too big a coward to pull out and face life on your own. Which is it? Ask yourself and as you hope for happiness, give back an honest answer. If you love him, the sensible thing to do is to forgive and forget, to do just yourself to the fact that your husband is just an average vulnerable male, and to thank providence that your marriage is still a going concern in spite of his foolish-age fling. If you don't love him; if cowardice, if economic expediency, is prompting you to share his bed and board, you can expect your present distress to continue until you muster courage to create a happier set of circumstances for yourself.

I believe if you had a clearer picture of the evolutionary development of human relationships that you could learn, in time, to place the same inconsequential appraisal on your husband's isolated instance of infidelity as he is disposed to. I suggest, therefore, that you read Floyd Dell's "Love in the Machine Age" and Marjorie Barlow Greenblatt's "Personality." The former will help you to understand the masculine philosophy of life and love, and the latter will give you a new perspective on the immemorial warfare between the wife and the so-called "other woman." Mrs. Greenblatt has authored another book, incidentally, "In Quest of Contentment," in which she has the courage to say, quite casually, that infidelity, even when discovered, is not necessarily disastrous to marital happiness. Even, at times, it may serve a useful purpose, she believes, through challenging marriage partners to a new, vital re-evaluation of their fundamental importance to each other.

A lot of mental housecleaning is in order before you can hope to get things straight between your husband and yourself. Into the discard will have to go self-pity, self-righteousness, a sense of martyr-

Menus For Today

BREAKFAST
Sliced peaches and cream—
Creamed chicken and toast—
Cafe.
LUNCHEON
Crab cakes
Cabbage and celery salad
Whole wheat rolls—
Butter
Lemonade
DINNER
Tomato Fricassee
Chicken and noodles
Creamed squash
Pear and cream cheese salad
Hot biscuits—
Butter
Iced tea
Macaroon ice cream

California Colonial Cupboard

One way to add a new color note to your home is by means of one of the gayly painted California colonial pieces of furniture. This type of furniture suggests grand ideas for rehabilitating old pieces. For instance, you might take some dingy old cupboard and transform it into the striking piece of furniture shown above. The cupboard itself is painted an old dull white, while the inside is brilliant blue-green with bright contrasting decorations. The chair is of Mexican inspiration. If you'd like to decorate some furniture for yourself send a 3-cent stamp for Elizabeth MacRae Baykin's bulletin, "Designs for Painted Furniture Decoration."

Good Manners Are Essential At Sea Beach

Rules of Courtesy Should Be Observed Carefully on Vacation.

By Margaret Wallace

LACK of good manners at bathing beaches and swimming pools has caused one mother to appeal to this department. She says: "Please write something about this subject and perhaps my son and daughter will read it. I have tried every other means without success to induce them to be better mannered at these places."

The rules of courtesy and consideration for others, and obedience to regulations should be observed as carefully at the beach or the swimming pool as they are at home or other places.

It is very bad form to wear bathing suits that are in any degree less conservative than the usual style of suit adopted by the patrons of any particular beach or swimming pool. A conspicuous bathing suit attracts more attention than conspicuous every-day clothes.

Don't Be Noisy.

The well-bred person at a bathing beach or pool will not be unduly boisterous. There is a great difference between being merry and enjoying a sport and being so loud in the enjoyment that the pleasure of everyone else is affected.

It is very rude to splash and to thrash around in a pool in which other people are trying to swim. This is also true of the bathing beach. If water games are to be indulged in then the participants should move to a less-frequented part of the water. Those who like to "show off" their efficiency in diving and swimming should do this in a manner not to interfere with other bathers. Most bathers like the pleasure of swimming and diving themselves or at least enjoying the water. Few of them care to be part of a gallery to watch another bather swimming or diving.

The test of a well-bred person is his or her behavior in a group or crowd. This is particularly noticeable at a bathing beach or pool. Well-bred persons at such places will obey all the rules. If there is a rule against sunbathing on the crowded sections of the beach, they will obey that rule and not munch sandwiches when the guards' backs are turned. If members of a beach luncheon party, they will clean up the debris, putting papers, cups and plates in the containers provided for them.

Avoid Comments.

While there are many amusing sights at the beach at the swimming pool, it is inexcusably rude to make audible remarks or jeer at people. It is just as rude to sit on the beach or at the side of the pool and do this as it would be to stand on the street corner and discuss passersby.

QUERY—We are a young couple of moderate means. I only have help with the housework.

When we have company it usually consists of another young couple. Recently a young man and his wife visited us over the week-end. We are correct when serving meals for me to serve my husband first, then the young wife and then the husband? Is that the correct order when serving drinks? When my husband serves drinks or other refreshments should he serve me first and then the women guests and then the men guests?

ANSWER—The guests should be served first. There is a difference of opinion among etiquette authorities on the propriety of serving the hostess before the guests, when there is a waiter or waitress. But when the hostess serves the meal she should serve the guests first. It is never proper to serve the host first. The host should never serve the hostess first when he is serving drinks or other refreshments.

The Romantic Influence in Shoes

The perforated suede step-in pump with rolled down tongue, emphasizes the romantic trend in shoes, available in both high and low heels. The built-up strap model shows the smart use of bright patent leather with suede. Both shoes have the new boxless toes, chic and comfortable for midseason.

Feet Again Entirely Hidden By Smart Midseason Shoes

By Ethel Ehlen.

The Post Fashion Editor.

LADYLIKE FEET are the vogue for midseason. During the summer it has been comfortable and smartly casual to expose your toes and heels, but with the feminine and popular 1937 inspirations in clothes pervading the fashion scene, shoes are again a complete covering for the feet. This does not mean, however, that the new footwear is uncomfortable; just the opposite, as these transition shoes, bridging the gap from midsummer to fall, were designed with an eye to comfort as well as style. This is accomplished by lightweight materials and soft toes, accented with perforation patterns.

As a forecast of what the fall and winter footwear will be, many of the midseason shoes are being inspired by romantic periods of history. In fact, some of them are modernized versions of those worn by popular characters of ancient history. Leather is combined with grosgrain ribbon; intricate stitching is another method of adding a medieval air; quaint-looking bows gracing the vamps of high-cut step-ins. To accompany the omnipresent midseason black frock, the proper accessories should be chosen or the effect will be ludicrous instead of chic. This means the accents should be as new and smart as the dress and that all should be planned to carry out the same general feeling. Shoes are of tremendous importance in this plan and particularly so this season with climbing hemlines bringing them into the spotlight.

A WOMAN'S NEW YORK

By Alice Hughes

New York, Aug. 3. HUMAN NATURE remains doggedly static here, as everywhere. But a startling change has come over this ballroom this summer, thanks to the mad onrush of science, and it is a human shift, at that.

Only a few years ago, at this time of year, any member of the forgotten high-toned crowd, crowded caught by chance in the city, would sigh gustily as she passed the ALICE HUGHES. streets filled only with sweltering commoners and siph. "Oh, simply everyone is out of town!" Meaning, of course, that all those who mattered a curse were soaking up beach sun, sea breeze or mountain air far from the maddening metropolis and its proletariat. And now, for this year, I've seen more of those newspaper-social "names" and faces around the place than in any previous summer.

In the middle of the week-end, too. And why? Simply because their winter haunts are now rendered tolerable, and even delightful, thanks to the arctic gales of air-conditioning, so the ladies' tender uptown hides will not suffer the pangs of midsummer heat! Simple as that!

Only the other day I saw John Jacob Astor and his wife, the quondam "Tucky" French, in the cocktail lounge of the Savoy-Plaza, and a decade ago an Astor worthy of the dear old name wouldn't have been caught in a dead faint within 100 miles of summer New York. I've seen scores of other Newport and Southampton headlines, forgetting themselves and their traditions in the same way during the past two months.

Who says leopards and society hot-shots can't change their spots? Just blow them a blast of modern air-conditioning, and the cologne's lady and Judy Gilhooly are sisters under and over the skin!

GIRL ABOUT TOWN—It was a great June for the man who collects the $2 fees down at the town hall! Word has just swept the village that more marriage licenses were sold here in the first month than in any June in our history, even in the peak years of 1928 and 1929, when people rushed into matrimony heading as they did into the market. Proving anew the dogged gameness of the human race!

Elizabeth Hayes, our dashing designer of unusual and costly clothes for the carriage trade, has just taken herself a second husband in the person of Joe Losey, a stage director. Her first, a Mr. Jester, was a sculptor. Hawes, a Vassar girl who went in for fancy sewing, gave the first modern American fashion show in Moscow in 1935.

Did you hear of the historic "Fall River Line" steamers giving up the struggle of competition with faster means of transport? Those boats were so famous in their day that they were woven into a popular song, "On the Old Fall River Line." Old-timers wept at their passing but were comforted at remembering that the Elsie's other famed steamers, "The Albany Night Boat," still crawl up and down the lovely Hudson!

Ever hear of a dream saving the dreamer's life almost immediately? Maybe Freud didn't, either, but it happened here last week. Mary Winnifsky, 21, a downtown girl, dreamed the weather was the summer's hottest. Waking, she got up and opened the bedroom door and found that the heat was caused by a raging blaze in the hall. Mary and her family escaped safely, and the next day Mary bought a dream-book at the nearest five-and-ten!

Eva Le Gallienne is going to play "Hamlet" at a hazy theatre up on Cape Cod late this month—her second male role, the first being in Rostand's "L'Aiglon." Eva says she's not going to play him as a man, as women seldom attempt that feat, but as an adolescent boy!

It's revival time in clothes, ladies, and in a mighty large way. If you dress up on a weekday, even in dresses out of an attic trunk at a fresher it up, you can now sport it and be in the height of fashion. Square yoke dresses with puff sleeves and ribbon bows and are in style up to the hilt at the moment. So it seems as good a time as any to do some of that delightful old-time right now!

Copyright, 1937, by Alice Hughes Syndicate, Inc.

TODAY'S HEALTH TALK

Dr. Logan Clendening.

Spotted Fever in D. C.

A news item reports three cases of Rocky Mountain spotted fever in Washington, D. C. This is the first time the disease has been reported outside the Western mountain States; the farthest east it was ever known before was the Dakotas. The first time it was ever observed was in 1873 in the Bitter Root Valley in Idaho, although the gold rush pioneers and the Mormons in the forties had vaguely reported troubles which might have been this disease. When it was recognized as a new disease there were few white men in the Bitter Root Valley. The Indians did not have it. As land was cleared and taken up for farming purposes the disease died out.

The cause of Rocky Mountain spotted fever is a peculiar germ, one of the Rickettsia bodies, named after Howard Taylor Ricketts, one of America's medical martyrs, who lost his life studying them. It is transmitted to the human body by the wood tick, and cannot be caught by man from man.

Our knowledge of this type of disease transmission—by ticks or other insects—was begun by Theobald Smith, another great—in fact the greatest—American bacteriologist, and the story of the discovery is one of the thrillers of science. In 1893 Theobald Smith, was a member of the newly created, poorly equipped, understaffed bureau of animal industry. The bureau was

Apple Recipe Contest Winners Suggest Attractive Variants

Mrs. J. H. King Wins First Award for Her Account of Baked Ham in Apple Aspic; Strudel Secret Also Revealed.

By Rebekah Blake.

If you tire of eating your apple a day in its natural form, prepare it in one of its many variations. Apples may be put into pies, cakes, cookies, sauces, meat stuffing, salads, combined with vegetables, or used in place of vegetables and in many other ways, as proved by the response in the Post recipe contest for apples, which was conducted last week.

The first prize, $3, for this contest was won by Mrs. J. H. King, 1623 Thirty-fifth street, Washington, D. C., for her recipe for baked ham in apple aspic.

The second prize, $2, went to Mrs. W. E. Kelsey, 2700 Q street, Washington, for her recipe for rice apple sophisticated, the third prize, $1, was awarded to Mrs. Arthur Rhoads, 520 Elm street, Frederick, Md., for her recipe for apple strudel, and the fourth prize, also $1, went to F. W. Kingman for the recipe for curried apples. The fifth prize, $1, went to Mrs. E. T. Hiehle, Number 81, Fort Belvoir, Vase.

Mrs. King's recipe:

Baked Ham in Apple Aspic.

1 ham
4 tablespoons gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
4 tablespoons lemon juice
4 cups apple juice
Salt and pepper to taste.
Place ham in uncovered pan, fat side up. Insert meat thermometer so that the bulb reaches the center of the fleshiest part of the muscle, taking care that it does not touch fat or bone. Bake in a slow oven until the internal temperature reaches 160 F. Remove from oven and carefully remove rind, leaving a collar around the shank bone. Cool and slice the ham into thin slices to the bone. Press back into shape. Soak gelatin in cold water, add boiling apple juice, lemon juice, salt and pepper and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Strain through double thickness of cheese cloth. Cover ham with a thin layer of the aspic.

Decorate with lines where it has been sliced with strips of pimento, and at each end make a flower of sultana raisins, green stems of angelica and candied vegetables mold. All spread another layer of aspic. Decorate along lines where it has been sliced with strips of pimento and at each end make a flower of sultana raisins, green stems of angelica and candied vegetable molds. Over all spread another layer of aspic. Place in a large platter and arrange chopped aspic and black and green olives around it. Edge with a green border of watercress.

Here is Mrs. Kelsey's recipe:

Rice Apple Sophisticate.

1/2 cup uncooked rice
2 eggs
1 1/2 cups sugar
4 baking apples
Cinnamon
Jelly
6 teaspoons kitchen sherry
Boil the rice in one quart of boiling water, seasoned with 1 1/2 teaspoons of salt. Do not stir. When it is done, turn into colander and wash off extra starch. This makes the rice swell and the grains stay separate.

Pare and core the apples. Place in a buttered baking dish. Combine rice thoroughly with sugar and egg yolks beaten until creamy. Pack this around the apples in the casserole. In each apple place a spoonful of red jelly, a spoonful of sherry and sprinkle with cinnamon. Bake at about 325 F. for about 40 minutes or until apples are done.

Make a meringue of the 2 egg whites, 2 tablespoons sugar and 1 teaspoon sherry. When apples and rice are done, cover with meringue and bake slowly for at least 15 minutes.

Serve with whipped cream or topped with quince jelly.

Mrs. Rhoads' recipe follows:

Apple Strudel.

Take 1 pint of flour, sift it into a bowl, make a hole in the center of the flour, pour in half a cupful of warm water, 4 ounces of butter, 2 whole eggs and 2 yolks and a pinch of salt. Stir this slowly, making a smooth dough. Cover up the dough and keep in a warm place until you have a quarter of a peck of apples; cut or shave them very fine. Now cover the kitchen table with a clean tablecloth, sift flour all over it and roll out your dough as thin as possible. Then use your hands, placing them under the rolled dough, and stretch it gently, so as not to tear it, walking all around the table as you do this to get it even and thin as tissue paper. Pour a few tablespoons of melted butter over the dough, mix the apples, some brown sugar, cinnamon, seeded raisins and a little citron cut fine. Take hold of the tablecloth with both hands at the corners, lift it and begin to roll the strudel. After it is rolled, place in a buttered pan, put flakes of butter on top. When half baked pour a cupful of cream over

Home Institute Develop Social Attractiveness

WHY do some girls go dateless—hungry for romance? Others, no prettier, attract men friends galore. Must some girls be denied first-hand romance—be doomed to find it second-hand, only through the movies?

This problem puzzles many a lonely girl. She fails to realize that a romance doesn't just happen. A girl must cultivate it. And the winsome flattery that appeals to every man is her most effective tool.

The next time you run into the freckle-faced boy around the corner, look delighted to see him. Tell him what an expert job he does of trimming the hedge, or what a luscious color his new tie is.

You don't have to be insincere. Even the most unpromising boy has his praiseworthy points. And if he isn't the type you could care for, maybe some of his friends are. At any rate, it's no mistake to keep your feminine charms in training, exercising them whenever you can. Else they might be too rusty to operate when you meet your ideal.

Even more appealing to a man than direct flattery is the indirect flattery any girl can learn to give. She can be gay and happy in his presence to make him feel he's an amusing fellow. She can show interest in his work and respect for his sense of importance.

You'll find other tips on coaxing romance in our 40-page booklet, "Success in Love and Marriage," to The Washington Post, Home Institute, 109 West Nineteenth street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Send 15c for our booklet, "Success in Love and Marriage," to The Washington Post, Home Institute, 109 West Nineteenth street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Silk Suits Are Favored For Men's Summer Wear

New York (P).—The well-groomed man, young and old, favors silk suits for summer and vacation wear. Silk poplins, silk shantungs, in very rich, heavy weaves, are the popular selections. For travel, silk suits are sensible and indispensable, for the wrinkles hang out and the natural elasticity of the silk enables them to hold their crease and shape. They can be purchased this summer with in the popular-priced brackets. One natural silk sports suit seen at a hotel retail shop had a half belt with a slightly gathered back, one patch breast pocket and two patch hip pockets.

AIR COOLED!

Comfortable As Nothing - At - All

Breezy Voile BIEN JOLIE

Foundations $5.00

Keep cool—and keep your figure at the same time! A new wrap of gleaming white double voile, lightly boned back and front, and elastic side panels—it moulds your figure to slim, youthful lines of loveliness, 16-inch length skirt in side-hock style for the average figure. Sizes 34 to 44.

Other Bien Jolie foundations.....$2.50 and $5
Bien Jolie girdles.....$2.50 to $5
Third Floor—Corset Department—The Saks Co.

Steinhardts Will Move From Snows to Tropics

Newly Appointed Minister to Peru, With Family, Will Sail Soon for Callao; Daughter Learned to Ice-Skate in Sweden.

By Elizabeth Ford.

From the snows and porcelain stoves of Sweden to the mountains and super mid-day sun of Peru may sound like a long jump across the atlas to most of us, but it is just another "assignment" for our newly appointed United States Minister to Peru, Laurence Steinhardt and Mrs. Steinhardt, who in a couple of weeks take boat for Callao, a seaport town only 8 miles away from Lima.

Mr. and Mrs. Steinhardt left the Carlton Hotel yesterday afternoon to return to their New York City apartment at 1125 Fifth avenue, opposite Central Park. From now on, they expect to be busy with suitcases, trunks and all the hurried paraphernalia that go into the "eleventh hour" before bon voyage.

With them, when they sail for Peru, will be their little daughter, Doucie Ann, who, though she is only 11 years old, is already an accomplished ice skater, having mastered the art during the time her father was Minister to Sweden. He held this post from 1933 to the present time.

Mrs. Steinhardt, who was born in New York City, spent her pinafore days in schools in Paris and in Germany, Switzerland and Italy. With as much ease as you and I speak Washingtonese, she speaks French, German, Italian and Swedish. As for the Swedish, thereby hangs a story. She did what few linguists can boast of: she learnt it first-hand, not out of dusty textbooks, but by conversing with the people around her. She hopes to pick up Spanish in the same way in Peru.

"I believe that the best way to become acquainted with the spirit of our friends in other parts of the world," she says, "is to speak, not another language, but their own."

Deeply interested in history and archeological studies, she is looking forward to her days in Peru because of its ancient and Inca-filled background.

When she was in Sweden, the snow sports found her amply prepared with more than a pair of warm mittens, for she had already done a great deal of skiing at St. Moritz in Switzerland.

Mr. Steinhardt confesses that his hobby is an eager desire to know and to do more and more about "the commercial relations between the United States and the country to which I may be sent as its representative." If this sounds like a business holiday, it is the very best business holiday we have ever heard anything about.

Tall, with dark hair, Mr. Steinhardt is an alumnus of Columbia University and Columbia University Law School. During the war, he was with the United States Field Artillery.

To Make Capital Debut This Fall

MISS LOUISE POPHAM, daughter of Commander and Mrs. William S. Popham, is an attractive member of the younger set who will make her debut this fall in the Capital.

Miss Alice Perry Is Entertained

Shower, Dinner Dance and Supper Planned for Bride-to-Be.

A number of parties are being given for Miss Alice E. Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Perry, of Chevy Chase, whose marriage to Paul Craig Hannum, of Culver, Ind., takes place August 21.

Miss Perry is to be the guest of honor at a shower Friday night, given by Mrs. Joseph White at her home in Chevy Chase. Mr. and Mrs. Perry, parents of the bride-elect, will entertain the wedding party August 20 at the Shoreham Hotel after the wedding rehearsal, at a dinner and dance.

A buffet supper is planned by Mrs. Marc G. Phillips August 18. Miss Perry will have her sister, Miss Ann Perry, as her maid of honor. Her bridesmaids will be Miss Elizabeth Sheld, Miss Mary Elizabeth Bush, Miss Gertrude McRae and Miss Luz Iglesias.

The best man will be Carl Wittberg, jr., of Culver, and the ushers will be James L. Allnut, Charles McCurdy, and Donald Macleay, all of this city, and George F. Rooney, of Cincinnati. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Hannum, of Denver.

Miss Olivier Engaged to Wed

Niece of Rep. Mouton Will Become Bride of State Department Official.

Sweltering temperatures don't hinder young love from flourishing these days, especially up on Capitol Hill. The latest from the younger official set to announce her engagement is Miss Theodora Olivier, niece of Representative Robert L. Mouton, of Louisiana, who has made known her betrothal to Paul Daniels, of the State Department.

Like Miss Jane Holt, sister of Senator Rush Holt, who announced her engagement last week, Miss Olivier acts as secretary and hostess for her uncle. The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Raoul Olivier, of Lafayette, La., she has been making her home here since January. She attended Southwestern College in Lafayette.

Mr. Daniels is in the Division of American Republics of the State Department, and has seen duty in Bolivia and several other Latin-American countries. He attended Phillips Andover School and was graduated from Yale in 1924. He also attended the Universities of Dijon, Grenoble and Toulouse in France. He is the son of Mrs. Flora Daniels, of North Adams, Mass.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Dr. Roy Lyman Sexton, accompanied by Mrs. Sexton and their children, Jean Frances and Roy Lyman, Jr., will sail tomorrow for a European trip. Dr. Sexton is a delegate from the United States to an international medical congress, to be held in Paris September 13 to 16 and another, to be held at Vichy, September 16-18. He will report the proceedings of both meetings for the records of the State Department.

Before arriving in Paris, the party will visit London, Holland, Denmark, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Austria and Switzerland.

Miss Cootes On Tennis Trip

District Champion a Winner in East Hampton, L. I., Tournament.

Miss Mary Cootes, tennis-playing daughter of Col. and Mrs. Harry N. Cootes, of Alexandria, is at East Hampton, Long Island, for the annual women's invitation tennis tournament on the turf courts of the Maidstone Club. Miss Cootes, who is champion of the District of Columbia, won her first match against Miss Gladys Valle Buena, 9-7, 6-3. She played in this tournament last year, and also in the annual one at Newport.

Col. and Mrs. Cootes are at present sojourning in upper New York State, with Mrs. Norah Bell, of Washington. Miss Cootes was in California for a visit of several weeks prior to coming East. Her brother, Merritt Cootes, is at San Domingo, having recently been ordered to duty there by the State Department.

300 Invited to Dance On British Ship York

The British flag ship York, anchored off Newport, will be the scene of a large dance tomorrow evening, for which its commander, Vice Admiral Sidney G. Meyrick, has issued 300 invitations. The York is expected to visit Washington in October.

The flag ship will be in full dress today in honor of Queen Elizabeth's birthday, and an entertainment will be given aboard.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Young have returned to Washington after a motor trip to Maine and Ohio.

NOTES OF SOCIETY

Official and Residential

Lady Lindsay, wife of the British Ambassador, has left her cottage at Sugar Hill, N. H., to motor along the Maine Coast.

Senora Castillo Najera, wife of the Mexican Ambassador, and Senora de Fuentes, wife of the First Secretary of Embassy, have returned to Washington after a motor trip to Canada.

Diaz Leguizamón, First Secretary of the Argentine Embassy, was guest of honor at a dinner given recently by the Financial Attache and Senora de Irogoyen, who are at Sugar Hill, N. H. Senor Leguizamón is visiting the Irogoyens.

Harry L. Hopkins, WPA administrator, and Mrs. Hopkins were guests of honor at a dinner given recently at the Gideon Putnam at Saratoga, N. Y., by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker. Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins have taken a cottage at Saratoga for the month of August.

Mr. and Mrs. William W. Brunswick will leave the end of this week for the Catskills to spend three weeks. Later they will go to Atlantic City. They will return to their apartment at the Roosevelt Hotel for the winter.

Mrs. Jane R. Hollingsworth is home from Great Barrington, Mass., and is at her apartment in the Roosevelt Hotel. Mrs. James Hamilton Bayly, who has been with her and accompanied her on a tour of the New England States, has also returned to Washington and will spend several weeks as the guest of Mrs. John C. Letts before returning to her apartment at the Roosevelt.

Rufus Putnam 3d is leaving to visit his sister, Mrs. William Davis West, at her summer home in Narragansett, R. I. He will return to his apartment at the Wardman Park in September.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. McAneny will sail today on the Normandie for a seven-week tour of England and the Continent.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter J. Reed have left for a motor trip to Saratoga and the Adirondacks.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin T. Fisher, of Spring Valley, are sailing for Europe on the Normandie today. They will join Mr. and Mrs. David P. Wolhaupler, also of Spring Valley, who are now broad in Switzerland, and later will visit Paris and London with them.

Mrs. Homer B. Davis, wife of Lieut. Comdr. Davis, U. S. N., of Washington, is at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York, from her home in Coronado, Calif. She is accompanied by her son, Richard Davis.

Mrs. B. Lauriston Hardin, jr., of Washington is with her mother, Mrs. Edward Boltwood Hull, in Pittsfield, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Aaronson have motored to Maine and Connecticut where they are visiting friends.

Duke, Duchess of Kent Visiting Count Potocki

Windsor's Brother Spending Two Days at Polish Castle After Stops at Warsaw and Cracow on Continental Holiday.

Not only do they put out a welcome mat at Castle Lancut, the estate of Count Jerzy Potocki, Polish ambassador to the United States, but they also hang out a welcome banner. Today it carries the emblem of H. R. H. the Duke of Kent, who with his wife, the former Princess Marina of Greece, is the guest of Count Potocki at his home in southern Poland.

Perhaps the duke, who is an accomplished pianist, is even now playing "Auld Lang Syne" with appropriate cadenzas, on the count's concert grand, for they were once students together at Oxford.

Kent, as handsome as but much more shy than the Duke of Windsor, was welcomed yesterday at the gates of Lancut by Count Alfred Potocki, brother of the host and they rolled along from there to the front steps of the Castle in a shiny open carriage.

There, among others in the house party, they found waiting for them the Polish Ambassador to London, Count Racynski, Prince Czartoryski, Prince Eugene-Lubomirski, Prince Lichenstein of Czechoslovakia.

Arriving in Warsaw last Friday, the Duke and Duchess of Kent went from there to Katowice, the industrial center of Polish Silesia. The Duke once held an important post as factory inspector in the British home office.

Sunday found them in Cracow, stopping at the Potocki palace there. In the afternoon they visited the Church of St. Mary, made an automobile tour of Cracow and in the Wawel Cathedral, the duke placed a wreath on the tomb of famous Marshal Pilsudski, Polish war hero and dictator. Count Jerzy Potocki was the marshal's aide and right-hand man.

Before they left, the citizens of Cracow presented him with a leather-bound album of the city, and the Tourists Club a portfolio with the Cracow coat of arms emblazoned on it.

Kent's two-day stay at Lancut is probably an informal one, for he was always the most difficult of the Windsor brothers to persuade into a uniform—in fact, he set a style for Bond street by always wearing the top button of his double-breasted coats unfastened.

Tomorrow he and the duchess conclude their visit at the castle and continue on to Katowice in Yugoslavia on their continental holiday.

Count Jerzy Potocki and Countess Potocka will spend the rest of the summer at their castle in Poland, returning to Washington in the autumn.

German Admiral Returns to Embassy From Newport Trip

Rear Admiral Robert Witthoefft-Emden, naval attache of the German Embassy, has returned to Washington from Newport, where he spent the week-end at the Nuenchinger King.

During his stay, he called informally on Rear Admiral Charles P. Snyder, president of the Naval War College, and accompanied the latter on the U. S. S. Cummings to see the second international yacht race. Herbert Scholz, first secretary of the embassy was also on the party. Herr Scholz will sail today for a vacation in Germany.

Col. Hirata Entertains Staff of His Embassy

Col. Masochika Hirata, military attache of the Japanese Embassy, entertained at dinner last evening at the Carlton as a welcoming party to members of the embassy staff who have recently arrived in Washington.

Tuckermans Return to D. C.

Daughter Born to the James Todds in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tuckerman have just returned from a vacation in England. They came home by way of Canada, where they landed from the liner Duchess of Richmond.

Miss Alice Tuckerman is also again in Washington after visiting on Cape Cod. Miss Ruth Tuckerman is back from a cruise to Bermuda, and Miss Laure Tuckerman is now the guest of friends on Long Island.

Mrs. Tuckerman's nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. James Todd of New York, have announced the birth of a daughter, Saturday at the Harkness Pavilion, Medical Center. The child will be named Alice.

Mrs. Todd is the former Miss Alice Townsend de Peyster, daughter of Frederic Ashton de Peyster, of New York, and Countess Bohdan de Castellane, of Mentone, France. She frequently visits in Washington as the guest of her aunt.

JULIUS GARFINKEL & CO.

FUR COATS

Those who demand the best furs will inevitably turn to Garfinckel's. We have long been famous for fur coats of quality and for the fine satisfaction which our name implies in any fur purchase.

Our advanced sale of fur coats is an impressive event, important from the point of view of both quality and style, and presenting unusual values in newly designed coats, of selected prime-pelt furs. We invite you to discuss your fur coat selection with us now.

Any coat you purchase will be stored without charge in our cold storage vaults on the premises until wanted.

F STREET AT FOURTEENTH

Black Is Cool!
Black Is Smart!

BLACK
Rayon Jersey
DRESSES
for Misses and Women

$3.99

—Fashion's newest fabric . . . sleek, cool, figure-moulding black rayon jersey . . . Here in a charming collection of dresses with pencil-slim silhouettes, brief skirts, shirred sleeves, draped waists and rich metal trims. Certainly a welcome change from washed-out Summer clothes. Misses' and women's sizes.

"Inexpensive Dress Shop"
Air-Cooled Second Floor

Kann's

IS DELIGHTFULLY AIR COOLED

Tomorrow... IN THE POST

Columnist Harlan Miller happens to believe that Washington is now the gayest, most amusing and enchanting city in the world; that it is more vivid, important and interesting than London or Moscow or Paris, which he visited a few months ago; and that a gayer column can be written about it than any other capital.

He gladly relinquishes all pundit privileges to Boake Carter and Lowell Thomas. He thinks the viewing-with-alarm is being admirably handled by Frank Kent and others. He trusts Westbrook Pegler and Franklin Waltman implicitly to tell the President what to do next, and Jay Franklin to turn his daily proletarian flip-flops.

In his column Harlan Miller aspires to chronicle the vivid life of the Capital and the antics and wisecracks of its celebrities, briefly and with endless variety. The editors who have seen his work are confident that Harlan Miller's column will swiftly become an indispensable part of every Washingtonian's breakfast menu.

The Washington Post

KIMBALL PIANOS
W. W. KIMBALL CO., 721 11th St. N.W.

MAZOR
Masterpieces
FINE FURNITURE & DECORATIONS
911 SEVENTH STREET N.W.

Security Storage
A SAFE DEPOSIT BOX FOR OVER 47 YEARS
1140 FIFTEENTH ST.

REAL BARGAIN OFFERINGS
Women's Summer Apparel
BRESLAU'S
617 12th St. N.W.

Gifts
Decorative Accessories
The Berkmuthian Shop
"Haven of the Unusual"
1700-02 Conn. Ave. 2nd Floor

GLOVE CLEANING
ALL KINDS OF GLOVE REPAIRING
Long Glove Cleaned—25c
Black Glove Restored—35c
SOUTHERN STELOS CO.
912 10th St. N.W. NAL 9442

WHELAN'S BEAUTY SALON
1105 F Street Third Floor

Fresh Nuts Daily
National Peanut Corporation
705 15th St. N.W.
Between Post and Peoples Dr.
Washington Store
Open Every Evening and Sunday

HOLMES TO HOLMES
FRESH PIES CAKES & BREAD
NATIONAL 4537
HOLMES
Modern Bakery

Lester Pianos
Lester's Lifetime
E.A. NORTH CO.
1231 G St. N.W.

the PROFILE hat

Press Club In Farewell To Member

Anne Wheaton Leaving Capital to Live in Philadelphia.

Doris Fleeson Reads Poem Expressing Esteem of Group.

By Jessie Ash Arndt,
The Post Club Editor.

The Women's National Press Club gave a mid-summer luncheon at the Willard yesterday to say good-by to one of its most popular members, Anne Wheaton. She leaves tomorrow for Philadelphia where her husband, Warren Wheaton, is now located as public relations counsel for the Republican Committee, and where they will reside, at Alden Park Manor, Germantown.

Doris Fleeson, the club president, expressed its regret at her leaving, and several of the members presented her with flowers. There were also (much to her embarrassment) prompt contributions of dimes for a bank she said she expected to keep close at hand for the accumulation of a "return fund" for frequent trips back to Washington.

There were no eulogies of the guest of honor—Mrs. W. N. P. C. is not an organization given to oratory—but Miss Fleeson read a poem which she announced had been written for the occasion by Bess Furman's twins. The poem follows:

To the well-known City of Brotherly Love
Goes a lovely and lovable sister,
Who knows her who-is, how-come and whereof.
She's a simple-twist-of-the-wisdomer.

On women in politics; war-cure and cause;
The League's merit system and birth-control laws;
The story of suffrage, clear back to Susan
And most anything else us gals need the news on.

So we've made us this meetin'
in which to speak
And we'll grate right out in this meetin'
She's top of tops, the peak of the peak.
The topic today and the news of the week.
Our able Anne Williams
Wheaton.

Mrs. Wheaton, for 12 years, has been publicity director for the National League of Women Voters. She has been an active member of the Women's National Press Club during her residence in Washington, and as chairman of the house committee for several seasons past has had the task of arranging the seating of some 500 guests at the annual stunt party.

Not only is she an active and popular member of the club but among the most attractive ones. Yesterday she wore a black sheer dress with a corsage of purple orchids and a large black hat which brought out the beauty of her white hair.

Among the guests at the luncheon, which was given in the small ballroom of the hotel, was Miss Margaret Wells, president of the National League of Women Voters. Also present were Mrs. Merle Thorpe, who was a guest of Genevieve Forbes Herriek; Mrs. Lyle Wilson and Mrs. George Holmes, the guests of Corinne Reid Frazier; Miss Lucile Furman, who was with her sister, Bess Furman (Mrs. Robert Armstrong) and Miss Edith Rockbrook.

Four past presidents of the club were there, including Mrs. Lily Lykes Shepard, Miss Winifred Mallon, Mrs. Herriek and Miss Mary Hornaday. Among others present were Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, Mrs. Elizabeth Shirley Enoch, Gladys Montgomery, Gladys Moon Jones, Miss Maud McDougall, Dorothea Lewis, Mrs. Nina Allender, Dorothea Fletcher Howarth, Miss Malvina Lindsay and Helena Hill Weed.

Dunns Return From Auto Trip

Attache to Take Buenos Aires Post About October 1.

The Commercial Attache of the United States Embassy at Buenos Aires and Mrs. William E. Dunn, and their daughter, Eugenia Dunn, and son, Paxton Dunn, have returned to their home from a two-week motor trip, which included a tour of the New England States, with a visit at Lake Winnepesaukee in the White Mountains, and a trip to Ottawa, Quebec and Montreal.

Mr. Dunn, formerly assistant director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, has recently been appointed to the Embassy in Argentina, and with his family will leave for his new post about October 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunn spent some time at Lima, Peru, where Mr. Dunn was Commercial Attache at the United States Embassy several years ago.

Women's National Press Club Gives Farewell Party

Doris Fleeson (left), president of the Women's National Press Club, greeting Anne Wheaton at the luncheon given by the club in her honor yesterday at the Willard. Mrs. Wheaton leaves tomorrow for Philadelphia, where she will live.

Attend National Conclave

Mrs. Marie J. Anderson (left), national executive committee woman of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, and Mrs. Suzanne Miller, conductress of the local unit, are representing the District of Columbia as delegates at the national convention this week in Columbus, Ohio. Tomorrow they will be guests at a tea given at the Governor's mansion there. Mrs. Anderson, who has been a delegate to every national convention since the District unit was organized, is serving her third term as a national officer.

Virginia's Melrose Caverns Co-operates With Clubs in Anti-Billboard Campaign

THE OLD ROADSIDE signs which formerly announced to the tourist he was approaching the famous Melrose Caverns at Lacey Springs, Va., on Highway U. S. 11, are disappearing. The first billboard, a big sign 25 feet wide and 13 feet tall, was chopped down last week, putting the Melrose Caverns on the "white list" of the Associated Clubs of Virginia for Roadside Development.

The 40,000 women in these associated clubs are members of five leading women's organizations in the State—the Garden Club of Virginia, the Virginia Federation of Garden Clubs, the Federated Women's Clubs, the Business and Professional Women's Clubs, the Virginia Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs, and the Virginia Council for Protection of Roadside Beauty. Melrose Caverns are the first in Virginia to take the step of eliminating roadside advertising. The removal of the big sign on Highway 11 opens up a vista of the Shenandoah Valley and the distant Alleghany Mountains.

A dozen or so of the signs already have been painted white by the management preparatory to having them removed. The work is going ahead as fast as possible, and will continue until all the signs are done away with, not only in Virginia but also in West Virginia and Maryland.

Entrance markers, which have been approved by the Associated Clubs, will be placed at the caverns entrance on Highway 11, 6 miles north of Harrisonburg.

"Madame Chairman" . . .

By Suzanne.

MRS. ROOSEVELT has at least one speaking date scheduled for her "off the record" vacation. She is to address the summer session of the Chautauqua Women's Club at Chautauqua, N. Y., on Saturday afternoon, August 21. Mrs. Katie Strickler, of Houston, Tex., vice president of the Chautauqua Women's Club, also will present Jacques Abram, pianist, of Texas and New York, on the program.

Among other well known persons scheduled for Chautauqua this season are Josephine Schain, of New York City; Miss Ruth Pennybacker, of the University of Houston; Miss Mary A. Benjamin, Dr. Edward Howard Griggs and Mrs. Albert Lytle Deane, of White Plains, N. Y.

Dr. Frank H. Bohn, of Washington, has been announced as one of the lecturers on the program of the Stamford Woman's Club, of Stamford, Conn., for the coming season.

ANOTHER "WHO'S WHO" is about to appear in Washington—the Women's National Press Club, no less, is preparing one of its membership. Some of its members are already in the Who's Who that tells why. The rest, with no distinction except that of belonging to the W. N. P. C., will answer questionnaires and thereby have a place in the club's own directory.

You tell who your parents were, where you were born, but not necessarily when; whether or not you were educated, and if so, where; when you began newspaper work and what notable experience you've had, if any. There is also a space for the names of the books you have written and the magazines of which you've been editor.

Frances Parkinson Keyes, who is now abroad, writing another book or two, will lead the list with an important number of best sellers to her credit.

Virginia Stephens, of Alexandria, recording secretary, is assembling the information with the assistance of a committee, including Katherine Lewis, Virginia Price and Loraine Francis.

WELL, for a few more vacation notes: Mrs. Elmer Frazier, a member of the education committee of the federation, which met yesterday with Mrs. Raleigh Gilchrist, was among those not present for she and her daughter, Sara Frances, are on a cruise to Bermuda. She is also a member of the Columbia Heights Art Club and the Twentieth Century Club.

Mrs. Skipwith Coale and her daughter, Elizabeth, sail tomorrow on the Baltimore Mail Line to spend two months in Europe. Mrs. Coale is membership chairman of the A. A. U. W. and a member of Kappa Gamma Alumnae Club. Elizabeth was graduated from the fine arts department of George Washington University in the spring.

Mrs. Grattan Doyle, chairman of the Board of Education, and adviser to the education committee of the federation, has just returned from Boston.

Mrs. Will C. Barnes, wife of a former president of the Arts Club, and her sister, of Phoenix, Ariz., spent the month of July at the club and have now gone to New Hampshire.

Mr. Fulton Lewis, a former Arts Club president, and Mrs. Lewis have just moved into their new home in Falls Church, Va.

Mrs. Albert H. Putney, a member of the staff of the Y. W. C. A., and a past president of the Voteless District League of Women Voters, has returned from a motor trip to Chicago, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Castro Dabrova. They spent a month visiting relatives and friends in and about the city.

HAD A LITTLE CARD today from Mrs. Fannie Sax Long, a friend over in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., former chairman of fine arts for the Pennsylvania State Federation of Women, announcing a broadcast at 2:30 on August 9 over WIZ. Her programs point out the beauty in commonplace things.

Many Subscribe For Excursion

Two Washington attorneys have taken blocks of tickets for the moonlight excursion which the Democratic Women's National Council is giving this evening on the steamer, Poloma, at 8:30 o'clock—Joseph J. Cotter and Phil D. Morelock both will entertain parties. Others who will entertain are Mrs. H. H. Doddridge, president of the council; Lacey Zapf, recently appointed assistant director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, and Mrs. Zapf; Mrs. Robert K. Noble, vice president of the council; Mrs. Arthur D. Condon, former president of the council, and director general of the Democratic Absentee Voters Bureau; Mrs. S. Jennings Asbury, director of the Absentee Voters Bureau; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keils and Mal, and Mrs. Davis B. Willis.

Mrs. Raymond C. Smith, chairman of the committee in charge of the excursion, will be at the dock to receive club members and their guests and to supply tickets.

FINAL Season-End Sale

With last and final Quick Riddance Prices for absolute close-out.

Pasternak
1219 Connecticut Avenue

Mrs. Gilchrist Hostess To Club Women's Group

Education Committee of Federation Discusses Work of Future; School Program to Wait on Advice of Mrs. Doyle.

Mrs. Raleigh Gilchrist, chairman of the education committee of the District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs, yesterday entertained members of her committee at luncheon at her home, preceding an afternoon meeting devoted to discussion of the year's program.

The committee, which has not functioned actively during the past season, discussed various phases of the club work which came within its scope.

Under the head of conservation, the general federation and clubs within its membership encourage the planting of memorial trees and efforts to halt the ruthless destruction of trees in clearing the way for streets and buildings. Some of the clubs in the District Federation may undertake such conservation work and a program along this line will be included in the suggestions of the education committee.

The protection of wild life and support of a bill providing that hunters' license fees be used for maintenance of game preserves is part of the general federation program, but the committee decided this part of the conservation plan could be left to the women's clubs of the States interested in it, while the District gave attention to other activities which concerned it more.

Libraries and the service they offer clubs were discussed. Miss Mary Downing, librarian for the Constitution Sesquicentennial Commission and a member of the committee, suggested a recommendation to the clubs that they make use of the lists of books which has been compiled relating to the history of the Constitution and its signers and include on their programs speakers whom the commission will have available.

Schools and public instruction were discussed but no plan for the club's interest in this field will be made until the committee has conferred with its adviser, Mrs. Grattan Doyle, of the Board of Education, who was unable to be present yesterday.

Mrs. Horace Phelps, who is considered one of the best informed women in the District on recreation facilities here, led the discussion on playgrounds. The committee will have its next meeting preceding the November session of the federation. Mrs. Lloyd Biddle, federation president, was unable to be present at yesterday's conference. Committee members who attended included: Miss Downing, Mrs. George L. Peckham, Mrs. Lou Woodruff, Mrs. Otis J. Rogers, Miss Elaine Eppley, Mrs. Don C. Smith, Mrs. Charles E. Lane, Mrs. Phelps, Mrs. Louis Smith, Mrs. Charles P. Pierce, Mrs. Charles H. Bair, Mrs. Sarah Nevins and Mrs. S. F. Hildebrand.

RUGS CLEANED
By Hand
9x12 $3.00
Standard Rug Cleaning Co.
Phone Metropolitan 4181

RIZIK BROTHERS
GOWNS
1213 F Street
1108 Conn. Ave.

THRIFT SERVICE, 7c lb.
PIONEER LAUNDRY
920 R. I. N.E.—NO. 1315

Florestelle
BEAUTY SALON
ARTISTS IN Permanent Waving
ZOTOS LICENSED SHOP
808 H St. N.E. LI. 9880

EVERY DAY
Add to our list many new friends interested in the very best in furniture. Have you our catalogue?
We would like to mail you a copy.
Authentic Colonial Reproductions

BIGGS ANTIQUE CO., Inc.
1317 Conn. Ave. DI. 0439

Miss Cook to Be Wed To Orville Thompson

Miss Helen Seaford Cook, of San Francisco and New York will become the bride of Orville M. Thompson, of Tulsa, Okla., on August 14, when their wedding ceremony will be performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Malkus here in Washington.

Mr. Thomas is a graduate of Oklahoma A. and M. College and is a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity. They will live, after their marriage, in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Harris left today for Camp Song O' Wood, Naples Me., to be gone a fortnight.

6 Darling Portraits $10

You Will Save $5 Regularly Priced, $15

Vacation is nearly over. Have your children photographed before school begins.

Telephone Now for Appointment

Underwood & Underwood

Portraits of Quality

1230 Connecticut Avenue

District 4488

THREE SMART GIRLS

Smart, because they realize that a good appearance is essential in inviting admiration. That to have a good appearance requires a keen and careful selection of clothes that are "right." That to be smart is to be original—that's why individual styles are what they seek.

Whether it be a FUR COAT, Cloth Coat, Suit trimmed or untrimmed, for sports or dress wear... you may be sure they're correct fashions when they bear the SAKS label.

Saks

610 12th St. N.W.

HOME OF Head & the Pelt-FURS

Today's Calendar

Democratic Women's National Council—Moonlight excursion, S. S. Potomac, 8:30 p. m.
Y. W. C. A.—Dr. Elmer Klein guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Wednesday Club, 614 E street.

Daughters of America—Annual excursion to Marshall Hall aboard City of Washington.

Tailored in Tweeds.
Paris (P).—Many smart women are turned out in tweeds these days. Leading off is the Duchess of Kent, who has selected one of Molyneux's tweed suits. The jacket is brown overchecked in red, and the skirt dark green.

CLEARANCE ON ALL Furniture and Lamps

CATLIN'S, Inc.
1324 N. Y. Ave. N.W. Nat. 0992
Open Daily 8:30 to 5:00 Sat 8:30 to 1:00

TIME FOR Men's Portraits
ARRANGE FOR SITTING NOW
Underwood & Underwood
1219 Connecticut Ave. N.W.

Mattresses Remade $3
Stein Bedding Co.
1004 Eye St. N.W. ME. 9490

BONTEX SHADES
NO. 6600
WASHABLE! DURABLE!
Washington Shade & Awning Company
3097 17th Street N.W.
Phone North 6600

1300 G DROOP'S 1300 G
STEINWAY AND OTHER PIANOS
Hammond Electric Organs
Everything in Music

Sale
DARK SHOES
Suitable for Fall
5.85

Splendid selection of Carlton, Tru-Poise and Laird Schober DARK styles for street and dress. Regularly to 14.75. Also all remaining whites.

HAHN
1207 F

Nine Injured in Oil Refinery Blast; Striking Truckers Assault Driver

The Post is the only daily morning paper in Washington with A. P. WIREPHOTO Service.

Associated Press WIREPHOTO.

Oil Refinery Blast Injures Nine Persons.

Nine men working near these tank cars (above) were injured when an explosion and fire at Sinclair Refining Co.'s plant at Chicago set them ablaze. The 10,000-gallon cars, shown at the height of the fire, were being loaded at the time of the blast.

Associated Press Photo.

Dancers at Convention Review Intricate Steps.

The above scene is not an uncommon one at the convention of Dancing Masters of America in session here this week. The dancers are rehearsing a "hot test" number for the convention.

Sino-Japanese War Stops at Tea Hour.

Japanese troops speeding to the unofficial war by train pause at a wayside station for a spot of tea served by their fair compatriots.

Associated Press WIREPHOTO.

Striking Truckers Assault Motorist.

Striking truck drivers in Philadelphia hurled a brick through the windshield of Tony Margio's truck, hitting him in the face, when he attempted to cross a picketed bridge.

Associated Press WIREPHOTO.

Racing Austrian Tank Shatters Heavy Wall.

The fast tank on the left (above) struck a heavy brick wall at high speed, hurling bricks and mortar in all directions, but the one on the right was up-ended and turned over backward in war maneuvers at Bruck, Austria, when it smashed into a heavier concrete wall. Tanks are considered among the most effective weapons in modern warfare.

Wide World Photo.

France Honors Gen. Foch.

The above statue will be dedicated by President Lebrun of France at Reims, where Gen. Foch met representatives of Germany to close the World War.

Associated Press Photo.

LaGuardia Makes Plea For Low-Cost Housing.

Mayor LaGuardia of New York is shown before the House Banking Committee making a plea for passage of the low-cost housing bill. The Government must help to remove people from "insanitary, cheerless, dangerous hovels," he said.

WASHINGTON: WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 4, 1937

15

Bob Burns Says:

A lot of people wonder why some of the most successful business men come from small towns. There ain't nothin' so mysterious about that. In a small town, they have to learn the business from the ground up and from the back door to the front.

I had a cousin down home that tried to get a job as a salesman in Doc Meier's drug store. Doc says, "I'll give you a job, but before you start waitin' on trade, you'll have to learn every article I got in the store. My cousin went to work sweepin' the floor and openin' boxes, but between times, he was studyin' the stock."

Two days later he says, "Well, Doc, I think I know everything in the store now," and Doc says, "Well, here comes a lady; go ahead and wait on her, and I'll see what you know about it." When my cousin asked the lady what she wanted, the lady says, "I want some powder." Quick as flash, my cousin says, "What kind of powder? Face, tooth, gun or bug?"

Copyright, 1937, Esquire Features, Inc.

THE FEDERAL DIARY

By Scott Hart.

In Brief, Mostly.

What has become of the Matosoff case (the was allegedly dropped for union activity) in the generally serene Agricultural Department? It started off with a lot of smoke that seems to have wisped away.

S. S. B. employees in the Bureau of Federal Old-Age Benefits say they are heavily troubled these days about job security and career service. The Bureau administrators the old-age insurance features of the social security act and is now undergoing a reorganization that leaves the average employee "in a daze as to whether he's coming out of the act or not."

U. F. W. A. is negotiating about it.

The Society of Federal Translators describe their box-lunch picnic in Rock Creek Park last Sunday as a big success. Various topics were discussed and a number of interesting papers were read. Afterward there was handball and other games. Several Government departments were represented and it was unanimously agreed that another picnic be held before the close of the season.

Local unions of the N. F. E. E. now total 616, with members in every State, all of the possessions and in more than 50 foreign countries. This is among the things that make the officials anticipate a record-breaking attendance at the twentieth annual convention, to be held in Springfield, Ill., beginning September 6.

Field Notes.

Of interest from the field: Dr. George C. Boulders, a Government naturalist in cool-sounding Glacier National Park, writes the officials here that footprints on the summer snows of Glacier are of much more immediate interest than footprints on the sands of time. High on Glacier's summits, at times during the summer, footprints across a snowbank often are crimson and the field itself shows a light pink tinge. Dr. Boulders explains that this "red snow" is the coloration of the famous snowfields of the Cordilleras, the Alps and elsewhere, caused solely by the rapid multiplication of a microscopic but brilliantly colored, one-celled plant known as the alga, it is less than one-hundredth of an inch in diameter.

The obligation that members of the United Federal Workers of America must take reads as follows: "I, —, recognizing my obligations as an employee in the public service, and as a member of this union, pledge my honor faithfully to observe the constitution and by-laws of this union; comply with all the rules and regulations for the government thereof; faithfully to perform all the duties assigned to me to the best of my ability and skill; so to conduct myself at all times as not to bring reproach on my union; and at all times to bear true and faithful allegiance to the United Federal Workers of America, an affiliate of the Committee for Industrial Organization."

Progress.

The Governor of Michigan says that if he cannot legally get the State Legislature to consider a civil service bill, he will take the issue directly to the people. Civil service progress is picking up in many of the States.

The new dress of the Agriculture Department's press releases is pleasing.

The annual membership dues of the Interior Department Recreation Association is $1. A substantial sum is expected to be raised for furnishing equipment for the various interbureau and departmental athletic teams. And a part of the fund will be used for stage settings, costumes and other equipments for dramatic productions. While especially talented employees within the department will donate their time to instruction in the different activities—such as bridge, archery, swimming, etc., tap dancing, etc.—there might be need to secure professional instruction in these arts. This will be "one, if necessary, the club leaders say. But they think that with 9,000-employees to draw from, the association should be wholly self-supporting, should need no outside aid.

One man whom we suspect as being most responsible for the rapidly growing success of the I. D. R. A. stoutly refuses to let his name be mentioned. We don't know why. He is certainly giving the new organization some tremendous pushes.

RUGS CLEANED
$12 DOMESTIC $2.75
WASHED
Resilience—Stainless
STAR CARPET WORKS
3316 P St. N.W.

Storm Raised As D. C. Bars Filipino Cabs

Drivers Rush Bureau in Protest When Ruled Off Streets.

Injunction Sought After Lack of Insurance Stops Operation.

By Howard F. Wentworth.

Two-score Filipino taxi drivers stormed the Department of Vehicles and Traffic yesterday protesting Monday's order suspending operations of the Columbia Cab Association under the District Financial responsibility act. They accused the traffic officials of discrimination.

At the same time, the association's attorney, Bryan Carson, prepared to file an injunction against the Commissioners and Traffic Director William A. Van Duzer, forcing them to show authority for the wholesale suspension of 32 taximen's permits and license plates.

The current controversy—first of its kind on local record—followed a $350 Municipal Court judgment against the cab association in connection with a traffic accident. Although the mishap involved but one driver, a subsequent damage suit named every member of the association.

Only 15 Named in Suit.

Carson contended yesterday, however, that only 15 drivers were actually named in the suit. And of these, only eight were served with suspension papers, he said. The balance were included in a clause reading "and all others trading and doing business as the Columbia Cab Association," Carson said.

When it was found the taxi group carried no liability insurance, Traffic Director Van Duzer ordered the entire membership off Washington streets. His action brought hurried inquiries from other major cab concerns in the District yesterday and may lend impetus to pending legislation providing compulsory liability insurance for all Washington cabs.

Yesterday, with their taxis stored in a company garage and their license tags under their arms, the suspended drivers—most of them Filipinos—gathered at the Traffic Department to await orders from their attorneys.

They refused to surrender their tags and permits and before word of the scheduled injunction was received, traffic officials threatened to apply for police court warrants to force compliance with the suspension order.

Eight Ready to Pay.

Carson announced the eight drivers actually served with suspension notices are prepared to pay off the judgment and post liability insurance of $10,000 for each cab. The others, he said, will fight efforts to keep them from operating.

With no previous case of its kind to guide him, Corporation Counsel Elwood Seal was reluctant yesterday to express an opinion on the Traffic Department's authority to suspend 32 drivers for the negligence of one member of the association.

As they lined the curbing in front of traffic headquarters yesterday, the drivers charged traffic authorities with "discriminating against us because we are Filipinos." Said one: "I ain't had enough money to buy food for my kids since they made me stop driving. I ain't never had an accident and I don't see why they take my license because someone else does."

Insurance Regulations.

Under provisions of the financial responsibility act, a motorist must prove his responsibility by posting liability insurance after his first accident.

The Columbia case, it was predicted yesterday, may result in other cab concerns taking out insurance—which would boost local rates in order to provide taxi drivers with additional revenue to meet liability expenses.

Although it was the first time in five years that the Columbia Association has been faced with a judgment, Van Duzer said his action was a necessary step toward raising Washington streets of irresponsible drivers—private and commercial.

Every member of the cab concern—except the eight actually served with notices—must await action on the pending injunction before they will again be permitted to operate. The eight, however, may prove after the judgment is paid and insurance is posted.

Several drivers threatened to protest to the Public Utilities Commission. But Riley Elgen, chairman of the commission, said the P. U. C. could take no action.

FILM DEVELOPING
4-HOUR SERVICE
Fine Grain Developer
Used on All Films
CAMERAS REPAIRED
DREISONSTOK
Ground Floor, Southern Building
1495 N St. N.W.

FOR OPTICAL SERVICE
SEE US AND PAY LESS
SAVE! Walk up one flight... complete optical service after your doctor prescribes... broken lenses and frames repaired, etc.
KUR JEWELRY
AND OPTICAL CO., 2nd Floor
417 7th St. N.W.

Thirteen Little Girls Don Grownup Gowns and Makeup For 'Lady Come See Day' Games at Playground Here

Judges at Taylor Playground said Jane Proby, 12, of 4104 Fourteenth street northwest, dressed as a nurse (extreme left), made the prettiest appearance, but Nancy Harvey, 9, of 1378 Taylor street northwest, done up as a bride, they held to have the most original costume. Mildred Barry, 12, of 1348 Taylor street northwest, and Charlotte Mickelson, age 2 1/2, of 1200 Taylor street, were ranked second in beauty and originality, respectively.

Thirteen youngsters, 2 to 12 years old, were "ladies for a day" yesterday as they donned long dresses, tinted their fingernails, experimented with high heels and fussed with their stylist hats at the "Lady Come See Day" at Twin Oaks Playground, Fourteenth and Taylor streets northwest.

The youngest was Charlotte Mickelson, of 1300 Taylor street northwest, who will be 3 next month. Bedecked in an evening gown and a chic hat, she was every inch a lady—even to her tinted fingernails. Charlotte shared the second prize for the most original costume.

The prettiest, according to Mrs. Adelaide L. Irving, of the Community Center, and Mrs. E. S. Rochester, the judges, was 12-year-old Jane Proby, of 4104 Fourteenth street, who was dressed as a Red Cross nurse, and carried two dolls in her arms. Other prizes went to Mildred Barry, 12, of 1348 Taylor street, who wore a stylish blue gown, and Betty Owens, 8, of 1321 Taylor street, a brilliant figure in a bright red dress.

The fashion show had its romantic interest, too, with Nancy Harvey, 9, 1378 Taylor street, dressed as a bride. She was given first prize for the most original costume.

The two other prize winners were Marilyn Gessford, 6, 1377 Quincy street, who shared a prize with Charlotte Mickelson, and Diane Coonin, 8, of 4104 Fourteenth street, who were given third prize for original costumes. Both wore long dresses, with all the finery—including bracelets and rings and kid gloves—a 6 or 8 year old's wardrobe. The program was arranged by Mrs. Vivian Schaefer, director of the playground.

Double Patrol Put on Streets As Crimes Rise

'Nothing Unusual' About Increase, Inspector Thompson Says.

Chief of Detectives Bernard W. Thompson last night doubled the number of detectives patrolling the streets as the number of robberies and petty crimes continued to rise.

Thompson said yesterday there is "nothing unusual about the increase."

"We have always had spasmodic crime increases," he explained.

Among the robberies reported yesterday was a housebreaking in the home of Laurence Peak, Apartment 21, 1627 Sixteenth street northwest, which netted nearly $900 in jewels and other valuables. Peak took police entrance had been gained while he was out during the day, and every room had been ransacked.

Miss Nora Herring, assistant manager of an Elite Laundry branch office, at 110 Florida avenue northwest, was found bound with adhesive tape on the floor of the shop shortly after noon.

She told police a colored man came into the place, threatened her with a gun and then bound her up. The man escaped with about $21.

Early yesterday police found a small safe which had been cracked open lying on a vacant lot at Second and S streets southwest. Investigation disclosed the box had been stolen from the home of Harry Sherby, 1433 Decatur street northwest Monday night.

The house had been ransacked. No estimate of the value of the contents of the safe could be obtained, police said, because Sherby was away.

A telephone order for a quart of

3 Specialists Treat Poor Youth Who Fractured His Back in Dive

Edward Cannon, the 25-year-old youth, who broke his back Saturday, when he dived into shallow water at Crystal Beach, Md., last night, was under the care of three specialists in Emergency Hospital.

He was in critical condition.

The reports that young Cannon would not receive the proper attention and an operation, if necessary, because of lack of funds, were spiked yesterday by officials of both the Admitting Bureau, under the Community Chest and the Emergency Hospital.

"Since January 1 of this year," stated Ross Garrett, co-ordinator of the Admitting Bureau, "we have handled over 5,000 similar charity hospital cases, and when I spoke with Mrs. Cannon, the youth's mother, yesterday, I assured her that she would not have to raise any funds for her son's hospitalization or treatment."

Yesterday, nerve specialist Dr. John Shugrue was called into the case, and the hospital officials explained that they are "doing everything in their power to bring about the full and complete recovery of young Cannon."

The young man's parents live in a basement apartment at 424 Third street northwest. The father is employed by the WPA as a painter and has 48 hours of work each month. With this salary he must support his family of seven.

"We're here to give the best of assistance at all times," assured W. S. Busick, assistant superintendent of Emergency, "and we will do all we can for Edward, regardless of cost."

whisky and change for $10 ended in a holdup yesterday when an unidentified white man with a revolver took the quart and $8 from David Dorsey, colored, delivery boy for the Ontario Pharmacy, Ontario and Columbia road northwest. The robbery was staged at 3721 Adams Mill road northwest.

One arrest was made by police in the 24-hour period ending last night.

Leslie Mozon, colored, 38, 741 Fourth street northwest, was charged with grand larceny with the theft last week of $49 from Holmes Bakery.

Yesterday's police reports listed thefts of practically everything from money to old automobile radiators, whisky and bicycles.

More than 100 reports were given police by persons whose homes or business places were ransacked. The loot was estimated at nearly $2,000.

Parley Today To Devise New Fidelity Plan

Guarantee of 85 Cents on the Dollar Proposed by Shareholders.

A conference of officials of the Home Loan Bank Board and a committee of depositors will attempt today to work out a plan for reopening the defunct Fidelity Building and Loan Association as a new organization.

An outline of the plan for reorganization of the closed association, released by a committee of shareholders last night, included proposals for a guarantee of 85 cents for each dollar of deposits and insurance of deposits up to $5,000.

A shareholder's subcommittee named at a meeting Monday at 530 Thirteenth street southeast, met yesterday with Comptroller of the Currency J. F. T. O'Connor.

Members of the subcommittee are George A. Sullivan who acted as chairman of Monday night's meeting; Vincent A. Sheehy, former United States Senator Clarence C. Dill, Mary B. Devaney and A. S. Maddox.

Itinerant Given D. C. Prison Term For Death Threat

Justice Oscar H. Lurhing in District Court yesterday sentenced Earle William Gott, 22-year-old itinerant, to an indeterminate prison sentence of from two to five years following a plea of guilty to a charge of sending a threatening letter through the mails.

Gott admitted he had sent a letter to Mrs. Henry Hanford, of 3706 Military road northwest, demanding $1,000 from her under threat of death to her and her son, S. J. Hanford. Through a trap placed by agents of the Department of Justice, he was arrested when he called for a decoy package that was left with the doorman at a downtown hotel.

In passing sentence, Justice Lurhing pointed out precautions taken by Gott to prevent tracing of the threatening letter. He said the whole affair showed that Gott had intended only to frighten Mrs. Hanford and get the $1,000.

After the trial, a juror alleged his colleagues had misunderstood the judge's instructions. He said the judge explained that if the jury thought Jordan had not purposely shot Mrs. Jaynes, then it was to find him guilty of second-degree murder. Actually, the juror said, the other 11 had understood the judge to say that Jordan was guilty of first-degree murder regardless of whether he had understood the judge to say that they had to find him guilty of first-degree murder or acquit him.

Departments of Justice officials said yesterday that the amendment offered by Ashurst was really a "technical" change.

Intentional Mistaken

Thomas Jordan, who recently was saved from death in the electric chair by President Roosevelt, is now serving a life sentence for the killing of Mrs. Lizzie Jaynes, cashier of the Garden T-Shoppe, during a hold-up. He was convicted of first-degree murder.

After the trial, a juror alleged his colleagues had misunderstood the judge's instructions. He said the judge explained that if the jury thought Jordan had not purposely shot Mrs. Jaynes, then it was to find him guilty of second-degree murder. Actually, the juror said, the other 11 had understood the judge to say that Jordan was guilty of first-degree murder regardless of whether he had understood the judge to say that they had to find him guilty of first-degree murder or acquit him.

Departments of Justice officials said yesterday that the amendment offered by Ashurst was really a "technical" change.

Intentional Mistaken

Thomas Jordan, who recently was saved from death in the electric chair by President Roosevelt, is now serving a life sentence for the killing of Mrs. Lizzie Jaynes, cashier of the Garden T-Shoppe, during a hold-up. He was convicted of first-degree murder.

After the trial, a juror alleged his colleagues had misunderstood the judge's instructions. He said the judge explained that if the jury thought Jordan had not purposely shot Mrs. Jaynes, then it was to find him guilty of second-degree murder. Actually, the juror said, the other 11 had understood the judge to say that Jordan was guilty of first-degree murder regardless of whether he had understood the judge to say that they had to find him guilty of first-degree murder or acquit him.

Departments of Justice officials said yesterday that the amendment offered by Ashurst was really a "technical" change.

Intentional Mistaken

Thomas Jordan, who recently was saved from death in the electric chair by President Roosevelt, is now serving a life sentence for the killing of Mrs. Lizzie Jaynes, cashier of the Garden T-Shoppe, during a hold-up. He was convicted of first-degree murder.

After the trial, a juror alleged his colleagues had misunderstood the judge's instructions. He said the judge explained that if the jury thought Jordan had not purposely shot Mrs. Jaynes, then it was to find him guilty of second-degree murder. Actually, the juror said, the other 11 had understood the judge to say that Jordan was guilty of first-degree murder regardless of whether he had understood the judge to say that they had to find him guilty of first-degree murder or acquit him.

Departments of Justice officials said yesterday that the amendment offered by Ashurst was really a "technical" change.

Intentional Mistaken

Thomas Jordan, who recently was saved from death in the electric chair by President Roosevelt, is now serving a life sentence for the killing of Mrs. Lizzie Jaynes, cashier of the Garden T-Shoppe, during a hold-up. He was convicted of first-degree murder.

After the trial, a juror alleged his colleagues had misunderstood the judge's instructions. He said the judge explained that if the jury thought Jordan had not purposely shot Mrs. Jaynes, then it was to find him guilty of second-degree murder. Actually, the juror said, the other 11 had understood the judge to say that Jordan was guilty of first-degree murder regardless of whether he had understood the judge to say that they had to find him guilty of first-degree murder or acquit him.

Departments of Justice officials said yesterday that the amendment offered by Ashurst was really a "technical" change.

Intentional Mistaken

Bill Offered To Alter Law On Murders

Technical Change in District Code Proposed by Sen. Ashurst.

Would Make Slaying During Felony a First Degree Case.

A bill amending the District's statute covering murder, directed principally at professional criminals, was introduced in the Senate yesterday by Chairman Ashurst of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The amendment growing out of the Jordan case and drafted by lawyers in the Department of Justice, would make a killing during a commission of a felony a first-degree murder.

The change, it was explained at the Department of Justice, would make the District laws similar to those of most of the States. It involves merely the shifting of the word "purposely" in the present law, which now reads:

"Whoever being of sound memory and discretion, 'purposely' and either of deliberate or premeditated malice, or by means of poison or in perpetrating or in attempting any offense punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary kills another is guilty of murder in the first degree."

That would appear to apply the word "purposely" to a killing committed during a hold-up or other felony. The amendment offered by Senator Ashurst reads:

"Whoever being of sound memory and discretion, kills another purposely and either of deliberate and premeditated malice or by means of poison, or kills another in perpetration or in attempting to perpetrate any offense punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary is guilty of murder in the first degree."

Thomas Jordan, who recently was saved from death in the electric chair by President Roosevelt, is now serving a life sentence for the killing of Mrs. Lizzie Jaynes, cashier of the Garden T-Shoppe, during a hold-up. He was convicted of first-degree murder.

After the trial, a juror alleged his colleagues had misunderstood the judge's instructions. He said the judge explained that if the jury thought Jordan had not purposely shot Mrs. Jaynes, then it was to find him guilty of second-degree murder. Actually, the juror said, the other 11 had understood the judge to say that Jordan was guilty of first-degree murder regardless of whether he had understood the judge to say that they had to find him guilty of first-degree murder or acquit him.

Departments of Justice officials said yesterday that the amendment offered by Ashurst was really a "technical" change.

Intentional Mistaken

Thomas Jordan, who recently was saved from death in the electric chair by President Roosevelt, is now serving a life sentence for the killing of Mrs. Lizzie Jaynes, cashier of the Garden T-Shoppe, during a hold-up. He was convicted of first-degree murder.

After the trial, a juror alleged his colleagues had misunderstood the judge's instructions. He said the judge explained that if the jury thought Jordan had not purposely shot Mrs. Jaynes, then it was to find him guilty of second-degree murder. Actually, the juror said, the other 11 had understood the judge to say that Jordan was guilty of first-degree murder regardless of whether he had understood the judge to say that they had to find him guilty of first-degree murder or acquit him.

Departments of Justice officials said yesterday that the amendment offered by Ashurst was really a "technical" change.

Intentional Mistaken

Thomas Jordan, who recently was saved from death in the electric chair by President Roosevelt, is now serving a life sentence for the killing of Mrs. Lizzie Jaynes, cashier of the Garden T-Shoppe, during a hold-up. He was convicted of first-degree murder.

After the trial, a juror alleged his colleagues had misunderstood the judge's instructions. He said the judge explained that if the jury thought Jordan had not purposely shot Mrs. Jaynes, then it was to find him guilty of second-degree murder. Actually, the juror said, the other 11 had understood the judge to say that Jordan was guilty of first-degree murder regardless of whether he had understood the judge to say that they had to find him guilty of first-degree murder or acquit him.

Departments of Justice officials said yesterday that the amendment offered by Ashurst was really a "technical" change.

Intentional Mistaken

Thomas Jordan, who recently was saved from death in the electric chair by President Roosevelt, is now serving a life sentence for the killing of Mrs. Lizzie Jaynes, cashier of the Garden T-Shoppe, during a hold-up. He was convicted of first-degree murder.

After the trial, a juror alleged his colleagues had misunderstood the judge's instructions. He said the judge explained that if the jury thought Jordan had not purposely shot Mrs. Jaynes, then it was to find him guilty of second-degree murder. Actually, the juror said, the other 11 had understood the judge to say that Jordan was guilty of first-degree murder regardless of whether he had understood the judge to say that they had to find him guilty of first-degree murder or acquit him.

Departments of Justice officials said yesterday that the amendment offered by Ashurst was really a "technical" change.

Intentional Mistaken

Thomas Jordan, who recently was saved from death in the electric chair by President Roosevelt, is now serving a life sentence for the killing of Mrs. Lizzie Jaynes, cashier of the Garden T-Shoppe, during a hold-up. He was convicted of first-degree murder.

After the trial, a juror alleged his colleagues had misunderstood the judge's instructions. He said the judge explained that if the jury thought Jordan had not purposely shot Mrs. Jaynes, then it was to find him guilty of second-degree murder. Actually, the juror said, the other 11 had understood the judge to say that Jordan was guilty of first-degree murder regardless of whether he had understood the judge to say that they had to find him guilty of first-degree murder or acquit him.

Departments of Justice officials said yesterday that the amendment offered by Ashurst was really a "technical" change.

Intentional Mistaken

Thomas Jordan, who recently was saved from death in the electric chair by President Roosevelt, is now serving a life sentence for the killing of Mrs. Lizzie Jaynes, cashier of the Garden T-Shoppe, during a hold-up. He was convicted of first-degree murder.

After the trial, a juror alleged his colleagues had misunderstood the judge's instructions. He said the judge explained that if the jury thought Jordan had not purposely shot Mrs. Jaynes, then it was to find him guilty of second-degree murder. Actually, the juror said, the other 11 had understood the judge to say that Jordan was guilty of first-degree murder regardless of whether he had understood the judge to say that they had to find him guilty of first-degree murder or acquit him.

Departments of Justice officials said yesterday that the amendment offered by Ashurst was really a "technical" change.

Intentional Mistaken

HAHN

MEN'S SHOPS—14th & G • 7th & K • 3212 14th

SALE

FLORSHEIM SHOES

Nothing Changed But the Price!

The same quality that has built the largest fine shoe business in the world—reduced in price for a short time only! Plan to come in today!

JUST 630 PAIRS LEFT!

$9.50 to $12

FLORSHEIM SPORTS SHOES

Still $6.85

AT 14th & G STS. STORE ONLY

NEW! Simplicity

"STEP-IN FROCKS"

Exclusive with Lansburgh's!

Step into it without mussing hair or make-up. Closes in a second with the genuine TALON fastener.

1.99

- Color-fast high quality percale
- Generously cut princess style
- Completely covered Talon fastener—laundry guaranteed
- Self-adjustable waistline, with perky sash
- Action-free sleeves and skirt
- Dainty, durable organdy collar, sleeve and pocket trim
- Choose from two patterns and six lovely colors. Sizes 14 to 32.

Write Us or Phone DI. 7575 if you can't come in!

Cotton Shop—Third Floor

Lansburgh's

HEALTHFULLY AIR COOLED

LAFAYETTE BED SHOP

BEDS • SPRINGS • MATTRESSES
1747 R.I. AVE. N.W.
BEST • BEDDING • LOWEST PRICES

Specializing in Daybeds
MATTRESSES REMADE
DISTRICT 5034

PAINT FOR EVERY SURFACE, GLASS FOR EVERY PURPOSE

MAINTAIN YOUR PAINT
• Harried Sunlight
• No Peel
• Killings-Chaps
• Soapstone
• Mould
• Vapors

MAINTAIN 50 YEARS OF QUALITY AND STRENGTH

HUGH REILLY CO.

1824 New York Ave.
National 1795
SUMMER HOURS
Week Days 7:30 a. m.—5 p. m.
Saturday 7:30 a. m.—1 p. m.

FILM DEVELOPING

4-HOUR SERVICE
Fine Grain Developer
Used on All Films
CAMERAS REPAIRED
DREISONSTOK
Ground Floor, Southern Building
1495 N St. N.W.

FOR OPTICAL SERVICE

SEE US AND PAY LESS
SAVE! Walk up one flight... complete optical service after your doctor prescribes... broken lenses and frames repaired, etc.
KUR JEWELRY
AND OPTICAL CO., 2nd Floor
417 7th St. N.W.

RUGS CLEANED

$12 DOMESTIC $2.75
WASHED
Resilience—Stainless
STAR CARPET WORKS
3316 P St. N.W.

The Westmores Enjoy Marital Sparring Bouts

Mrs. Westmore Lets Down Her Hair and Spills Family Secrets.

By Martha Raye.

Hollywood, Aug. 3.—A gentleman of the press walked up to me the other day in my private dressing room (what do they mean "private") and he says to me, he says, "I'm a gentleman of the press. Will you write a column for me?"

I got Jack Karp, the Paramount attorney, on the phone and I said, "Is there anything in my contract—like a morality clause or something—that says I can't write a column for a guy who works for the papers?"

Jack, looking after the company's interest as usual, said, "No, but be sure you mention in the first paragraph that Andy Devine is not going to sing for you in your next Paramount picture."

I said, "What picture is that?" He said, "Double or Nothing—remember?"

"But look, Jack, I said, 'I am no hand at all at writing. Even when I write to my relatives, I just use an old stub pencil and I write 'excuse the pencil and the erasings, folks, as there is no ink in the house.'"

"Did you say you use a stub pencil?" asked Jack.

"Yes."

"Well, don't lick that pencil, Martha."

I said, "Why?"

He said, "You don't want to lose it, do you?"

Always Cloning.

Well, it seems we just went along like that from one thing to another, all the time kidding.

I finally says to him, I say, "Well, if I'm going to write this column, Jack, what'll I write about?"

He said, "Why don't you write about it feels to be a newlywed bride?"

I said, "It's nothing to write home about. And it's nothing to write up about in the paper either. I'm crazy about my husband. He's Buddy Westmore of the famous Westmores."

My mother thinks so, too. In fact, we talked shortly after Buddy and I were married, and mother said, "Now, Buddy will probably come home late for dinner once in a while, but don't pay any attention to that. Be big. Ignore it. Don't nag him, and don't lose your temper."

"And did you follow your mother's advice?" asked Jack.

"I'll say," I told him. "The first time Buddy came home late for dinner I didn't even open my mouth to him."

"That's fine," said Jack. "What did you do?"

I said, "I knocked him unconscious."

Jack thought that over for a while, and he said, "Well, I guess nothing out of the ordinary has been going on at your house, at that."

The Other Check:

I said, "Nothing out of the ordinary, except that one night I took an evening paper before Buddy got home, and I cut a pattern out of it. And while I was flat on the floor with it, I figured I'd might as well do the crossword puzzle, too, so I did that. But my stub pencil kept going through the paper and into the rug. And then when I finished I couldn't get the paper back together again so it would look fresh for Buddy."

"How did he like you handing him his paper like that, after a hard day's work?" asked Jack.

"Well, somebody must have spoken to Buddy about keeping his temper, too," I said, "because he knocked me unconscious. He's a nice kid, though, I hastily added."

"And so clever. The other night, when we were going out to the Trocadero, he made up my mouth for me and he only used one lipstick. No refills."

"Well, that's marvelous, Martha," said Jack. "But what if you can't think of anything to write about?"

"I won't write it," I said.

So I didn't.

June Travis Cast In Football Film

June Travis, pretty young featured player, has been assigned the feminine lead in "Over the Goal," fast-moving college gridiron story in which production started this week at Burbank, Calif., according to a dispatch from the West Coast.

Miss Travis replaces Doris Weston, who has been assigned to the leading feminine role in "Submarine D-1," on the basis of her excellent work with Dick Powell in "The Singing Marine." William Hopper will share top honors with Miss Travis, and practically the entire University of Southern California football squad has been signed for the picture.

Film Table

Loew's Capitol—"Slave Ship," at 10:45 a. m., 1:35, 4:25, 7:15 and 10:05 p. m. Stage shows at 12:35, 3:30, 6:20 and 9:10 p. m.

Earle—"Excuse," at 11:15 a. m., 1:30, 4:20, 7:15 and 9:55 p. m. Stage shows at 12:45, 3:35, 6:25 and 9:10 p. m.

RKO-Keith—"The Road Back," at 11:31 a. m., 1:31, 3:31, and 5:30 p. m. "Toast of New York" at 7:14 and 9:14 p. m.

Palace—"Saragosa," at 11 a. m., 1:05, 3:10, 5:20, 7:25 and 9:35 p. m.

Trans-Lux—"Newsreel and Shorts," at 10 and 11:15 a. m., 12:30, 1:45, 3, 4:15, 5:30, 6:45, 8, 9:15 and 10:45 p. m.

Columbia—"A Day at the Races," at 12 noon, 2:25, 4:50, 7:15 and 9:40 p. m.

Metropolitan—"King of Gamblers," at 11 a. m., 1:10, 3:10, 5:20, 7:30 and 9:40 p. m.

Blaise—"Dreaming Lips," at 12 noon, 1:55, 3:55, 5:55, 7:55 and 9:55 p. m.

Little Theater—"Machoben in Uniform," at 11:17 a. m., 1:02, 2:47, 4:32, 6:18, 8:04 and 9:50 p. m.

Tivoli—"Captain Courageous," at 2:30, 4:40, 7:00 and 9:35 p. m.

Ambassador—"Exclusive," at 6:15, 8:05 and 10:05 p. m.

Uptown—"Another Dawn," at 2, 3:30, 5:30, 7:45 and 9:45 p. m.

Nelson B. Bell About The Showshops

The Ladies and Gentlemen of the Drama Desks View A Weird and Wonderful Comic Fantasy in 'Topper'

With Ectoplasmic Costars, Almost Anything Can Happen, and Almost Everything Does, in This Camera Novelty; Billie Burke Found That Fountain; Three Screen Players Much in Evidence; Notes.

THOSE of the ladies and gentlemen of the drama desks who had not already seen it presumably assembled in the private projection room of the Twentieth Century-Fox Film Exchange yesterday afternoon to take a gander at "Topper," as the boys in the back room say. If they did, they were regaled by a comedy novelty in which are employed, for purposes of laughter, many of the eerie devices that heretofore have been utilized almost exclusively to point "horror pictures" and tragedy.

They saw a very rich young man crash his high-power, imported car into a tree by a Long Island roadside.

They saw the ectoplasmic of the very rich young man and his delightfully unconventional wife take human form and rise from the wreckage.

They saw these ectoplasmic representatives of the dead on earth "go to work" on the hen-pecked little banker, Topper.

They saw manifestations of their weird ability to disappear and materialize at will, exerting all the attributes of living human beings in either state.

They saw a great deal more than that, but that is enough to give you a rough idea of the general architecture of "Topper," which comes to the see. They will howl longer and louder Friday.

Since I previewed this unusual subject at a trade showing two or three weeks or more ago, the conviction has grown upon me that "Topper" will prove much the same sort of hysterical laughmaker before an audience as, say, Harold Lloyd's "Safety Last."

This view has been strengthened by the reaction of Capitol audiences to the brief glimpses of scenes from the picture comprising the "trailer" now being shown on the screen. The comic potentialities of the same bizarre camera tricks as were employed for tragic purposes in "The Invisible Man" seem to be limitless. The customers howl at what little they see. They will howl longer and louder Friday.

Probably the cast has something to do with it. It would be a very tough assignment to be told to improve upon the casting of Cary Grant and Constance Bennett, as the ectoplasmic; Roland Young, as their victim; Billie Burke, as his Victorian wife, and Alan Mowbray, as an inspired and privileged butler. They play the ridiculous thing with dead seriousness—which, of course, is the way farce should be played in the best families, and the Toppers certainly were one of the best families.

"Topper," also, is one of the best comedies.

In passing, one of the most charming features of "Topper" is the youthfully ingenious performance of Mrs. Topper given by Billie Burke in the role opposite Roland Young. Miss Burke evidently was successful where Ponce de Leon failed. Her impersonation of the suspicious, yet trusting, wife is as vivacious, as subtly humorous and as completely captivating as she was accustomed to bring to the stage in the remote days of "My Wife," with John Drew—the vehicle of her introduction to American audiences, after a London success—"Jerry, Love Watches," "Mrs. Dot," "Suzanne" and others of her hits of three decades ago. Only ectoplasmic years pass over Miss Burke's blonde head—and they don't count.

Those patrons of the gelatin drama who do not care for Edward Arnold, Frances Farmer and Cary Grant, if any, are in for a disturbing week of it.

While still on the Earle screen as the obstreperous young newspaper woman in "Exclusive," Miss Farmer this evening also will take her place on the silver sheet at RKO-Keith's, opposite Edward Arnold in "The Toast of New York"—she being it.

Mr. Arnold, opening this evening in "Toast of New York," come Friday, will double on the downtown screens by appearing with Jean Arthur in "Easy Living" at the Columbia.

Cary Grant, not content with one appearance at a time, any more than the rest, will be seen in one of his best roles with Mr. Arnold and Miss Farmer in "Toast of N. Y." and then on Friday will blossom out as a full-fledged comedian—or maybe that's what he was in the first place—opposite Constance Bennett, at the Capitol, in "Topper."

If that seems too much of some good people in a short time, it should be some consolation to know that no two roles in which any one of them appears are in the least alike.

When Manager Hardie Meakin, of RKO-Keith's, stages his "gilded age" premiere of "The Toast of New York" tonight, there will be the usual lobby broadcasts over Station WOL. Art Brown, assisted by Ted Ostensamp, will interview the celebrities among the first-nighters as they step from their cars, and several of the debutantes taking part in the proceedings in an important way. The premiere broadcast will be heard over WOL beginning at 8:30 tonight, the honored showing of the picture being the second "premiere" of the evening at 9:14 p. m. "The Toast" is served first at 7:14.

So Bill "Bojangles" Robinson is coming back to town.

This foremost male entertainment ace of his race will headline the stage bill at the Warner Brothers' Earle Theater the week of Friday, August 13, according to announcement made yesterday by Zone Manager John J. Payette.

This supreme artist among the world's tap dancers has traveled quite a distance since he used to "tote" baskets of provender from the old Center Market to nearby homes. Having garnered practically all of the honors to be had in the living theater, and easily the most beloved member of his race in the entire amusement world, Bill Robinson was drafted by the motion pictures to teach Shirley Temple some dance steps for her picture of "The Little Colonel." From that day to this, Shirley has been "Uncle Billy's" idol. In the first issue of the Screen Juveniles Magazine, he has a signed article about it.

"To me, she's the greatest tap dancer in the world for her age," writes Bill. "That youngster can learn more quickly than anyone I ever saw. We go off to a corner of the set, go through the number once or twice and she has it. You think she's not getting the thing, because she never appears to be paying attention to you. You tell her to try it and she goes through it perfectly the first time."

Old Bojangles isn't so bad himself. The last time he played the Earle, about a year and a half ago, he did four shows a day and five on Saturday and never executed the same tap routine twice.

Man, that's pickin' 'em up and layin' 'em down!

Charles "Slim" Timblin, who returns to the Capitol stage on Friday, has been dabbling around in the theater no end, here lately. In addition to a two-season trek up and down the land as Jester Lester in "Tobacco Road"—a role that was made to order for him, or vice versa—he recently has taken a flier in pictures. His last appearance on a local screen was as the shot-gun pappy, with Bob Burns and Martha Raye, in "Mountain Music." He was the old fellow behind all those whiskers.

Vital-News-of-the-Day Note.

Only 120 more shopping days until Christmas—count 'em!

Trademark.

It was from Walter Catlett that Harold Lloyd got the idea to wear glasses in the movies. Catlett, now appearing in "Danger—Love at Work," was then a stage comedian of Broadway fame. Both Catlett and Lloyd now wear them in every picture. Lloyd's are merely part of his screen make-up, but Catlett wears them to see.

Color Film.

Decision to film "Men With Wings," now being scripted, in Technicolor was made recently by William LeBaron, production chief. This will give Paramount two color pictures for the new season, "Ebb Tide," the Robert Louis Stevenson drama now before the cameras, being the other to use the new highly perfected "natural hue" process.

Time Marches On.

A scene in "Music for Madame," starring Nine Martin with Joan Fontaine, was photographed by "The March of Time" newsreel to show how motion pictures actually are made in Hollywood.

Costar in a Spooky Film Farce

As the young couple who have departed this earth in an automobile accident, but still find it possible to mingle with their mundane friends, Cary Grant and Constance Bennett have screen roles a little different from any in which they heretofore have appeared. All this is in "Topper," the Hal Roach feature-comedy, opening at Loew's Capitol on Friday. Mr. Grant and Miss Bennett are pictured above in one of their more rational moments.

In Hollywood With JIMMY FIDLER

Hollywood, Aug. 4.—Memories that bless and burn: When Clara Bow invited Florence Vidor (Mrs. Jascha Heifetz) to a party and said: "Ask your husband to come along and bring his fiddle." When Constance Bennett asked Warner Brothers to stop payment on a $30,000 check so she wouldn't lose it in a bank crash. When Lawrence Tibbett was the only screen star who could boast of twins. When Roscoe Arbuckle's tap-dancing brought down the house (almost) at every Hollywood party. When ZaSu Pitts refused a leading role because the director wouldn't let her leave the set four times a day to feed her baby.

When a publicity man nearly wrecked Lew Cody's career by dubbing him "The Butterfly Man." When Ruth Chatterton called me names because I predicted in a magazine that her marriage to Ralph Forbes wouldn't last—she has been divorced twice since then. When Joan Crawford contracted such a case of microphone-fright that she tried to beg out of her first big role. When Mae Murray threw a bound scenario at Louis B. Mayer because she didn't like a role he had asked her to play. When Garbo and Maurice Stiller dined tête-à-tête in the Cocoanut Grove every night.

When Los Angeles society took up Irene Rich—and all her sister stars chewed their nails with envy. When Stuart Erwin told me that he was going to quit pictures because he didn't want to play comedy. When Lilyan Tashman topped all the blessed-event-anouncers by telling an interviewer that she planned to have a baby within three years. . . definitely!

Douglas Montgomery, smoking his "hunter's pipe," dropped in to see me.

And whenever Douglas appears with that particular pipe, it means just one thing—that he has succeeded in leaving the rest of his 20-odd briars, meerschaums and celanorashes around the studio, at the homes of his friends, or in some one of his favorite restaurants. He is Hollywood's champion pipeleaver. Only when he gets down to the abomination with the trick cover for the bowl does he start out to gather up the rest of his collection. The last time he visited me, he was smoking a cigar. He had even lost his hunter's pipe that time.

Just in case anyone is feeling a bit frustrated today, I want to tell you about a Belgian named Albert Millard. He came to Hollywood a couple of years ago to be a star. flopped dlamally and one morning found the wolf camped right on his doorstep. A common enough Hollywood saga up to there—but Albert gave it a different ending. He ate the wolf—and he's been eating very steadily ever since. He had a collection of photographs, made in Europe, and he sold them for a pretty penny to a studio research department. Now Albert sells authenticity to Hollywood—Whenever an art director wants to duplicate any specific building in London, Paris, or Vienna, Albert cables his agents and a photograph of that building is soon forthcoming—at a price. A very good price, too.

Have you ever noticed the expression of a boy who has just smoked his first cigar—and regretted it? The weary droop of his head and the drawn-down corners of his mouth are a dead give-away. Imagine my surprise to see those exact symptoms on the glamorous face of Carole Lombard when I stopped for an on-the-set chat with her today.

"If I didn't know you so well, I'd think you'd taken up cigar smoking," I kidded. "Mind-reader," she snapped. "I have—I've had to puff on the darned things all day. And I'm getting sicker with every 'take'!"

Young Hopper Is A Bear for Work

William Hopper, young Warner player, has won a feminine heart and he doesn't know what to do about it. The lady is "Queenie," a university mascot bear, used in football scenes.

Not only are her attentions embarrassing at times, and often rough (she's a black rangy brute who scales around 250 pounds) but she won't do her stuff before the camera unless Hopper is on the sidelines.

The other day when Bill might have been away, the director asked him to stay and help them make the bear work!

AMUSEMENTS

ARIALTO

ELIZABETH BERGNER "DREAMING LIPS"

30 MINUTES OF THRILLS AND ACTION

ENGLISH VERSION OF THE "CRIGGAL"

MAEDCHEN IN UNIFORM

"See it. It is the best picture I ever saw."

—Walter Winchell.

The Post's New Yorker LEONARD LYONS

New York Aug. 3. . . you shouldn't, dear. With your crazy hours, I see so little of you—so why burden yourself with any more work. . . All right then, if you want to take that radio program, go ahead. And have's one present you'll need. It's a sign, dear. I made it myself. It reads, 'Applause.'"

12 P. M. "Monday was Westbrook Pegler's birthday." Quentin Reynolds informs at Jack & Charlie's. "He's nuts about baseball, so you know what his wife gave him as a birthday gift? You'd never guess. Peg went crazy his week-end, so while he's gone, Mrs. Pegler had a baseball diamond built on their estate. Imagine—a ball-field as a present."

1 A. M. "John Philip Sousa 34 has been offered a swell job to conduct a band for broadcasts," a radio official tells Emery Deutsch at the Rainbow Grill. "He turned it down. He doesn't want to capitalize on-Sousa's name, because he doesn't know anything about music. Not one of the Sousa children is a musician. . . . Henry Beardsley, of the Social Register, is going to Jamaica in the West Indies to open a hotel there, a sociolite sanatorium at the Pierre. He's taking over the old Bryan Palace and converting it. That's where the Duke of Kent and Princess Marina honeymooned. You can have their room now—for $8 a day!"

3 A. M. Frances Farmer, appearing at Mount Kisco's summer theater, is greeted by the head waiter at Glen Island Casino: "You're the first farmer I've seen in a cow barn in the past seven summers."

3 A. M. "Burgess wanted to stay on Broadway with 'High Tor,' but Hollywood insisted he do a movie," Mrs. Burgess Meredith explains. "So he went West—and now he's got hay fever. . . . 'Did you know this?' a broker informs at the 18 Club. 'The owners of the Apollo Theater on 125th street are paying the Loew people rent for keeping their Victoria Theater closed.' . . . Laurette Taylor always was tough on press agents. Publicist Charlie Washburn reminisces at the Tavern. 'So when Erlanger starred her in 'The Comedienne,' he called me in and said 'I'm leaving Laurette in your hands.' I squeaked, but they both smiled, and Erlanger said: 'You won't have any trouble with her. When I asked why, he explained: 'Because ten minutes ago I sold her a half interest in the show!'"

4 A. M. Charlotte Greenwood holds her barking Pekinese in her lap at the Surfside Club. "Be quiet, you Chinaman," she orders, "or I'll go out and find you a Jan! . . . I just left W. S. Van Dyke, the director, a film official relates at the Village Brewery. "He's taking boring lessons from Art Lecky, the pug, who has been made an assistant-director there. . . . 'What's the name of that man who wrote those two books?' Clifton Webb asks a group at the Versailles. 'You mean, Nigel Bruce offers, 'Shakespeare?' . . . 'Woolworth Donahue and Michael Framar just phoned me from Europe. Mary Kirk Brown confides at the Rainbow Room. 'They said if I don't go over and join them, they'll come back here for me. . . . 'Maybe it's a publicity stunt, but the application will be filed,' an attorney states at Berioletti's. "Robert Wildhack, the 'daring' professor of Broadway Melody, has retained me to try and copyright his snoring sounds."

5 A. M. A young lady wearing her escort's oversized shoes dances with a barefooted partner at the Bork Club. . . . Look at my countryman here! Rouben Mamoulian points to William Saroyan. "He gets a job with B. P. Schulberg and after eight days of reading magazines he finally decides to work. Over the week-end he finishes a complete shooting script—the entire picture to cost only $300. There was no cast, no setting—and no picture. . . . Cuban Consul sures steps to the floor of the Club Yumuri and does an exciting rumba. "Please, please," cautions Gen. Lisa, of the Cuban army, "for a diplomat that is not diplomatic. . . . At Leon & Eddie's Katherine Lee—now wed to boxer Ray Miller—sleeps to the floor to join her sister, Jane Lee, entertaining at that cafe. "Look at my baby's picture," Eddie Davis gushes. The former baby movie-stars examined the photo. "Listen, Eddie," they sigh, "when we were that age we made twice as much as you're making!"

6 A. M. . . . and thanks so much for the movie camera, dear. . . . But why the dog-leash attached to the box. . . . Oh, I see. So you're going to buy me a wire-haired terrier. But until then—suppose I'll have to focus the leash and housebreak the camera, eh? . . .

That 'Rough Stuff' Requires Nerve in a Screen Beginner

Being called upon to slap, and throw a vase at, a motion picture star is a pretty severe test for a screen newcomer to be subjected to. Thelma Leeds had to meet it, however, for recent scenes of Edward Arnold's starring picture, "The Toast of New York." Blonde Frances Farmer was on the receiving end of the slap and narrowly missed connections with the vase.

The scene was one which shows Miss Leeds, a cinema recruit from radio and the musical stage, berating and abusing Miss Farmer, who in that stage of the story is her maid.

The slapping episode was bad enough, despite Miss Farmer's encouragement, but the technique of "pulling punches," the brunette newcomer delivered two or three feeble taps before she finally cut loose with a slap that echoed throughout the stage and entirely satisfied Director Rowland V. Lee.

When it came time for the vase throwing, Miss Leeds was far more frightened than her potential victim. She was actually shaking and her doubts as to the accuracy of her aim seemed well founded.

Again Miss Farmer stepped into the role of chief encourager.

"You don't know what a good dodger I am," she said. "Just let it fly and I'll get out of the way."

The vase did fly. And Miss Farmer did duck—just in time. The missile cleared her head by a scant inch and crashed against a wall, shattering into bits. Director Lee did not call for a re-take.

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

Scores. Van Hellen, noted Broadway actor who made his screen debut in Katharine Hepburn's "A Woman Rebels," is cast as a semihappy in "Annapolis Salute," featuring Harry Carey, James Ellison and Marjorie Hunt, thus demonstrating his versatility.

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

AMUSEMENTS

air, Whites, Black and Whites.

SHOES.....7.95

Shriner & Urner
Floor—The Hecht Co.

Enthusiastic Sheds 5.07 Pounds of Ballast; Ready for Third Cup Test

THIS Morning
Gevinson Was Great
Even in Defeat.

By Shirley Povich.

The Gevinson kid, the ladie known as Lou, lost a fight the other night but he won a host of admirers by the way he went out in that eighth round against Joey Archibald at Griffith Stadium. There was something honest about it as Gevinson pleaded with Referee Denny Hughes to let him continue.

He was a pretty messy looking fellow, as he was flopped back there on his haunches, entangled in the ropes after his third knockdown by Archibald. Blood spurted from his left eye and mouth, and his cheek was badly swollen. But Gevinson was clambering back to his feet when Hughes claimed him and awarded the fight to Archibald.

It was the proper decision. Gevinson was in poor shape to continue. Up to that point he wasn't seriously hurt. But another of those crashing rights might have produced tragedy. At least it would have been inhumane.

But as Gevinson fought the fight there is evidence that he was Archibald. He was fighting—well, because he was fighting only his sixth professional fight against a seasoned campaigner who knew how to set when there was a crisis in the betting.

Gevinson is still a green kid and to his everlasting credit is the fact that he actually was leading Archibald until that fatal eighth round. But he muffed his one big chance to win the fight and then, in his greenness, set the stage for the unhappy ending.

The Southwest boy beat himself first in that sixth round when, after planting a steaming left on Archibald's chin that caused the midge's knees to buckle, he failed to press his advantage. At that moment, Gevinson had none of the ring luster which a seasoned fighter would have called upon. He literally let Archibald up.

Archibald was truly in a bad way in that sixth. He was sagging and remained upright only because Gevinson failed to let him fall. Instead of backing away to measure his man and deliver the crusher, Gevinson stood out in close quarters like the green kid he is and permitted Joey to wrangle his way back to his feet.

Lou's own eagerness to fight helped Archibald to finish him in the eighth. After that first count of nine when he ran into another crushing right hand, Gevinson refused to stay on the floor until he was cleared, and bounced up without a count. That was fatal. He was stumbling when he arose and an easy mark for the punch that finally sent him into the ropes.

But a lad who, in six professional fights, developed the native talent that Gevinson brought into the ring with him, most certainly has a future. He went into the ring the other night the 2-to-1 underdog, but off that performance and despite his knockout, Gevinson will not be held so cheaply the next time he meets up with Archibald.

The attention of the Griffith Stadium press box was arrested yesterday afternoon by the entrance of a swaggering figure with a cigar in his face—none other than Sheriff Dave Harris, the former Nat who played 20 years too late for Ring Land.

Jack Keefe in the flesh, that was Dave Harris when he was outfighting for the Nats for a stretch of five years that ended in 1935 and he also charged the match since he joined up with the Montreal club.

An off day on the schedule which found Montreal in Baltimore was the cause of the thing in the Griffith Stadium game yesterday. He took a look at the scoreboard which showed the double victory of the Yankees over the White Sox and commented:

"That's where I belong—with them Yankees. I never pitched in my life, but I could pitch for them. All a guy has to do is to hold the other club to ten runs and the Yankees will win the ball game for him. Any pitcher who doesn't win 100 games in a season ought to be sent to the glue factory."

Nats Beat Browns
In 12 Innings, 3-2

Continued from Page 17.

by both teams. Ferrell had the bases full of Browns in the eighth, but slipped to Stone and he was out of trouble again in the tenth after Voemick doubled with one out. In that inning, Ferrell fanned Knickerbocker and the third out was made. A lapse in control nearly cost Ferrell the ball game in the twelfth. He walked Harry Davis and then pitched a single to Sammy West. Davis made third safely when Buddy Lewis dropped Alameda's throw and Ferrell thus was in distress. He was almost out of danger when Voemick popped up, but after passing Cliff to fill the bases, he pitched a long fly to Bell that brought Davis home from third with the run that put the Browns ahead, 2-1.

The Nats were miffing scoring chances all day. They made two hits in each of the second, fourth, ninth and tenth innings, but couldn't get a run across. But in that twelfth they didn't miff because they apparently had been living right.

Time Out!
BY CHET SMITH

Did you say this lake was full of perch, Joe?

Those who go for the sports pages will go for Harlan Miller's chatter in his sprightly new column starting tomorrow in The Post.

Mitchell Wins
To Advance in
M. A. Singles

Seven Seeded Stars Gain
Fourth Round; Lynch
Defeats Howell.

Seven seeded players, as yet introduced to old man upset, moved into the fourth round of the second renewal of the Middle Atlantic Men's Singles championship yesterday at the Edgemoor Club courts, but matches listed for today are expected to cut that number by the time the quarterfinals are reached tomorrow.

Led by Dooly Mitchell, top seeded entry, who advanced through the third round by eliminating Stewart Parker, North Carolina University student, 6-1, 6-1, and then taking a set from Charles Heacock, in their fourth round match before darkness halted it, the pack of favorites advanced against weaker foes.

Hugh Lynch, rated No. 2, defeated Dick Howell of Miami, 6-1, 6-1. Lynch, Bill Howard of Washington, D. C., 7-5, 7-5. Frank Shore, No. 3, won from Austin Rice, 6-1, 6-1, and Bill Brees, No. 4, eliminated Elwood Hoffecker, 6-2, 6-2. Fourth round matches today do not bring any seeded players against each other, but three will be playing placed players, several of whom may spring upsets.

Yesterday's Results.

Third round—Hugh Lynch defeated Howell, Miami, Fla., 6-1, 6-1. Lynch, Bill Howard of Washington, D. C., 7-5, 7-5. Frank Shore, No. 3, won from Austin Rice, 6-1, 6-1, and Bill Brees, No. 4, eliminated Elwood Hoffecker, 6-2, 6-2. Fourth round matches today do not bring any seeded players against each other, but three will be playing placed players, several of whom may spring upsets.

Sports in Brief

INJURED BOXER DIES. Pittsburgh, Aug. 3 (AP)—A young boxer named Louis Fazio, 24, died of a heart attack after a fight with a former contender in an outdoor arena in Pittsburgh.

RACE TRACK IS VOTED. Fort Lauderdale, Fla. (AP)—Breward County voters stamped their approval of a $2,419,000 horse racing track, which would be built on a 25 mile stretch of the Atlantic coast.

QUINTANA ROO BEATS LEMUEUX. New York, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Kansas City Chiefs, 11-0, defeated the New York Yankees, 11-0, in a game that was a technical knockout for the Yankees.

BLUES SEEK TOP BIRTH. Kansas City, Mo. (AP)—The Kansas City Blues, 11-0, defeated the New York Yankees, 11-0, in a game that was a technical knockout for the Yankees.

HAWAII PLAYERS LOSE. Honolulu, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Hawaii Islanders, 11-0, defeated the New York Yankees, 11-0, in a game that was a technical knockout for the Yankees.

SENIOR TENNIS TOURNAMENT. Honolulu, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Hawaii Islanders, 11-0, defeated the New York Yankees, 11-0, in a game that was a technical knockout for the Yankees.

EDDIE GERARD DIES. Ottawa, Ont. (AP)—Eddie Gerard, former major league hockey star and coach, died of a heart attack after a fight with a former contender in an outdoor arena in Pittsburgh.

RIGHTMERE IS WINNER. Chicago, Ill. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, 11-0, defeated the New York Yankees, 11-0, in a game that was a technical knockout for the Yankees.

MINOR LEAGUES. Various cities (AP)—The minor leagues played several games today, with the Chicago Cubs leading the league.

Englishman
Desperately
Seeks Speed

Sopwith Attempts Drastic Measures to Change
Tide of Series.

By Alan Gould.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 3.—Endeavour II, twice-round challenger for the classic America's Cup, slid back into the water this evening, minus 5,070 pounds of lead ballast and hopefully prepared to make a better "light weather" showing against Ranger in the third race tomorrow.

Less than 1,000 pounds of the ordinary three-ton load of inside ballast carried by the British schooner remained after T. O. M. Sopwith, skipper of the challenging craft, decided upon drastic measures in a gamble to check Harold S. Vanderbilt's winning streak.

The ballast, consisting of lead "pig" was removed from the depths of Endeavour's bilge while she was hauled out for inspection at the Herreshoff yard in Bristol, some 15 miles up Narragansett Bay, with Ranger on the ways nearby.

The change in ballast was made in the absence of any other evidence of structural defects, faulty handling or the slightest sign of having been tampered with by the British.

Sopwith's move, prompted by a desire to leave nothing undone on the challenger's behalf, was designed to check Endeavour's better light-weather boat in the prevailing moderate southerly airs.

It may prove no more effective than similar measures, taken three years ago, when the tide of sailing fortune turned against the first Endeavour's cup bid, but the British feel now they must take some radical chances if they hope to come back.

Two more victories for Harold S. Vanderbilt's sensational racer will clinch America's sixteenth defense of the cup and achieve a record-setting eighth victory for the 54-year-old skipper of Ranger. Vanderbilt was at the wheel of the cup defender in 1930 and 1934. He has now 10 out of 13 cup races.

Thames street bookmakers tonight quoted 10 to 1 against British chances in the third race tomorrow, scheduled over a 30-mile windward-leeward course at 11:40 a. m. (E. S. T.). No further wagers were being made on the outcome of the race, so convinced were the professionals, sailors and sports fans that it was now only a matter of time before the British would turn the wheel over to their hands.

Only some hidden and startling "breaks" can prevent one of the worst routs in cup racing history. Sopwith twice has gained starting advantages. He held the upper hand for nearly an hour during the second race. He can find no fault with his crew, his sails or his strategy, despite inevitable criticism and second-guessing. There has not been the slightest foundation for reports that Sopwith would turn the wheel over to their hands.

Betty Jacobs
Is Playground
Net Winner

Montrose Girl Advances in Singles, Doubles; Third Round Today.

Betty Jacobs, the blond Montrose Park girl who has made rapid strides this summer in playground tennis ranks and is one of the favorites in the junior tournaments now being held, advanced to the third round yesterday with a clean cut victory over Agnes Percy of Georgetown, 6-0, 6-1.

In the doubles, Miss Jacob, sister of Morgan (Happy) Jacob, and Camille Jacob, both veteran District players, and her partner, Harriet Gordon, were given stiff competition by the Georgetown pair, Agnes Percy and Virginia Bradford, before they won, 6-3, 6-4. Other favored players advanced without upset in both tournaments.

Results of yesterday's singles matches: Molly Thompson (Cherry Chase) defeated Emma Dorr (Hawthorn), 6-0, 6-1. Betty Jacobs (Montrose) defeated Agnes Percy (Georgetown), 6-0, 6-1. Jean Davis (Hawthorn) defeated Mary Burton (Hawthorn), 6-0, 6-1. Dorothy Blake (Hawthorn) defeated Elaine Gault (Langdon Park), 6-0, 6-1. Evelyn Crisp (Hawthorn) defeated Katharine Stevens (Potomac), 6-0, 6-1.

Results of yesterday's doubles matches: Molly Thompson and Emma Dorr (Cherry Chase) defeated Betty Jacobs and Harriet Gordon (Montrose), 6-0, 6-1. Jean Davis and Mary Burton (Hawthorn) defeated Dorothy Blake and Elaine Gault (Langdon Park), 6-0, 6-1. Evelyn Crisp and Katharine Stevens (Potomac) defeated Betty Jacobs and Harriet Gordon (Montrose), 6-0, 6-1.

Welsh Bows
In Meadow
Net Match

By the Associated Press.

Southampton, N. Y., Aug. 3.—Two former American Davis Cup players and the stars of a 1937 Japan tennis team gave evidence today that they would be serious challengers to defending Champion Bobby Riggs in the forty-seventh Meadowbrook men's invitation tournament.

Frank Shields, who arrived at noon from California, slashed through two opponents to overtake the field in the third round. Sidney Wood, former Davis Cup teammate of Shields, and also a recent resident of California, although he had been in New York for a long time, was defeated by Shields, 6-2, 6-1.

Shields had a couple of close calls after his long train ride and belated start. He conquered Japs Heidman, of Los Angeles, in his first match, 6-2, 6-4, but only after the 1936 National Junior title holder had led, 4-0, in the final set. Heidman lost control at this state and Shields won six straight games. In the second round Frank turned back Ramsey Potts, of Memphis, Tenn., 6-4, 6-3, 6-0.

Kitchen, Griffith's
Old Catcher, Dead

Special Dispatch to The Post.

Danville, Ill., Aug. 3.—James Harvey Kitchen, 73, brick mason for many years and baseball player in his early manhood, who caught Clark Griffith, the Washington Baseball Club owner before Griffith joined the big league, died at his home here after a long period of ill health.

He moved to Hoopeson when a boy and played baseball while learning the brick mason's trade. Hoopeson was a red-hot baseball town and did not hesitate to pay good prices for star players for a single game. They learned about an 18-year-old kid pitching for the Normal High School and employed him to pitch Saturdays at Hoopeson and Sundays somewhere away from home.

It was Clark Griffith, and he usually had catcher named Fatty Sharp, a Chicago & Alton switchman, but Sharp could not keep sober and the rival team soon found this out. Kitchen then replaced Sharp.

Work of the Nats

BATTING AVERAGES.

Player	AB	R	H	HR	BA
Travis	30	10	10	3	.333
Law	25	8	11	1	.440
Kuhel	25	8	11	1	.440
Brown	25	8	11	1	.440
Miller	25	8	11	1	.440
Stewart	25	8	11	1	.440
McDonald	25	8	11	1	.440
Waller	25	8	11	1	.440
Link	25	8	11	1	.440
Anderson	25	8	11	1	.440
DeBussche	25	8	11	1	.440
Chapman	25	8	11	1	.440
Jacob	25	8	11	1	.440

PITCHING RECORD.

Player	IP	R	ER	BA
Law	10	1	1	.111
Travis	10	1	1	.111
Kuhel	10	1	1	.111
Brown	10	1	1	.111
Miller	10	1	1	.111
Stewart	10	1	1	.111
McDonald	10	1	1	.111
Waller	10	1	1	.111
Link	10	1	1	.111
Anderson	10	1	1	.111
DeBussche	10	1	1	.111
Chapman	10	1	1	.111
Jacob	10	1	1	.111

Pro Matches
Scheduled at Indian Spring

The professional double exhibition matches, featuring whistling Leo Walper, on exhibition as the new Middle Atlantic Professional Golf Association champion will be renewed at Indian Spring on Sunday at 2:30 and 2:45 p. m. for the local links fans.

Walper, a climaxed a short professional career with his first major triumph last week, will pair with Bob Barnett, Chevy Chase, against Wiffy Cox, who has yet to be on the losing side in these matches, and George Diefenbaugh, the host mentor, a hard man to beat over the Four Corners course.

The matches, that include six of the ten money winners in the recent Mid-Atlantic event, and Cliff Spencer paired with Mel Shorey in the other foursome, against Ronald MacKenzie, Congressional's pro, whose game has improved several strokes in the past month and is now the longest hitter in the District, and Al Treder, the New Chamberlin Club course record holder.

In the four series of matches played to date, Cox, who has figured in two sweepstakes victories, leads the scoring averages with 71 strokes over Beaver Dam, Kenwood, Manor and Columbia, scenes of the matches. Walper, playing in but two of the encounters, is second with a 71½ score average.

The scoring record of the other participants includes Spencer, 3 matches, 72½; Diefenbaugh, 3 matches, 73½; Treder, 3 matches, 73½; MacKenzie and Barnett, 4 matches each, with a 74 average, and Shorey, 76½ in a trio of matches.

The fact that six of the eight pros were in the first ten at Old Point classes them as the outstanding group in this section. Treder and Shorey, who finished out of the prize list, were only 2 and 4 strokes, respectively, out of the money.

Fred Steele Reported
Considering D.C. Bout

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 3 (AP)—World's Champion Freddie Steele looked toward Hollywood, Calif., and Washington, D. C., today, for a bout with Ken Overlin, contender for the middle-weight boxing title.

Dave Miller, Steele's manager, announced receipt of an offer of $30,000 to meet Overlin in the Hollywood arena, September 13. He had previously asserted a similar offer was received for a battle with Overlin, Jack Dempsey's protegee, in Washington at about the same time.

Miller said he was considering both offers.

Bancuso, Castleman
Rejoin N. Y. Giants

Cincinnati, Aug. 3 (AP)—Catcher Gus Mancuso and Pitcher Slick Castleman returned to the New York Giants today.

Mancuso, his right index finger still encased in a split, expects to be back into action within a week. Castleman's ailment, diagnosed at first as sciatica, has been found to be a separation of the sacroiliac. He will finish the season wearing a brace and go to the hospital in the fall for an operation.

Yesterday's Homers

Lazzeri, Yankees, 2; Dickey, Yankees, 1; Gehrig, Yankees, 1; DiMaggio, Yankees, 1; Brucker, Athletics, 1; Demaree, Cubs, 1; Hardesty, Cubs, 1; Lee, Cubs, 1; T. Moore, Cardinals, 1; Martin, Phillies, 1.

LEAGUE TOTALS.

League	Home Runs
American	504
National	423

T. Moore Hits
Homer to Win
For Cards, 5-3

By the Associated Press.

St. Louis, Aug. 3.—Terry Moore, St. Louis Cardinals' centerfielder, hit a home run with two men on base in the seventh inning to provide the winning margin in a 5-to-3 victory over the Boston Bees today. St. Johnson went the route for the Red Birds.

Score: St. Louis, 5; Boston, 3. St. Louis: 1st Inning, 0-0-0; 2nd, 0-0-0; 3rd, 0-0-0; 4th, 0-0-0; 5th, 0-0-0; 6th, 0-0-0; 7th, 5-0-3; 8th, 0-0-0; 9th, 0-0-0. Total, 5-3-10. Boston: 1st Inning, 0-0-0; 2nd, 0-0-0; 3rd, 0-0-0; 4th, 0-0-0; 5th, 0-0-0; 6th, 0-0-0; 7th, 0-0-0; 8th, 0-0-0; 9th, 0-0-0. Total, 0-3-10.

ATTENTION Government Employees!

- Auto Financing
- Auto Insurance

Special Rates

General of America Co., Inc.
Assets: $1,170,000,000
Surplus: $1,170,000,000

GUARDIAN

Management Corp.
335 15th St., Room 24
N.E. 4440

WAKE UP FROM THE WORLD'S LARGEST TIRE WALKS

THE BEST TIRE—"ON THE RECORD"

Exact mileage records kept by large companies show Goodyear tires wear longer—save millions of dollars from experience. That is why for 22 consecutive years more people have bought Goodyear tires than any other kind!

THE CHEAPEST THING ON YOUR CAR IS THE BEST TIRES YOU CAN BUY!

Charted here are average maintenance costs obtained from fleet owners operating hundreds of cars on Goodyear tires. Note that Goodyear costs only about one-fifth as much as gas—from one-quarter to one-half as much as other routine expenses.

COST PER 100 MILES

Category	Goodyear	Other
Oil and Grease <td>1.00</td> <td>1.50</td>	1.00	1.50
Wash and Wax <td>1.00</td> <td>1.50</td>	1.00	1.50
Wash and Wax <td>1.00</td> <td>1.50</td>	1.00	1.50
Wash and Wax <td>1.00</td> <td>1.50</td>	1.00	1.50
Wash and Wax <td>1.00</td> <td>1.50</td>	1.00	1.50

ALL Goodyear tires give you these top-rank features:

1. Quick-stopping corner traction grip
2. The Goodyear Margin of Safety
3. Tough extra-mileage non-skid tread
4. High, wide shoulders to hold on curves
5. Superbuilt Cord blow-out protection in every ply

IS YOUR CAR "VACATION-READY"?

Goodyear endorses the Quality and Value of these products that bear our name:

- SEAT COVERS
- FLOOR MATS
- LIFEGUARD TUBES
- TOP DRESSING
- FLOOR BELTS
- SPARK PLUGS
- TOUCH-UP ENAMEL
- SPARK LINES
- and many other aids to car travel

GOODYEAR T-1

Look for this sign WHERE TO BUY

GOODYEAR CREDIT TIRE STORES

Store Name	Address
ANACOSTIA MOTOR COMPANY	1225 Good Hope Road S.E.
ATLANTIC GARAGE & SERVICE CO.	10th and E Sts. N.W.
BRIGHTWOOD AUTO SUPPLY CO.	1017 Georgia Ave. N.W.
BROOKLAND GARAGE	1000 Michigan Ave. N.E.
CHENKIN MOTOR COMPANY	4410 Benning Road N.E.
COLORADO SERVICE STATION	5500 Colorado Ave. N.W.
CORONER & FORTER, INC.	3 Stations
KENNEDY SERVICE STATION	New Ham and Kennedy N.W.
LENNER'S SERVICE STATION	4410 Benning Road N.E.
MORRIS'S SERVICE STATION	1411 Bladenburg Rd. N.E.
MCDONELL BROTHERS, INC.	1411 Bladenburg Rd. N.E.
MID CITY TIRE COMPANY	1401 N St. N.W.
MINUTE SERVICE STATION NO. 4	2100 Pa. Ave. N.W.
SHERWOOD STATIONS	EMERSON & ORME, 17th and M Sts. N.W.
NOWLIN SERVICE STATION	3225 Georgia Avenue
DAVE MORRIS SERVICE STATION	1509 M St. N.W.
FOHLMANN'S SERVICE STATION	1017 Georgia Ave. N.W.
POTOMAC TIRE CO.	2nd and M Sts. N.W.
RICHARDS SERVICE STATION	7th and G Sts. S.W.
RIVER VIEW SERVICE STATION	6th and Water Sts. S.W.
VIEW SERVICE STATION	1701 Georgia Ave. N.W.
BETHESDA MESSON CO.	6819 Wisconsin Ave., Bethesda
BETHESDA SHELL SERVICE STATION	1000 Georgetown Rd., Bethesda, Md.
BYATTSVILLE, MD.	Extraville Auto & Supply Co.
LATTONSVILLE, MD.	Grever Armstrong
NORRIS, MD.	L. W. White
ROCKVILLE, MD.	Seed Brothers
SILVER SPRING, MD.	Silver Spring Garage
TAKOMA PARK, MD.	Extraville's Garage
TAKOMA PARK, MD.	Takoma Motor Company
ALEXANDRIA, VA.	Irvine Payne
BEAULTON, VA.	Burke Motor Co.
CLARENDON, VA.	Miller's Super Service
CULPEPER, VA.	Culpeper Motor Co.
FAIRFAX, VA.	Service Garage
FREDERICKSBURG, VA.	Burton's Filling Station
HERNDON, VA.	Hearn Motor Co.
LEESBURG, VA.	Fry Motor Co.
MANASSAS, VA.	Manassas Motor Co.
MIDDLEBURG, VA.	Burke Brothers
THE PLAINS, VA.	Robert S. Lee
PURCELLVILLE, VA.	Chan Motor Co.
WASHINGTON, VA.	Washington Supply Co.

SHELL AUTHORIZED DEALERS

WASHINGTON PETROLEUM PROD. INC., Station

General Motors Du Pont Reveal Big Bonuses

SEC Denies Requests to Hold Information
Confidential.

By the Associated Press.

The Securities Commission yesterday denied requests by General Motors Corporation and E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. for confidential treatment of their 1936 bonus lists.

General Motors paid bonuses ranging from $32,000 to $411,161 to 46 executives. Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of the board, received the $411,161 top bonus and William S. Knudsen, vice president, was next with $387,450. Including bonuses, the executives pay checks for 1936, were as follows: Sloan, $561,311 in 1936 and $374,505 in 1935; Knudsen, $307,945 in 1936 and $374,475 in 1935; Charles E. Kettering, vice president, $253,755 in 1936 and $249,885 in 1935.

Du Pont Payments.
Du Pont paid bonuses ranging from $22,000 to $95,000 to 46 executives. J. Thompson Brown, W. S. Carpenter, Jr. and J. E. Crane, each received $85,000. Their salaries, including bonuses, last year were: Brown, $137,785; Carpenter, $135,545; and Crane, $137,220.

The Ward Baking Corporation of New York also was refused permission to conceal its principal salaries.

J. M. Livingston, president, received $38,250 last year, the same as in 1935. The Byron Jackson Co. of Los Angeles was forced to reveal that its president, E. S. Dulin, received $44,000 last year, compared with $35,000 in 1935.

Other requests for confidential treatment of corporation reports denied by the commission included those of the American Tobacco Co., Eastman Kodak Co., William Wrigley, Jr. Co., and General Baking Co.

Initial and Special Dividends Declared

Columbian Carbon.
New York, Aug. 3 (AP).—Columbian Carbon Co. declared a special dividend of 75 cents a share on the capital stock and the regular quarterly dividend of $1.00 both payable September 10 to stock of record August 18.

National Container.
Directors of National Container Corp., Delaware, today declared an initial dividend of 25 cents a share on common stock, payable September 1 to stock of record August 18.

Seco-Vacuum.
Directors of Seco-Vacuum Oil Co. announced today a dividend of 25 cents a share on the capital stock payable September 15 to stock of record August 18.

B. & O. Carloadings.
Baltimore, Aug. 3 (AP).—Carloadings on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad for July totaled 219,130, an increase of 9,407 over July, 1936. This was also an increase of 113 carloads over June, 1937, and 75,012 received from connections.

Transactions on N. Y. Bond Market

By the Associated Press.

Total bond sales yesterday, $5,781,250; previous day, $4,629,300; week ago, $6,338,800; year ago, $5,538,000; two years ago, $6,038,000; January 1 to date, $1,871,901,250; year ago, $2,095,120,000; two years ago, $1,899,304,000.

Range of United States Government Issues

(In $100,000 Dollars and 32nds.)

1937	Aug. 3	Aug. 2	Aug. 1	July 31	July 30	July 29	July 28	July 27	July 26	July 25	July 24	July 23	July 22	July 21	July 20	July 19	July 18	July 17	July 16	July 15	July 14	July 13	July 12	July 11	July 10	July 9	July 8	July 7	July 6	July 5	July 4	July 3	July 2	July 1	June 30	June 29	June 28	June 27	June 26	June 25	June 24	June 23	June 22	June 21	June 20	June 19	June 18	June 17	June 16	June 15	June 14	June 13	June 12	June 11	June 10	June 9	June 8	June 7	June 6	June 5	June 4	June 3	June 2	June 1	May 31	May 30	May 29	May 28	May 27	May 26	May 25	May 24	May 23	May 22	May 21	May 20	May 19	May 18	May 17	May 16	May 15	May 14	May 13	May 12	May 11	May 10	May 9	May 8	May 7	May 6	May 5	May 4	May 3	May 2	May 1	April 30	April 29	April 28	April 27	April 26	April 25	April 24	April 23	April 22	April 21	April 20	April 19	April 18	April 17	April 16	April 15	April 14	April 13	April 12	April 11	April 10	April 9	April 8	April 7	April 6	April 5	April 4	April 3	April 2	April 1	March 31	March 30	March 29	March 28	March 27	March 26	March 25	March 24	March 23	March 22	March 21	March 20	March 19	March 18	March 17	March 16	March 15	March 14	March 13	March 12	March 11	March 10	March 9	March 8	March 7	March 6	March 5	March 4	March 3	March 2	March 1	February 28	February 27	February 26	February 25	February 24	February 23	February 22	February 21	February 20	February 19	February 18	February 17	February 16	February 15	February 14	February 13	February 12	February 11	February 10	February 9	February 8	February 7	February 6	February 5	February 4	February 3	February 2	February 1	January 31	January 30	January 29	January 28	January 27	January 26	January 25	January 24	January 23	January 22	January 21	January 20	January 19	January 18	January 17	January 16	January 15	January 14	January 13	January 12	January 11	January 10	January 9	January 8	January 7	January 6	January 5	January 4	January 3	January 2	January 1	December 31	December 30	December 29	December 28	December 27	December 26	December 25	December 24	December 23	December 22	December 21	December 20	December 19	December 18	December 17	December 16	December 15	December 14	December 13	December 12	December 11	December 10	December 9	December 8	December 7	December 6	December 5	December 4	December 3	December 2	December 1	November 30	November 29	November 28	November 27	November 26	November 25	November 24	November 23	November 22	November 21	November 20	November 19	November 18	November 17	November 16	November 15	November 14	November 13	November 12	November 11	November 10	November 9	November 8	November 7	November 6	November 5	November 4	November 3	November 2	November 1	October 31	October 30	October 29	October 28	October 27	October 26	October 25	October 24	October 23	October 22	October 21	October 20	October 19	October 18	October 17	October 16	October 15	October 14	October 13	October 12	October 11	October 10	October 9	October 8	October 7	October 6	October 5	October 4	October 3	October 2	October 1	September 30	September 29	September 28	September 27	September 26	September 25	September 24	September 23	September 22	September 21	September 20	September 19	September 18	September 17	September 16	September 15	September 14	September 13	September 12	September 11	September 10	September 9	September 8	September 7	September 6	September 5	September 4	September 3	September 2	September 1	August 31	August 30	August 29	August 28	August 27	August 26	August 25	August 24	August 23	August 22	August 21	August 20	August 19	August 18	August 17	August 16	August 15	August 14	August 13	August 12	August 11	August 10	August 9	August 8	August 7	August 6	August 5	August 4	August 3	August 2	August 1	July 31	July 30	July 29	July 28	July 27	July 26	July 25	July 24	July 23	July 22	July 21	July 20	July 19	July 18	July 17	July 16	July 15	July 14	July 13	July 12	July 11	July 10	July 9	July 8	July 7	July 6	July 5	July 4	July 3	July 2	July 1	June 30	June 29	June 28	June 27	June 26	June 25	June 24	June 23	June 22	June 21	June 20	June 19	June 18	June 17	June 16	June 15	June 14	June 13	June 12	June 11	June 10	June 9	June 8	June 7	June 6	June 5	June 4	June 3	June 2	June 1	May 31	May 30	May 29	May 28	May 27	May 26	May 25	May 24	May 23	May 22	May 21	May 20	May 19	May 18	May 17	May 16	May 15	May 14	May 13	May 12	May 11	May 10	May 9	May 8	May 7	May 6	May 5	May 4	May 3	May 2	May 1	April 30	April 29	April 28	April 27	April 26	April 25	April 24	April 23	April 22	April 21	April 20	April 19	April 18	April 17	April 16	April 15	April 14	April 13	April 12	April 11	April 10	April 9	April 8	April 7	April 6	April 5	April 4	April 3	April 2	April 1	March 31	March 30	March 29	March 28	March 27	March 26	March 25	March 24	March 23	March 22	March 21	March 20	March 19	March 18	March 17	March 16	March 15	March 14	March 13	March 12	March 11	March 10	March 9	March 8	March 7	March 6	March 5	March 4	March 3	March 2	March 1	February 28	February 27	February 26	February 25	February 24	February 23	February 22	February 21	February 20	February 19	February 18	February 17	February 16	February 15	February 14	February 13	February 12	February 11	February 10	February 9	February 8	February 7	February 6	February 5	February 4	February 3	February 2	February 1	January 31	January 30	January 29	January 28	January 27	January 26	January 25	January 24	January 23	January 22	January 21	January 20	January 19	January 18	January 17	January 16	January 15	January 14	January 13	January 12	January 11	January 10	January 9	January 8	January 7	January 6	January 5	January 4	January 3	January 2	January 1	December 31	December 30	December 29	December 28	December 27	December 26	December 25	December 24	December 23	December 22	December 21	December 20	December 19	December 18	December 17	December 16	December 15	December 14	December 13	December 12	December 11	December 10	December 9	December 8	December 7	December 6	December 5	December 4	December 3	December 2	December 1	November 30	November 29	November 28	November 27	November 26	November 25	November 24	November 23	November 22	November 21	November 20	November 19	November 18	November 17	November 16	November 15	November 14	November 13	November 12	November 11	November 10	November 9	November 8	November 7	November 6	November 5	November 4	November 3	November 2	November 1	October 31	October 30	October 29	October 28	October 27	October 26	October 25	October 24	October 23	October 22	October 21	October 20	October 19	October 18	October 17	October 16	October 15	October 14	October 13	October 12	October 11	October 10	October 9	October 8	October 7	October 6	October 5	October 4	October 3	October 2	October 1	September 30	September 29	September 28	September 27	September 26	September 25	September 24	September 23	September 22	September 21	September 20	September 19	September 18	September 17	September 16	September 15	September 14	September 13	September 12	September 11	September 10	September 9	September 8	September 7	September 6	September 5	September 4	September 3	September 2	September 1	August 31	August 30	August 29	August 28	August 27	August 26	August 25	August 24	August 23	August 22	August 21	August 20	August 19	August 18	August 17	August 16	August 15	August 14	August 13	August 12	August 11	August 10	August 9	August 8	August 7	August 6	August 5	August 4	August 3	August 2	August 1	July 31	July 30	July 29	July 28	July 27	July 26	July 25	July 24	July 23	July 22	July 21	July 20	July 19	July 18	July 17	July 16	July 15	July 14	July 13	July 12	July 11	July 10	July 9	July 8	July 7	July 6	July 5	July 4	July 3	July 2	July 1	June 30	June 29	June 28	June 27	June 26	June 25	June 24	June 23	June 22	June 21	June 20	June 19	June 18	June 17	June 16	June 15	June 14	June 13	June 12	June 11	June 10	June 9	June 8	June 7	June 6	June 5	June 4	June 3	June 2	June 1	May 31	May 30	May 29	May 28	May 27	May 26	May 25	May 24	May 23	May 22	May 21	May 20	May 19	May 18	May 17	May 16	May 15	May 14	May 13	May 12	May 11	May 10	May 9	May 8	May 7	May 6	May 5	May 4	May 3	May 2	May 1	April 30	April 29	April 28	April 27	April 26	April 25	April 24	April 23	April 22	April 21	April 20	April 19	April 18	April 17	April 16	April 15	April 14	April 13	April 12	April 11	April 10	April 9	April 8	April 7	April 6	April 5	April 4	April 3	April 2	April 1	March 31	March 30	March 29	March 28	March 27	March 26	March 25	March 24	March 23	March 22	March 21	March 20	March 19	March 18	March 17	March 16	March 15	March 14	March 13	March 12	March 11	March 10	March 9	March 8	March 7	March 6	March 5	March 4	March 3	March 2	March 1	February 28	February 27	February 26	February 25	February 24	February 23	February 22	February 21	February 20	February 19	February 18	February 17	February 16	February 15	February 14	February 13	February 12	February 11	February 10	February 9	February 8	February 7	February 6	February 5	February 4	February 3	February 2	February 1	January 31	January 30	January 29	January 28	January 27	January 26	January 25	January 24	January 23	January 22	January 21	January 20	January 19	January 18	January 17	January 16	January 15	January 14	January 13	January 12	January 11	January 10	January 9	January 8	January 7	January 6	January 5	January 4	January 3	January 2	January 1	December 31	December 30	December 29	December 28	December 27	December 26	December 25	December 24	December 23	December 22	December 21	December 20	December 19	December 18	December 17	December 16	December 15	December 14	December 13	December 12	December 11	December 10	December 9	December 8	December 7	December 6	December 5	December 4	December 3	December 2	December 1	November 30	November 29	November 28	November 27	November 26	November 25	November 24	November 23	November 22	November 21	November 20	November 19	November 18	November 17	November 16	November 15	November 14	November 13	November 12	November 11	November 10	November 9	November 8	November 7	November 6	November 5	November 4	November 3	November 2	November 1	October 31	October 30	October 29	October 28	October 27	October 26	October 25	October 24	October 23	October 22	October 21	October 20	October 19	October 18	October 17	October 16	October 15	October 14	October 13	October 12	October 11	October 10	October 9	October 8	October 7	October 6	October 5	October 4	October 3	October 2	October 1	September 30	September 29	September 28	September 27	September 26	September 25	September 24	September 23	September 22	September 21	September 20	September 19	September 18	September 17	September 16	September 15	September 14	September 13	September 12	September 11	September 10	September 9	September 8	September 7	September 6	September 5	September 4	September 3	September 2	September 1	August 31	August 30	August 29	August 28	August 27	August 26	August 25	August 24	August 23	August 22	August 21	August 20	August 19	August 18	August 17	August 16	August 15	August 14	August 13	August 12	August 11	August 10	August 9	August 8	August 7	August 6	August 5	August 4	August 3	August 2	August 1	July 31	July 30	July 29	July 28	July 27	July 26	July 25	July 24	July 23	July 22	July 21	July 20	July 19	July 18	July 17	July 16	July 15	July 14	July 13	July 12	July 11	July 10	July 9	July 8	July 7	July 6	July 5	July 4	July 3	July 2	July 1	June 30	June 29	June 28	June 27	June 26	June 25	June 24	June 23	June 22	June 21	June 20	June 19	June 18	June 17	June 16	June 15	June 14	June 13	June 12	June 11	June 10	June 9	June 8	June 7	June 6	June 5	June 4	June 3	June 2	June 1	May 31	May 30	May 29	May 28	May 27	May 26	May 25	May 24	May 23	May 22	May 21	May 20	May 19	May 18	May 17	May 16	May 15	May 14	May 13	May 12	May 11	May 10	May 9	May 8	May 7	May 6	May 5	May 4	May 3	May 2	May 1	April 30	April 29	April 28	April 27	April 26	April 25	April 24	April 23	April 22	April 21	April 20	April 19	April 18	April 17	April 16	April 15	April 14	April 13	April 12	April 11	April 10	April 9	April 8	April 7	April 6	April 5	April 4	April 3	April 2	April 1	March 31	March 30	March 29	March 28	March 27	March 26	March 25	March 24	March 23	March 22	March 21	March 20	March 19	March 18	March 17	March 16	March 15	March 14	March 13	March 12	March 11	March 10	March 9	March 8	March 7	March 6	March 5	March 4	March 3	March 2	March 1	February 28	February 27	February 26	February 25	February 24	February 23	February 22	February 21	February 20	February 19	February 18	February 17	February 16	February 15	February 14	February 13	February 12	February 11	February 10	February 9	February 8	February 7	February 6	February 5	February 4	February 3	February 2	February 1	January 31	January 30	January 29	January 28	January 27	January 26	January 25	January 24	January 23	January 22	January 21	January 20	January 19	January 18	January 17	January 16	January 15	January 14	January 13	January 12	January 11	January 10	January 9	January 8	January 7	January 6	January 5	January 4	January 3	January 2	January 1	December 31	December 30	December 29	December 28	December 27	December 26	December 25	December 24	December 23	December 22	December 21	December 20	December 19	December 18	December 17	December 16	December 15	December 14	December 13	December 12	December 11	December 10	December 9	December 8	December 7	December 6	December 5	December 4	December 3	December 2	December 1	November 30	November 29	November 28	November 27	November 26	November 25	November 24	November 23	November 22	November 21	November 20	November 19	November 18	November 17	November 16	November 15	November 14	November 13	November 12	November 11	November 10	November 9	November 8	November 7	November 6	November 5	November 4	November 3	November 2	November 1	October 31	October 30	October 29	October 28	October 27	October 26	October 25	October 24	October 23	October 22	October 21	October 20	October 19	October 18	October 17	October 16	October 15	October 14	October 13	October 12	October 11	October 10	October 9	October 8	October 7	October 6	October 5	October 4	October 3	October 2	October 1	September 30	September 29	September 28	September 27	September 26	September 25	September 24	September 23	September 22	September 21	September 20	September 19	September 18	September 17	September 16	September 15	September 14	September 13	September 1
------	--------	--------	--------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	--------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	-------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	----------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	---------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	-------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	------------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	-----------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	--------------	-------------

By the Associated Press.

Total stock sales yesterday, $67,080; previous day, 785,270; week ago, 739,510; year ago, 1,048,330; two years ago, 1,174,890; JANUARY 1 to date, 251,383,892; year ago, 229,045,804; two years ago, 182,325,502.

1833

By the United Press.

Yester- Pray. Week Mond

[illegible]

100% Olive Oil (100g)	8	41	41	41
-----------------------	---	----	----	----

20%	15%	Param Pict	2	21	(.50)	182%	182%	182%
-----	-----	------------	---	----	-------	------	------	------

Farmelee Trans	2	3%	3%	3%
----------------	---	----	----	----

1911 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100 101 102 103 104 105 106 107 108 109 110 111 112 113 114 115 116 117 118 119 120 121 122 123 124 125 126 127 128 129 130 131 132 133 134 135 136 137 138 139 140 141 142 143 144 145 146 147 148 149 150 151 152 153 154 155 156 157 158 159 160 161 162 163 164 165 166 167 168 169 170 171 172 173 174 175 176 177 178 179 180 181 182 183 184 185 186 187 188 189 190 191 192 193 194 195 196 197 198 199 200 201 202 203 204 205 206 207 208 209 210 211 212 213 214 215 216 217 218 219 220 221 222 223 224 225 226 227 228 229 230 231 232 233 234 235 236 237 238 239 240 241 242 243 244 245 246 247 248 249 250 251 252 253 254 255 256 257 258 259 260 261 262 263 264 265 266 267 268 269 270 271 272 273 274 275 276 277 278 279 280 281 282 283 284 285 286 287 288 289 290 291 292 293 294 295 296 297 298 299 300 301 302 303 304 305 306 307 308 309 310 311 312 313 314 315 316 317 318 319 320 321 322 323 324 325 326 327 328 329 330 331 332 333 334 335 336 337 338 339 340 341 342 343 344 345 346 347 348 349 350 351 352 353 354 355 356 357 358 359 360 361 362 363 364 365 366 367 368 369 370 371 372 373 374 375 376 377 378 379 380 381 382 383 384 385 386 387 388 389 390 391 392 393 394 395 396 397 398 399 400 401 402 403 404 405 406 407 408 409 410 411 412 413 414 415 416 417 418 419 420 421 422 423 424 425 426 427 428 429 430 431 432 433 434 435 436 437 438 439 440 441 442 443 444 445 446 447 448 449 450 451 452 453 454 455 456 457 458 459 460 461 462 463 464 465 466 467 468 469 470 471 472 473 474 475 476 477 478 479 480 481 482 483 484 485 486 487 488 489 490 491 492 493 494 495 496 497 498 499 500 501 502 503 504 505 506 507 508 509 510 511 512 513 514 515 516 517 518 519 520 521 522 523 524 525 526 527 528 529 530 531 532 533 534 535 536 537 538 539 540 541 542 543 544 545 546 547 548 549 550 551 552 553 554 555 556 557 558 559 560 561 562 563 564 565 566 567 568 569 570 571 572 573 574 575 576 577 578 579 580 581 582 583 584 585 586 587 588 589 590 591 592 593 594 595 596 597 598 599 600 601 602 603 604 605 606 607 608 609 610 611 612 613 614 615 616 617 618 619 620 621 622 623 624 625 626 627 628 629 630 631 632 633 634 635 636 637 638 639 640 641 642 643 644 645 646 647 648 649 650 651 652 653 654 655 656 657 658 659 660 661 662 663 664 665 666 667 668 669 670 671 672 673 674 675 676 677 678 679 680 681 682 683 684 685 686 687 688 689 690 691 692 693 694 695 696 697 698 699 700 701 702 703 704 705 706 707 708 709 710 711 712 713 714 715 716 717 718 719 720 721 722 723 724 725 726 727 728 729 730 731 732 733 734 735 736 737 738 739 740 741 742 743 744 745 746 747 748 749 750 751 752 753 754 755 756 757 758 759 760 761 762 763 764 765 766 767 768 769 770 771 772 773 774 775 776 777 778 779 780 781 782 783 784 785 786 787 788 789 790 791 792 793 794 795 796 797 798 799 800 801 802 803 804 805 806 807 808 809 810 811 812 813 814 815 816 817 818 819 820 821 822 823 824 825 826 827 828 829 830 831 832 833 834 835 836 837 838 839 840 841 842 843 844 845 846 847 848 849 850 851 852 853 854 855 856 857 858 859 860 861 862 863 864 865 866 867 868 869 870 871 872 873 874 875 876 877 878 879 880 881 882 883 884 885 886 887 888 889 890 891 892 893 894 895 896 897 898 899 900 901 902 903 904 905 906 907 908 909 910 911 912 913 914 915 916 917 918 919 920 921 922 923 924 925 926 927 928 929 930 931 932 933 934 935 936 937 938 939 940 941 942 943 944 945 946 947 948 949 950 951 952 953 954 955 956 957 958 959 960 961 962 963 964 965 966 967 968 969 970 971 972 973 974 975 976 977 978 979 980 981 982 983 984 985 986 987 988 989 990 991 992 993 994 995 996 997 998 999 1000 1001 1002 1003 1004 1005 1006 1007 1008 1009 1010 1011 1012 1013 1014 1015 1016 1017 1018 1019 1020 1021 1022 1023 1024 1025 1026 1027 1028 1029 1030 1031 1032 1033 1034 1035 1036 1037 1038 1039 1040 1041 1042 1043 1044

Radio cv pf (3 1/2)	10	70 1/2	87 1/2	70	+
---------------------------	----	--------	--------	----	---

Unit of trading: _____

Payable in stock. (g) Declared or paid so far

3	T	83 1/2	58	48	48	48	8/Unit L&P 814
---	---	--------	----	----	----	----	----------------

38	XW	st	164	162 1/2	162 1/2	2 Wash Wat P
1/2	'88		88	88	88	4 West Tan H

POWELL 6 '53...	103%	103%	103%
Sys 5 '53...	103%	103%	103%

57	53	54%	54%
----	----	-----	-----

By the Associated Press.

Total stock sales yesterday, 224,000 shares; year ago, 278,000 shares. Total volume yesterday, 1,300,000; year ago, 1,167,000.

Sales in hundreds

High Low Close

Ala. Power & Light Co. (A)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (B)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (C)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (D)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (E)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (F)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (G)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (H)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (I)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (J)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (K)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (L)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (M)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (N)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (O)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (P)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (Q)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (R)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (S)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (T)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (U)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (V)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (W)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (X)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (Y)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (Z)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AA)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AB)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AC)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AD)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AE)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AF)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AG)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AH)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AI)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AJ)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AK)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AL)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AM)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AN)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AO)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AP)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AQ)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AR)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AS)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AT)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AU)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AV)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AW)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AX)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AY)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (AZ)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BA)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BB)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BC)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BD)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BE)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BF)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BG)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BH)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BI)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BJ)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BK)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BL)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BM)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BN)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BO)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BP)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BQ)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BR)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BS)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BT)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BU)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BV)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BW)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BX)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BY)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (BZ)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CA)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CB)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CC)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CD)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CE)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CF)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CG)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CH)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CI)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CJ)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CK)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CL)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CM)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CN)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CO)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CP)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CQ)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CR)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CS)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CT)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CU)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CV)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CW)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CX)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CY)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (CZ)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DA)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DB)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DC)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DD)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DE)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DF)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DG)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DH)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DI)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DJ)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DK)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DL)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DM)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DN)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DO)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DP)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DQ)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DR)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DS)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DT)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DU)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DV)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DW)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DX)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DY)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (DZ)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EA)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EB)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EC)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (ED)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EE)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EF)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EG)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EH)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EI)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EJ)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EK)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EL)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EM)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EN)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EO)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EP)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EQ)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (ER)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (ES)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (ET)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EU)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EV)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EW)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EX)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EY)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (EZ)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FA)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FB)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FC)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FD)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FE)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FF)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FG)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FH)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FI)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FJ)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FK)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FL)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FM)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FN)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FO)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FP)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FQ)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FR)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FS)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FT)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FU)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

Ala. Power & Light Co. (FV)

117 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

123 1/2

ROY POWERS, EAGLE SCOUT Both Head for the Bridge! By Paul Powell

DON WINSLOW OF THE NAVY— At the Gangplank. By Frank V. Martinek

Hear Don Winslow on the air—430 p. m. today—WRC

NED BRANT—A Story of College Athletics By Bob Zuppke

Famous Football Coach

BIG CHIEF WAHOO

JANE ARDEN

LALA PALOOZA

MICKY FINN

DIXIE DUGAN

JOE PALOOKA

APPLE MARY AND DENNIE

BENNY

By Saunders and Woggon

The Suspects,

By Monte Barrett and Russell Ross

Preparing for Battle.

By Rube Goldberg

By Lank Leonard

Knows All.

By J. P. McElvay and H. J. Striebel

Another Letter.

By Ham Fisher

By Martha Orr

By J. Carver Pusey

Take The Post Comics On Your Vacation!

Take the joys and thrills of The Post comics along with you on vacation. Don't leave them behind. It doesn't cost a single penny extra to have them sent by mail. In fact, simply tell us where you want them sent and pay when you come back.

TO HAVE THE POST FOLLOW YOU ON VACATION—

Call NATIONAL 4200

Ask For Circulation Department

Senate Passage Of D.C. Tax Bill Forecast Today

Tydings Rider Expected to Travel Through Without Fight.

The Senate today is scheduled to complete legislative action on the District tax bill, after which it will go to the White House for President Roosevelt's signature. The bill is expected to levy an additional $8,000,000 on the city.

To the surprise of almost everybody, the House approved the conference report on the bill yesterday after only 12 minutes of consideration. The anticipated fight on the Tydings "price maintenance" rider, a piece of legislation having nothing to do with local taxes, failed to materialize.

President Roosevelt, it is known, had made it clear that he wanted a separate vote on the Tydings rider, and it was expected that House leaders would so maneuver the bill as to bring about a divorce. However, none of the leaders took part in yesterday's brief debate.

A few members, who had expected to talk against the rider, were caught napping. Apparently they had expected that the debate would continue through the afternoon, and were not in the chamber when the vote of approval came. However, that does not explain why Administration wheelhorses remained silent.

Within an hour after House action, a clerk delivered the conference report to the Senate. Chairman King, of the Senate District Committee, said he would call it up for consideration as soon as the Senate convenes today, adding that he did not expect any more fight.

Since the rider was tacked on by Senator Millard Tydings (Democrat), Maryland, and was approved by the Senate, there is no reason to expect any more fight on that body than occurred in the House.

Has Had Rough Journey.
Designed to raise money to offset an anticipated deficit of $7,000,000 for the current fiscal year, the new tax bill has had a rough journey since it began to take form in a House District Sub-committee on March 19.

In its final form, the bill provides: An increase in the real estate and personal property tax from $1.50 to $1.75 on every $100 of assessed valuation.

A gross receipts tax of 2-5 of 1 per cent on business firms, with an exemption of $2,000.

An increase 1.5 to 2 percent in the tax on net premium receipts of insurance companies.

A provision putting teeth in the existing intangible tax law.

An inheritance and estates tax.

A weight tax on automobiles.

A provision authorizing the Commissioners to borrow Federal funds to tide the city over until the new revenues start coming in.

Income Tax Argued.
In the brief discussion in the House, Representative Mapes (Republican), Michigan, asked Chairman Palmisano, of the House District committee, what had happened to the income tax provision that once had been in the bill. Palmisano explained that this had been stricken out in conference. He added he hoped there would be one next year.

Representative Dirksen (Republican), Illinois, interjected: "We have got to have an income tax in the District."

May Affect 42 States.
Laws in 42 States may be bolstered by the Tydings rider. These laws allow a manufacturer to enter into a contract with a retailer setting a minimum resale price for an article. The laws are aimed at the practice whereby some stores sell an article below cost to attract customers.

There are lawyers who contend that, under the Sherman antitrust law, a manufacturer, say, in New Jersey, could not enter into a contract with a retailer in California, despite the fact that both States might have price maintenance laws.

The Tydings rider would permit such interstate contracts.

Early in the present session, President Roosevelt sent a letter to Vice President Garner objecting that such legislation would tend to raise prices at a time when the cost of living was advancing too rapidly.

Masked Raiders Ransack Home of Official in Ireland

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Aug. 3 (AP).—Three masked raiders ransacked the home of Sir Dawson Bates, minister of foreign affairs, last night and police blamed Irish independence extremists.

They apparently were after documents detailing the terrorism which broke out when King George and Queen Elizabeth visited Northern Ireland last week.

The raid and the firing of a fusillade of shots through the window of an East Belfast home this morning were the latest manifestations of the terrorist activities.

The three masked men broke into Bates' home while he was in Belfast and slugged his servants with revolvers.

DENTAL PLATES GUARANTEED TO FIT
Regardless of any difficulties you may have had—regardless of how many dentists have failed—our "DIFFICULT CASES" are our specialty. WE ABSOLUTELY GUARANTEE to make you a set of teeth that YOU CAN WEAR AND USE WITH CONFIDENCE.

Dental Plates WE DO NOT CHARGE "FANCY" PRICES FOR Specialists "SO-CALLED" "DIFFICULT CASES."

DR. FREIOT
HOURS: Daily, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Sunday, 10 a. m. to 7 p. m.
407 7th ST. N.W.

Grand Review and Award at End of Fort Myer C. M. T. C. Training Period

The outstanding trainee from the District, John J. English, receives his award (left) from Commander Victor L. Woolridge, of the United States War Veterans. The boys stand at attention while the band strikes up the national anthem (above).

Richard B. Washington, of the Capital, received a medal for winning the singles tennis championship. The presentation (below) was made by Col. J. M. Wainwright, commanding officer at Fort Myer.

On Capitol Hill

Federal and State Officials Will Discuss Foreign Exploitation of U. S. Phosphate Deposits.

"FOREIGN EXPLOITATION" of American rock phosphate deposits will be the concern of State and Federal officials in a conference tomorrow and Friday at Muscle Shoals, Ala. Senator Pope, of Idaho, announced yesterday. Rock phosphate is an important fertilizer.

Tennessee Valley Authority officers will meet at the site of the giant Government nitrate plant in Alabama with Governors' representatives from Idaho, Utah and Wyoming, Pope said. The largest phosphate deposits in the world are in these States.

Declaring the earth's phosphate reserves are extremely limited, the Idaho Senator added:

"I am advised that a number of foreign nations have agents in the United States who are endeavoring to secure control of the deposits and the processes for manufacturing phosphates."

Most of the country's phosphate now is produced in Tennessee and Florida, Pope said, although 90 per cent of the deposits are in the three Western States.

He declared "millions of acres east of the Mississippi are deficient in phosphate, and will be forced out of production in a comparatively few years if this element is not replaced."

SENATOR MCKILLAR of Tennessee, told the Senate there is no hope of legislation to carry out the President's request that first, second, and third class postmasters be put under civil service.

He heads the sub-committee which has the bill under consideration.

The legislation, he said, is an attempt to take away the constitutional right of the Senate to confirm Presidential appointments.

Senator O'Mahoney (Democrat), Wyoming, replied that for years the Senate's confirmation of postmasters has been "a mere formal gesture" since they actually are named by Representatives.

CONSIDERATION of a bill designed to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy is the object of resolution offered yesterday by Representative Chandler of Tennessee, to make the bill a special order of business.

Reporter Traps Fugitive Hunted In Triple Killing

Jens Thompson Surrenders When Writer's Hound Noses Him Out.

By the Associated Press.
Houston, Minn., Aug. 3.—Bob Dunn, a police reporter on the La Crosse (Wis.) Tribune, today captured Jens Thompson, sought since July 22 for the rifle slaying of three brothers.

Led by a bloodhound, Dunn came upon Thompson hiding in a thicket a few miles from Houston. The hunted man jumped to his feet, raised his hands in the air and shouted, "I give up," when the man and dog approached.

The reporter called to Deputy Happy Hill, who was searching another part of the woods and the two took Thompson to Houston.

Dunn, assigned to the case by his newspaper, joined in the hunt near Houston after a man resembling Thompson was seen in the vicinity. He and Hill, each led by bloodhounds, started out together. In the woods they separated when the bloodhounds differed as to what course to take.

Dunn's bloodhound led him to Thompson's hiding place. Thompson had been hunted since the slaying of Louis, Joe and Anton Lukes, and the wounding of Faye Lukes, 12-year-old son of Louis, while they worked in harvest fields near Austin, Minn.

Thompson's capture followed by a few hours the offering of a $500 reward by the Freeborn County commissioners for his apprehension. Thompson, a neighbor of the Lukes, had visited the Lukes' farm home earlier the afternoon the triple slaying occurred.

Thompson disappeared that night. A few days later his abandoned car was found. A coroner's jury returned a verdict naming Thompson as the slayer and a warrant for his arrest was issued.

The entire ensemble began the dance program with the E major "Arabesque" of Debussy, and closed it with a Vaqui Indian dance to music transcribed by Alvares, contrasting the interpretative style of dancing with the primitive variety. Compositions by Rakhmaninov, Chopin, Wieniawski, Johann Strauss, Debussy, Schuetz and Deane Shure were utilized as the rhythmic basis for solo, trio and quartet numbers.

Postlude

By Ray C. B. Brown.

Community Center Department and Office of National Capital Parks presented the Lisa Gardiner Dancers at the Sylvan Theater Tuesday night in a program preceded by a concert by the U. S. Marine Band under the direction of William F. Santelmann. Dance accompaniments played by Mrs. Edith H. Hunter at the piano.

Lisa Gardiner and her associate dancers had just cause for pride last evening when they appeared before the largest crowd that has assembled at the Sylvan Theater thus far this summer. Additional chairs had to be hastily requisitioned for the reserved section, and the spectators were thickly massed on the grassy slope below the Washington Monument. No more cogent evidence of the group's popularity could be adduced.

Not that the preliminary concert by the United States Marine Band went without its due meed of appreciation, since the larger part of the audience was promptly present for the opening number, Chambers' "Amicizia" march. Second Leader William F. Santelmann conducted the uniformed musicians through a program which included the overture to Rossini's "Barber of Seville," Paderewski's G major minuet, selections from the Delibes ballet, "Coppelia," Coleridge - Taylor's "Bamboula," excerpts from the Oscar Straus operetta, "A Waltz Dream," and Ravel's hypnotic "Bolero."

Members of Miss Gardiner's group appearing with her on this occasion were Mary Day, Marian Wolberg, Eleanor Gatch, Alice Louise Hunter, Anne Vucinovich, Lora Willis, Barbara Worrell, Jean Davidson, Joan Beadle, Louise Hawthorne, Lucille Hooff, Patricia Ferry, Charlotte Walton, Constance Rubel and Zeldia Sears.

The entire ensemble began the dance program with the E major "Arabesque" of Debussy, and closed it with a Vaqui Indian dance to music transcribed by Alvares, contrasting the interpretative style of dancing with the primitive variety. Compositions by Rakhmaninov, Chopin, Wieniawski, Johann Strauss, Debussy, Schuetz and Deane Shure were utilized as the rhythmic basis for solo, trio and quartet numbers.

Drain Limit Act May Be Used to Bar Abattoir

Sultan Studies Bill to Prevent Overloading of D. C. Sewers.

A recent Congressional step to limit the amount of industrial waste which may be emptied into the local sewage system may be the answer to Washington's controversial abattoir problem, the Commissioners indicated yesterday.

Commenting unofficially on the waste limitation bill introduced in the House by Representative Ross Collins (Democrat), of Mississippi, chairman of the District sub-committee of the House Appropriations Committee, Engineer Commissioner Daniel Sultan said:

"We have not studied carefully the Collins measure, but it may be the answer to our troubles."

The Collins bill would make it unlawful for any industrial plant to discharge into the local sewage system waste matter in excess of 50,000,000 gallons a year.

In a recent letter to Commissioner Melvin C. Hazen, Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes contended the local sewer system was not equipped to handle the volume of waste which undoubtedly would be discharged by the proposed Adolph Gobel slaughter house.

C. I. O. in Passaic, N. J., Threatens Silk Strike

Passaic, N. J., Aug. 3 (AP).—The threat of a silk strike within a week hung over the Passaic Valley manufacturing area today as C. I. O. textile unions presented an ultimatum to employers.

Carl Holderman, regional director of the Textile Workers Organizing Committee, announced that unless manufacturers in north Jersey signed a collective bargaining agreement by Friday night a strike of 4,000 weavers and auxiliary workers would begin Monday.

A. F. of L. Bloc Seeking C. I. O. Peace Parley

Powerful Members Offer Resolution at Bay State Convention.

By the Associated Press.
Lowell, Mass., Aug. 3.—The Massachusetts Federation of Labor, one of the Nation's largest, tonight was cleft by the demand of an important faction for a peace conference with the Committee for Industrial Organization.

At the head of the list of eight union members introducing a last-minute resolution before the federation's fifty-second convention proposing a "unity conference" of the A. F. of L., C. I. O., Railroad Brotherhood and other independent labor bodies, was E. A. Johnson, secretary of the Boston Building Trades Council.

Also on the list was W. T. Parry, of the large Cambridge Central Labor Union.

State President John F. Gatelee opened the convention yesterday with a ringing "declaration of war" against the C. I. O.

The resolution seeking to "bury the hatchet" with the C. I. O. may not come up for vote until Thursday.

"Time Is Ripe."
The resolution declared labor's golden opportunity was at hand, that "the time is now ripe as never before to organize the $8,000,000 organized workers into powerful trade unions," rather than to play into the hands "of the open shop employers and enemies of labor" by internecine warfare.

It proposed that the convention urge "the executive council of the American Federation of Labor and the national advisory committee of the C. I. O. to issue a joint call for a unity convention of all A. F. L., C. I. O., Railroad Brotherhoods and other independent bodies of labor."

The convention said the resolution, should be "organized on a broad democratic basis whose decisions shall be binding on all, and open plans for settling all differences of opinion and for the setting up of one united all-powerful trade union center in America."

N. L. R. B. Assailed.
It asked instruction of the Massachusetts delegates to present the resolution to the next A. F. of L. convention.

Johnson could not be reached for comment, but friends indicated his faction might have the support of groups in the transportation unions, represented on the peace resolution included painters, stone masons, carpenters and commercial telegraphers.

Another resolution demanded removal of members and officers of the National Labor Relations Board for alleged bias and prejudice in favor of the C. I. O.

When George T. Douglas, of Bradford, Mass., organizer for the boot and shoe union, offered the resolution, he obtained permission to have the union's counsel, George Maritz, of Haverhill, take the floor for ten minutes and prove his charges and also his declaration that "John L. Lewis examined one of the board's trial exponents."

Goering Orders Purge Of All Non-Nazi Art

Berlin, Aug. 3 (AP).—Col-General Hermann Wilhelm Goering, chief aide to Reichsmarschall Adolf Hitler, ordered Prussian officials today to purge public galleries of non-Nazi pictures.

He told the Prussian minister of education to disregard "legal forms or ownership" in cleaning house of all painting and sculpture that conflict with the principles recently enunciated by Hitler. Goering is Prussian prime minister.

WINSLOW PAINTS
Doyle & Reynolds 2-Coat Paint System saves 50% on your paints.
322 N. Y. Ave. NATIONAL 8610

A "Must" in Every Woman's Life!

Man-Tailored SUIT $16.95

• In Men's Wear
• Pencil-Slim Lines

You'll see this smart year-round favorite everywhere—for town and country, dress and sport!

You'll find it at its best with the single-breasted, link button jacket. Oxford, Banker's grey and brown, in sizes 12 to 20.

Other man-tailored suits, $19.95 to $39.95

Third Floor—Better Coat and Suit Department—The Hecht Co.

The Air-Cooled HECHT CO.

Our Four Best-selling MIRRORS

$1 EACH

- 1—FULL LENGTH, 14x50-inch MIRRORS of clear vision glass. Frame finished in mahogany, walnut, maple or ivory.
- 2—CHIPPENDALE, 24x16-inch MIRRORS, the glass measuring 18x12 inches. Frame finished in mahogany, maple or walnut.
- 3—VENETIAN CONSOLE MIRRORS, 12x24 inches. Finely polished edges and complete with silk cord for hanging.
- 4—18-INCH CIRCULAR MIRROR of clear vision glass. Mounted in a burnished gold frame.

Fourth Floor—The Hecht Co.

MAIL AND PHONE ORDERS FILLED—DISTRICT 9400

SHOP EARLY THIS WEEK—STORE CLOSED SATURDAY

Gov't. Graded SCORE 93 or higher

SUNNYFIELD BUTTER
Sweet Cream BUTTER
A&P at all FOOD STORES

The Air-Cooled HECHT CO.

Every One A Fashion Success!

Better Cottons

Regularly $7.95 and $5.95

$3.99

• Dotted Swisses!
• Imported Batistes!
• Printed Voiles!

You save on every dress! Styles you like best—types to keep you deliciously cool. Glorious color! Quality fabric! Smart details! You'll find just the summer day-time dress you're looking for—at tremendous savings. Sizes for misses and women.

Third Floor—Better Dress Shop—The Hecht Co.

Send your spare room with a Post Classified Ad. Just call up Ad-Writer, National 4300.—Adv.